Differences With House Measure To Be Considered At Joint Conference

LaFollette's Effort To Broaden Income Tax Basis Again Meets Defeat

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—A $5,000,000,000 tax revision bill, overhauled by the senate finance committee in an announced effort to encourage business, went through the senate today without an audible "no" vote.

Shorn from the measure was the administration's tax on undistributed profits, much criticized by business; and the capital gains tax was sharply modified.

Tired after a day of bickering over amendments, the chamber produced a dull chorus of "ayes" on final passage.

A joint conference committee now will seek to adjust differences between the senate measure and a far-different bill passed by the house.

A surprise 34 to 33 vote in the senate inserted in the bill a proposal by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, to make interest on future issues of government securities subject to federal income taxes.

This interest now is exempt.

The Borah proposal was opposed by Chairman Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, and Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the administration leader. Removal of the tax exemption, Barkley contended, would bring no net rev-

PLEBISCITE IN AUSTRIA TODAY

Hitler Calls On 50,000,000 To Endorse Union With Germany

(By Associated Press)

VIENNA, April 9.—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler tonight justified his whirlwind annexation of Austria by declaring it was "the will of God" and pleaded for 50,000,000 voters to endorse the creation of the greater Germany in tomorrow's plebiscite.

Addressing 30,000 wildly cheering followers in the Northwest railway station in the final appeal of the plebiscite campaign, the Austrian-born Hitler exclaimed:

"I believe it was the will of God to send this little boy to Germany to make him Fuehrer of the Reich and to bring Austria back to Germany."

He warned his enemies never to attempt to seize power here because 75,000 Germans would rise against them.

"Now I am in power and I shall not give it up."

In another breath he said his name will stand out forever as the son of this great country."

Pleading for a favorable vote tomorrow, he declared:

"Just as you don't have to be ashamed of me, I don't want to be ashamed of you . . ."

Millions of Germans throughout Greater Germany and elsewhere listened in to a broadcast of the speech.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION ENDS THREE-DAY MEET

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 9.—(AP)—The Louisiana Library association, ending its three-day convention today, had a prediction from Dr. Milton J. Ferguson of New York that library work would have a fast growth.

Dr. Ferguson, president-elect of the American Library association, said "education is not limited to school room work alone. Adults must have continued education and it will come through libraries."

Dr. Ferguson spoke last night. Other speakers were Robert J. Usher of New Orleans, James A. McIllen of Louisiana State university and J. O. Modisette of Jennings. Speakers today were Julia Wright Merrill of Chicago and Nora Beust of Washington.

EL PASO, Tex., April 9.—(AP)—Authorities today announced they had picked up the trail of the probable slayers of Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter, Nancy, California women tortured and slain on the west Texas desert ten days ago.

"I believe the trail of the slayers of Mrs. Frome and Nancy has been located for the first time since their bodies were left on the desert," said Sheriff Chris Fox, head of the investigation into the baffling case.

The trail was picked up at Del Rio, Tex., 400 miles southeast of here on the international border, and posibly led to Sonora, Mexico, and San Antonio, Tex., Fox said.

HEAVY WHITNEY SENTENCE ASKED

District Attorney's Recommendation Made In 7,500-Word Memorandum

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—Declaring that Richard Whitney, former president of the New York stock exchange, had committed "various criminal acts" in the past six years, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey today recommended that "a substantial and punitive sentence" be imposed upon him.

Whitney, president of the brokerage firm of Richard Whitney and Company, which failed March 8, is due to appear in general sessions court Monday for sentencing. He has pleaded guilty to two indictments for first degree grand larceny.

Dewey's recommendation was made in a 7,500-word memorandum to the court. The criminal acts he referred to were "larcenies, frauds and misrepresentations and the falsification of books and financial statements," the memorandum said.

"By reason of the positions held by the defendant his conduct has amounted to a betrayal of a public trust," Dewey wrote.

"It is difficult," he wrote, "to fix a precise date to mark the beginning of the financial difficulties of the defendant and his firm," adding that as early as June 29, 1931, the date of the last articles of co-partnership, the firm had a working capital deficiency of $950,000 and was "apparently hopelessly insolvent on the basis of its actual working capital."

The report reviewed Whitney's various financial dealings, his falsification of various figures to hide his firm's true condition, his creation of the "Richard Whitney control account" to aid him in keeping the true state of affairs secret, his efforts to raise money, and finally the end.

FEVERISH MARKET DEVELOPS AFTER REORGANIZATION BILL DEFEATED

Leading Commodities Show Gains Of $1 To $6 Per Share In Short Day

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—A tumult of buying today rolled up the broadest advance in security markets in months, leading stocks rising $1 to more than $6 a share.

Big-scale buying at the stock exchange opening—in wake of the unexpected defeat of the administration's reorganization bill in the house—transformed the ordinarily tame Saturday session on the exchange into a feverish market.

The administration setback, brokers said, obviously was a surprise to most traders, and was construed bullishly by many as possibly indicating the blocking of further reform or restriction legislation.

New French Premier-Designate Gives Blunt Warning Of 'Strong Government'

PARIS, April 9.—(AP)—France's "man of the hour," Radical-Socialist Edouard Daladier, met threats of disorder and increased strikes today with a blunt warning that a "strong government" would begin to rule the nation tomorrow.

Socialist leaders, after a long talk with the premier-designate, told deputies he planned to demand full decree powers in the economic and financial field for a period of six months.

Vincent Auriol, socialist minister of coordination services of the premier's office in the fallen ministry of Leon Blum, said the premier-designate planned to meet the financial crisis with an internal loan and would seek more money abroad if necessary.

Daladier offered the socialists five portfolios in his cabinet, Auriol told deputies, but parliamentary observers indicated they would reject participation in the government, although they might offer it parliamentary support.

They planned to discuss their stand tonight.

Following one of the most hotly-contested municipal campaigns in recent years, voters of West Monroe will go to the polls Tuesday to select a Democratic nominee for the office of mayor and a council of five aldermen. The polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

A heavy vote is predicted from a registration list of 2,683 voters.

Four candidates are in the race for the office of mayor of the municipality: C. C. Bell, incumbent; B. A. Gentry, J. R. Gibbs, and H. M. Williams, Jr.

Those making the race for aldermen are: C. R. Coates, Roland Coates, Archie L. Dickerson, D. C. Golson, J. E. Grandstaff, Marlin Hattaway, Lee Hawkins, H. Y. Johnson, S. D. Kennedy, H. A. McDonald, R. L. Mitchell, H. C. Moze, Henry L. Presley, J. N. Rogers, Ed M. Watkins and H. H. Wood.

Golson, Kennedy and Hawkins are each running for re-election.

In the mayoralty race the contest has been sharp, not unmixed with bitterness. Supporters of all the candidates were prepared to make a vigorous last-minute fight in the closing stages before the balloting Tuesday.

COURT OF ST. JAMES MADE HARD TO ENTER

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain closed the doors of the Court of St. James today to American women who are merely visiting in London.

He wrote Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican, Massachusetts, that he considered "undemocratic" the practice of American ambassadors in selecting every year a "small number of young ladies from a long list, very few, if any, of whom he has ever seen."

Accordingly, Kennedy said he had concluded to confine presentations to the families of American officials in England and to members of American families who are domiciled in England.

Lodge had written Kennedy concerning the presentation application of a young woman from Massachusetts. Kennedy said he regretted he could not meet the request.

Lodge made public a letter to Kennedy endorsing the ambassador's stand.

THOUSANDS FLEE BEFORE FLOODS

One Dead And More Than 1,000 Homeless In Southeast Mississippi Area

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 9.—(AP)—Rising rivers tonight threatened additional damage in flood-torn Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi, drove thousands from their homes, and ruined crops and property in many localities.

An intense cold wave moved into the area to add to the misery of those whose homes have been lost to floods and tornadoes, and to threaten crops in some sections. Warmer weather is expected in most of the south tomorrow.

RECIPROCAL MOTOR AGREEMENT PLANNED

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—A. E. Bohlen of Charleston, S. C., state director of motor vehicles, was authorized here today at the meeting of the southern region of the American Conference of Motor Vehicle Administrators to draw up an interstate reciprocal agreement governing motor vehicles in the 12 states of the region.

The conference accepted Mr. Bohlen's proposal that regulations presented by the representative of each state be harmonized and embodied in a digest to be furnished each state administrator for approval.

Most of the state officials attending reported complete or nearly complete reciprocity in regard to private passenger cars but that there were varying degrees in relation to private trucks and "for hire" vehicles.

W. W. Ramsey, Montgomery, Ala., expressed the opinion that if the states could not agree on reciprocity the regulation of trucks would be given over to the interstate commerce commission.

Among others presenting their respective state's views were Carl Craig, state auditor of Mississippi; H. C. Comish, Louisiana assistant secretary of state; Homer S. Hurst, Oklahoma director of motor carriers; Captain J. D. Moffat, of the Texas department of safety and S. W. Shelton, assistant attorney general of Virginia.

Education Of Quintuplets Presents Serious Problem

CALLANDER, Ont., April 9.—(AP)—If you think there's nothing new under the sun, you've overlooked a problem which is cudgelling the brains of at least three men in Canada—the problem of how the Dionne quintuplets are to be educated.

Twins, triplets, even quadruplets, present no such teaser, and by comparison the educational program of British royalty is simplicity itself. For in a world full of curious things none today is as curious as the quints, who will be four years old May 28.

That's what makes it a problem: the guardians wish, above all things, to keep the five girls from feeling, as far as that is possible, their unique standing.

Until recently the educational program of the famous babies had been in the hands of Dr. W. E. Blatz, noted Toronto child psychologist.

Under his direction the children were being trained in social and language development by experts graduated from the advanced St. George's school for child study in Toronto.

The education of the quints is now to be directed by Duncan McArthur, assistant deputy minister of education for Ontario, and an advocate of the public school system.

The final decision, though, on whether the girls are to go to grade school with their three older sisters and two brothers will be in the hands of the board of guardians—Dr. Allen R. Dafoe, medical guardian of the babies, Percy D. Wilson, Ontario's official guardian of minor children, Judge J. A. Valin of North Bay and the children's father, Oliva Dionne.

Since Papa Dionne takes no part in the guardianship, that leaves the problem in the hands of three men.

There appears to be no uniform opinion on whether the quints should

Fu Manchu To Tackle Whole Dictator Lot

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—You can stop worrying now about the international situation.

Fu Manchu is going to fix up everything.

Without even relaxing his Oriental smile, Fu will tackle Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini and the Japanese army all at the same time.

That cheering word for the world's worriers was given out tonight by Sax Rhomer, English writer of creepy stories who invented Fu 25 years ago and has been haunted (willingly and cheerfully) by him ever since.

Fu will come out of retirement (he hasn't been in print for two years) especially to settle the current international mess, Rohmer said. In twelve weekly instalments in a national magazine everything will be cleared up.

This will be something new for Fu, who up to now has specialized in murder for the fun of it. It has been quite a lot of fun, earning Rohmer half a million dollars.

MOTORIST INSTANTLY KILLED NEAR DUBACH

DUBACH, La., April 9.—(Special)—J. D. Gathright, 50, of Natchitoches, La., believed to have been employed as a tie inspector by the American Creosote and Construction company at Texarkana, Tex., was instantly killed when the automobile he was driving is reported to have sideswiped a truck driven by Ernest McCullem, 40, of Bernice, on the Ruston-El Dorado, Ark., highway, three miles north of Dubach, about 5:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon. McCullem was only slightly injured.

Meager reports of the fatality stated that Gathright's car apparently sideswiped the truck as the latter was turning off the main highway into a side road. The right side of Gathright's machine was stove in, it was said.

Gathright's body was taken to Ruston where Coroner S. L. White of Lincoln parish, conducted an inquest.

HOMESTEAD LEAGUE AGAINST MORATORIUM

SHREVEPORT, La., April 9.—(AP)—The Louisiana Homestead and Building and Loan league at the closing session of its annual convention here today went on record as opposed to the state debt moratorium act.

The league elected A. H. Generes of New Orleans president, succeeding W. A. Montgomery of Lafayette and selected New Orleans as the 1939 convention city.

Matt Smith, Baton Rouge, was elected first vice-president; E. C. Rolfs, New Orleans, second vice-president, and Emile Wagner, New Orleans, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Montgomery was named on the national committee and W. G. Weeks, New Iberia, was elected delegate to the southwestern group.

Those named to the executive committee in addition to the new officers were A. L. Wedgeworth, Shreveport; Alfred Miester, New Orleans; H. C. Steger, New Orleans; L. D. Ross, Covington, and A. L. Harrington, Monroe.

The association endorsed the industrial program of Governor Richard W. Leche and urged support of the governor's plan to increase the present tax exemption rate on homes.

W. W. Ramsey, Montgomery, Ala., expressed the opinion that if the states could not agree on reciprocity the regulation of trucks would be given over to the interstate commerce commission.

Among others presenting their respective state's views were Carl Craig, state auditor of Mississippi; H. C. Comish, Louisiana assistant secretary of state; Homer S. Hurst, Oklahoma director of motor carriers; Captain J. D. Moffat, of the Texas department of safety and S. W. Shelton, assistant attorney general of Virginia.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION ENDS THREE-DAY MEET

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 9.—(AP)—The Louisiana Library association, ending its three-day convention today, had a prediction from Dr. Milton J. Ferguson of New York that library work would have a fast growth.

Dr. Ferguson, president-elect of the American Library association, said "education is not limited to school room work alone. Adults must have continued education and it will come through libraries."

Dr. Ferguson spoke last night. Other speakers were Robert J. Usher of New Orleans, James A. McIllen of Louisiana State university and J. O. Modisette of Jennings. Speakers today were Julia Wright Merrill of Chicago and Nora Beust of Washington.

FREIGHT HEARING TO OPEN MONDAY

'Strangulation' Of South's Industrial Growth Will Come Into Court

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 9.—(AP)—The "strangulation" of the south's industrial growth will come into court here Monday when the interstate commerce commission opens hearings on a complaint by southern governors charging mail rate "discrimination" against southern shippers.

The case has developed into a rate fight with the south against the east and the carriers.

Complaining southern governors claim freight tariffs in the south range to 39 per cent higher than rates for

Fu Manchu To Tackle Whole Dictator Lot

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—You can stop worrying now about the international situation.

Fu Manchu is going to fix up everything.

Without even relaxing his Oriental smile, Fu will tackle Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini and the Japanese army all at the same time.

That cheering word for the world's worriers was given out tonight by Sax Rhomer, English writer of creepy stories who invented Fu 25 years ago and has been haunted (willingly and cheerfully) by him ever since.

Fu will come out of retirement (he hasn't been in print for two years) especially to settle the current international mess, Rohmer said. In twelve weekly instalments in a national magazine everything will be cleared up.

This will be something new for Fu, who up to now has specialized in murder for the fun of it. It has been quite a lot of fun, earning Rohmer half a million dollars.

The Chinese blood-curdler had been inactive for some time before he was

$25,000 FAVORED FOR GRAND BAYOU

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—Senator Overton, Democrat, Louisiana, said today Major-General Julian L. Schley, chief of army engineers, had recommended improvements costing about $25,000 at Grand Bayou Pass south of New Orleans.

He said Louisiana house members would ask that the project be included in the new omnibus rivers and harbors authorization bill.

General Schley's report called for a channel six feet deep and 60 feet wide through the entrance bayou. Annual maintenance cost was estimated at $15,000.

SPANISH REBELS AGAIN ADVANCE

Government Army Fights Desperately To Protect Life-Line Highways

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier), April 9.—(AP)—Spanish insurgents announced advances tonight against a government army fighting desperately to protect its life-line Mediterranean coast highways.

The southern wing of the insurgent army driving to separate northeastern Spain from the rest of government territory sent word that insurgent advance guards had fought their way into suburbs of San Mateo, less than 10 miles from the sea.

The advance was made against government militiamen who, fighting with their backs to the wall as they did a year ago when the Madrid-Valencia road was menaced, earlier

MOTORIST INSTANTLY KILLED NEAR DUBACH

DUBACH, La., April 9.—(Special)—J. D. Gathright, 50, of Natchitoches, La., believed to have been employed as a tie inspector by the American Creosote and Construction company at Texarkana, Tex., was instantly killed when the automobile he was driving is reported to have sideswiped a truck driven by Ernest McCullem, 40, of Bernice, on the Ruston-El Dorado, Ark., highway, three miles north of Dubach, about 5:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon. McCullem was only slightly injured.

Meager reports of the fatality stated that Gathright's car apparently sideswiped the truck as the latter was turning off the main highway into a side road. The right side of Gathright's machine was stove in, it was said.

Gathright's body was taken to Ruston where Coroner S. L. White of Lincoln parish, conducted an inquest.

Education Of Quintuplets Presents Serious Problem

CALLANDER, Ont., April 9.—(AP)—If you think there's nothing new under the sun, you've overlooked a problem which is cudgelling the brains of at least three men in Canada—the problem of how the Dionne quintuplets are to be educated.

Twins, triplets, even quadruplets, present no such teaser, and by comparison the educational program of British royalty is simplicity itself. For in a world full of curious things none today is as curious as the quints, who will be four years old May 28.

That's what makes it a problem: the guardians wish, above all things, to keep the five girls from feeling, as far as that is possible, their unique standing.

Until recently the educational program of the famous babies had been in the hands of Dr. W. E. Blatz, noted Toronto child psychologist.

Under his direction the children were being trained in social and language development by experts graduated from the advanced St. George's school for child study in Toronto.

The education of the quints is now to be directed by Duncan McArthur, assistant deputy minister of education for Ontario, and an advocate of the public school system.

The final decision, though, on whether the girls are to go to grade school with their three older sisters and two brothers will be in the hands of the board of guardians—Dr. Allen R. Dafoe, medical guardian of the babies, Percy D. Wilson, Ontario's official guardian of minor children, Judge J. A. Valin of North Bay and the children's father, Oliva Dionne.

Since Papa Dionne takes no part in the guardianship, that leaves the problem in the hands of three men.

There appears to be no uniform opinion on whether the quints should

HOMESTEAD LEAGUE AGAINST MORATORIUM

SHREVEPORT, La., April 9.—(AP)—The Louisiana Homestead and Building and Loan league at the closing session of its annual convention here today went on record as opposed to the state debt moratorium act.

The league elected A. H. Generes of New Orleans president, succeeding W. A. Montgomery of Lafayette and selected New Orleans as the 1939 convention city.

Matt Smith, Baton Rouge, was elected first vice-president; E. C. Rolfs, New Orleans, second vice-president, and Emile Wagner, New Orleans, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Montgomery was named on the national committee and W. G. Weeks, New Iberia, was elected delegate to the southwestern group.

Those named to the executive committee in addition to the new officers were A. L. Wedgeworth, Shreveport; Alfred Miester, New Orleans; H. C. Steger, New Orleans; L. D. Ross, Covington, and A. L. Harrington, Monroe.

The association endorsed the industrial program of Governor Richard W. Leche and urged support of the governor's plan to increase the present tax exemption rate on homes.

Nine cases were found to be in need of immediate operations, some of the children had never walked a step in their 14 or 15 years. In a few weeks, with the aid of operations, they will be able to walk, enjoy games and attend school. Operations will be performed by Dr. Hamilton without cost. Eight were found to be beyond any immediate aid through brain ailments or other complications. Some of these could have been aided had their cases been given attention earlier in life.

Six of the cases examined will be under the care of Miss Stewart, physiotherapy nurse working with the Forty and Eight in these clinics, and will receive regular home treatments under her direction.

Five were found to be in immediate need of braces, and these will be supplied.

Jess DeArmand, chef de gare of the Monroe Forty and Eight, and Dr. C. L. Mengis and S. E. Dodd attended the clinic as representatives of the local voiture.

Next Friday, the clinic will be held in St. Joseph; April 22, it will be held in Bastrop; April 29 in Jonesboro; May 6 in Monroe.

Anyone knowing of children in Ouachita parish who should be examined by a specialist should get in touch with S. E. Dodd, phone 667; Dr. Hamilton at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel clinic, or Dr. Douglas Williams, at the city hall.

Another clinic is planned for Caldwell parish at Columbia, May 13.

CONFERENCE FOR YOUTH PROPOSED

Salvation Army Plans Meeting From April 29 To May 1

Plans were formulated for the divisional youth conference which will be held in Monroe April 29-May 1 inclusive, at a board meeting held here the past week. Two hundred delegates are expected to be present.

The opening meeting will be held in the Ouachita Parish High school auditorium April 29 when the theme of the meeting will be "The Music of Youth."

On April 30, in the First Methodist church, young people's societies of the churches and youth of the city will be invited to join with the Army in a youth rally arranged by Lieutenant Commander Ernest L. Pugmire, leader for the entire south of the Salvation Army, supported by Brigadier Ernest R. Holz, southern Salvation Army youth leader.

Chairman R. C. Stokes of the Salvation advisory board will send out several hundred letters of invitation to the Friday night meeting. Pastor and young people's groups in all churches will be invited to lend their participation.

A big parade will be held Saturday, April 30, which will comprise one of the events of special interest.

In a singing contest a loving cup will be awarded by Sam Rubin to the young people's group that is declared the best.

Many other details of the program were outlined at the advisory board meeting.

STATE ORATORY CONTEST PLANNED

Fifth District Event To Be Held At Northeast Center April 20

The Legionnaire-Schoolmasters' club will conduct a state-wide oratorical contest, sponsored by the American Legion, department of Louisiana, at Northeast Center on the night of April 20, it was announced here Saturday. This group is headed by G. J. Tinsley, president, of the staff of the Southwestern Louisiana institute. W. B. Glover, principal of the Winnsboro High school, is vice-president for the fifth congressional district.

Any high school student is eligible to enter the contest, presenting an original oration on some phase of the general subject of "Citizenship." Mr. Glover wants names of all entrants not later than April 19. Students of all high schools that are expecting to participate in the contest are urged to send in their entries at once.

After the contest is held here on the night of April 20, a cash prize of $10 will be given to the winner.

Later district winners will enter into a state-wide contest.

PROPHIT NAMED ON EXPOSITION GROUP

C. Alston Prophit, manager of the United Gas corporation, has been asked to serve on the pipeline committee of the tenth international petroleum exposition at Tulsa, Okla., May 14 to 21, according to W. R. Finney, chairman of the committee and president of the Oklahoma Pipeline company of Tulsa, Okla.

Finney stated that the pipeline exhibits at the May show will be the largest ever displayed and will include cathodic protection of pipelines, processes of coating and cleaning pipe, new methods of welding such as the circumferential field welding, wrinkle bending of pipe to suit the needs of pipeline construction in any territory, and a complete model exhibit in the new hall of science showing actual construction and all necessary machinery used in the construction of pipelines. This exhibit brought from the museum of science and industry at Chicago, is one of the outstanding displays included in the $250,000 worth of exhibits.

Mr. Prophit has been asked to acquaint the members of the pipeline division of the industry in his territory with the benefits and importance of the exposition to the industry.

OIL AND GAS NEWS

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—Five new Louisiana oil wells, with total initial daily capacity of 1,123 barrels, were listed today in the weekly report of the minerals division of the department of conservation. This was the smallest number of wells and the lowest production since the first of the year.

More than half of the new production was accounted for by the Louisiana Crusader Oil company's No. 1 DuPlantier, discovery well in the new East Baton Rouge field, which was brought in a couple of weeks ago. As officially reported to the commission during the past week the well was making 601 barrels daily through a quarter-inch choke.

Permits were issued during the week to drill 31 new wells. Sixteen of the permits were for operations in south Louisiana.

New wells listed officially in the report were:

Baton Rouge, East Baton Rouge parish, Louisiana Crusader Oil company, No. 1 DuPlantier, 601 barrels through quarter-inch choke; Black Bayou, Cameron, Shell Petroleum corporation, No. 40 Mrs. J. B. Watkins, 136 barrels, quarter-inch; Bull Bayou, DeSoto, Petroleum Heat and Power company, No. 1 Mrs. S. G. Gamplen, 40 barrels, size not given; Starks, Calcasieu, J. R. Turnbull, No. 3 Industrial Lumber Company, 140 barrels, pumper; Ville Platte, Evangeline, Continental Oil company, No. 1 Mrs. Ed Tate, 204 barrels, quarter-inch.

Permits were issued during the week to the following:

Acadia parish, Humble Oil and Refining company (2); Ascension, Humble Oil and Refining company; Bienville, DeSoto Oil and Gas Company, Inc.; Caddo, J. S. Rushing, Midfield Oil company, Falcon Oil Company, Inc., J. Thos. Driscoll, Inc.

Calcasieu parish, Union Sulphur company; Claiborne, Magnolia Petroleum company, Vaughn and Marr, C. H. Lyons et al; DeSoto, Petroleum Heat and Power company; Evangeline, Continental Oil company.

Iberia, The Texas company, William Helis; LaFourche, Sun Oil company; Sabine, Major Oil company; St. Landry, Pan-American Production company, Western Gulf Production company; St. Martin, The Texas company, P. J. Fly et al.

Harry M. Williams, Jr.

Candidate for MAYOR ---of--- West Monroe

Subject to the Action of the Democratic Primary to be Held Tuesday, April 12, 1938

I am seeking the office of Mayor of West Monroe as an independent candidate and on my own merits and qualifications. I have lived among the people of this city since my childhood. West Monroe was the choice of my parents as the community in which they preferred to live. In the past I have been influenced only by the impulses of right and wrong. Now, in asking the people of West Monroe to elect me as their Mayor, I do so independent of every influence other than a sincere desire to serve my community, the community of my parents and neighbors. If I am elected Mayor, I will discharge my duties fairly and will not violate the trust placed in me.

You may depend upon this statement.

The Following Are Some of the Principles Which I Pledge Myself to Foster and Support:

1. To publish yearly a financial statement of the affairs of the City of West Monroe.
2. To seek Federal aid to black-top gravel streets and other improvements.
3. Adequate drainage to street and other parts of our city where necessary.
4. To encourage new industries to locate in the City of West Monroe.
5. Adequate protection at all railroad crossings.
6. Courtesy and efficiency in all city departments.
7. Value received for every dollar expended.
8. No increase in taxes.

Your Vote and Support Will Be Appreciated

Sincerely,

Harry M. Williams, Jr.

Harry M. Williams, Jr.

Candidate for MAYOR ---of--- West Monroe

Subject to the Action of the Democratic Primary to be Held Tuesday, April 12, 1938

I am seeking the office of Mayor of West Monroe as an independent candidate and on my own merits and qualifications. I have lived among the people of this city since my childhood. West Monroe was the choice of my parents as the community in which they preferred to live. In the past I have been influenced only by the impulses of right and wrong. Now, in asking the people of West Monroe to elect me as their Mayor, I do so independent of every influence other than a sincere desire to serve my community, the community of my parents and neighbors. If I am elected Mayor, I will discharge my duties fairly and will not violate the trust placed in me.

You may depend upon this statement.

The Following Are Some of the Principles Which I Pledge Myself to Foster and Support:

1. To publish yearly a financial statement of the affairs of the City of West Monroe.
2. To seek Federal aid to black-top gravel streets and other improvements.
3. Adequate drainage to street and other parts of our city where necessary.
4. To encourage new industries to locate in the City of West Monroe.
5. Adequate protection at all railroad crossings.
6. Courtesy and efficiency in all city departments.
7. Value received for every dollar expended.
8. No increase in taxes.

Your Vote and Support Will Be Appreciated

Sincerely,

Harry M. Williams, Jr.

The Real Satisfactions Of Life

There is one outstandingly apparent thing about existence in this world—we can easily keep ourselves in a state of constant trouble and distress without half trying, or without trying at all. But strive as we may we cannot keep ourselves in a state of continuous peace and joy. Most of us get but fleeting glimpses of peace and joy—just enough to let us know there are such influences.

Likely the efforts of all persons—good and bad—are consciously or unconsciously made to assuage the yearnings of the soul. But it is plain to anyone that such longings cannot be permanently satisfied with the materialities.

A person may believe that if he only had this or that tangible possession his happiness would be complete; yet let him get this or that and he soon finds he was mistaken; the old hunger is still with him. Experience after experience comes to him and may furnish temporary relief; but not for long.

We might as well realize first as last that what we want lies beyond the material things offered by this mundane existence—that the only way to realize utter satisfaction is not through this world, with all its difficulties, and that any attempt to satisfy our inner selves with the things this world affords is doomed to failure.

There is just one sound plan for the human being to follow—he must grit his teeth, hold up his chin, stick out his chest, and push steadily ahead obeying the spiritual laws to the best of his ability. No other procedure will get him anywhere. He certainly cannot afford to fritter himself away on the temptations of this existence if he is to derive permanent satisfactions from life.

Earthtime is schooltime for the soul here in human form, and it will do no good to play hookey, nor to flunk nor to cheat.

What is going on in Germany today emphasizes forcefully the necessity for having spiritual development keep ahead of material or mental development. The Germans are the best intellectually educated nation in the world. And they were that when they began the World war of 1914.

The incontrovertible fact is that the more the mental development the more dangerous a man or a nation, unless spiritual development keeps ahead. The more highly developed the criminal the more dangerous he is to society; and the more highly educated an unethical nation the more dangerous it is to the family of nations. And Hitler is striving still further to reduce the spiritual content of Germany.

Man's greatest enemy is inside himself. When he can lick that enemy he will have overcome the world. But he cannot win that victory through the development of his brain but of his soul.

SOLVING EVERYTHING

Gladys Swarthout, the singer, says that a careful avoidance of "irritating foods" has in some measure been responsible for the marital happiness of her and her husband.

"The lady's ideas should be taken quite seriously," says Bernard Shaw, assuming quite needlessly a slightly defensive attitude. Everybody will agree that the very best people are slaves to their stomachs whether they like to admit it or not. The pity is that more people don't take advantage of this situation.

The proper kinds of food can be used to wonderful advantage not only as preventives but correctives. Think of the possibilities of doing good work in this world as you scan the following random suggestions:

Distribute pickles among the sticky-sweet child actresses.

Put all the diplomats on what is professionally known as "a bland diet."

Open a fund campaign for the purchase and free distribution of head-lettuce among the country's bald men.

Send regular supplies of clams to your talkative friends.

See that the sallow wash all their meals down with Pink Ladies.

AMERICA'S LIVING STANDARD

No matter how one figures it, the American standard of living is the highest in the world.

Americans consume half the world's supply of coffee and rubber. They have at their disposal half the world's communication facilities and electrical energy. They possess 35 per cent of the world's railways, wear three-fourths of the world's silk, burn one-third of the world's coal and use two-thirds of the world's oil. They have one automobile for every five persons, in comparison with Italy's one for 109, France's one for 22, and England's one for 23.

In addition, their demands for food, clothing, shelter and domestic improvements are the most extensive and luxurious of any country in the world. And their opportunities for personal accomplishment and self-improvement are second to none.

By following the paths of democracy, this nation has advanced to a point never before reached by a civilized people.

JANE DIXON SAYS:

By JANE DIXON

HAVE FAITH IN THOSE WHOM YOU LOVE, SO THAT THEY WILL BE INSPIRED TO BE FAITHFUL TO YOU

The suspicion we direct toward others drifts back to wrap us in its own dark fog.

When we are given a promise and accept it in good faith, then it becomes our part in the pledge to have faith in the person who made that promise until we are sure it has been violated.

Doubt and suspicion never yet have bolstered loyalty. They are creators of misery in the hearts and the minds of those who indulge them.

Have FAITH in those whom you love, so that they will be inspired to be FAITHFUL to you.

"Dear Jane Dixon:

"I've been going with a boy for several months. He had to go to another town on account of his work, and he promised he would not go with another girl if I wouldn't go with other boys. He told me he loves me and I love him with all my heart. I would have gone with him when he left, but I'm only sixteen and he thought it better for me to finish school. He is twenty-two. I would do anything for him. He has promised to come back for me this summer. He has brown eyes and black curly hair. I have blue eyes and blonde hair.

"Will he come back? What is he doing while he is away from me? Is he being true? Will I ever be his wife?

"Uncertain Girl."

Comment: The young man is quite right. You need to finish school. Your education is very poor, and you have the mind of a child, not of a woman. Believe in the young man if you like him so much. Work hard to improve your education and your mind so that when and if he does come back he will be proud and happy over the improvement you have made.

The color of eyes and of hair have nothing to do with the answer to your questions. Real men are not drawn back by how a girl looks, but by what kind of a woman she is.

HATE GOOD CITIZENS

By BRUCE CATTON

A special grand jury discharged in New York City recently was believed to have established some kind of endurance record. It had been at work for nearly a year.

Its purpose was an investigation of racketeering and its political ramifications. Among the indictments it returned were those against J. Richard (Dixie) Davis and 11 of his alleged associates in the policy racket. In the process of doing this and similar work the members of the jury had held 56 meetings and questioned approximately 180 witnesses.

Governor Lehman, Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook, and District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey expressed their deep gratitude to the jurors for their service at the time of the jury's discharge.

Very likely there were scores of New York business men, racket victims, and assorted men-in-the-street who would have liked to thank the jurors themselves. Without wishing to detract from the deservedly bright reputation of such prosecutors as Dewey in any way, it should be pointed out that the business of fighting crime is not conducted alone by a district attorney. The major share, sometimes the whole measure of the glory more often than not goes to that official, but the success his efforts enjoy is dependent on the cooperation, the conscientious devotion to its task, and the fearlessness of a body of capable citizens behind him.

Service on a grand jury needs to be given the public attention and encouragement it deserves. A certain flattery attaches to being chosen as a juror, but too often the responsibilities that ensue are regarded more as the incidental burdens of citizenship, to be borne with a minimum of complaint, than as the kind of opportunities that come only rarely in one man's lifetime.

The privilege of serving as a grand juror needs to be emphasized as a gift of a special power for improving the community life. The opportunities are extraordinary, and the more John Q. Citizen is made aware of this, the tougher time rackets are going to have in our cities.

A BOOK REVIEW

AMERICAN MEN AND THEIR DOLLARS

The dedication to the "elder statesman, Senator Carter Glass" immediately sets the key for "The Market Place" by Alexander Dana Noyes, venerable financial editor of the New York Times. At 76, Mr. Noyes looks back over more than 50 years as a financial news reporter and commentator, a career he began under Godkin of the New York Evening Post.

As a cub reporter, Noyes was assigned to cover the failure of Grant and Ward in 1884, and he draws an unforgettable picture of the broken U. S. Grant making his way through the disorder of the office from which his less honest partners had fled, to face all alone the sad music of failure.

From thence Noyes followed professionally the ebb and flow of America's financial fortunes, and he writes of the figures who rode those tides uncritically, gently, and with tolerance. Down through the panic of 1893 flows the tale, through the Spanish war, the panic of 1907, the Teddy Roosevelt era, the World war. (Did you know that the controlling shares in the Suez canal were actually put in hock by the British in a New York bank vault?)

On down through financial rapids and meadows moves the writer, watching a repeated pattern of men's optimism, cupidity and hope, men's pessimism, surrender and despair, to the present, where he offers to "Americans who nowadays survey the troubled horizon" the reassurance that "their country is once more in the position of world economic leadership" and that past experience has shown them to be "tenacious of the country's best traditions." In short, though things look dubious under Roosevelt, we may hope that they are fundamentally sound.

Looking through this book as one lens of a pair of spectacles of which Louis Adamic's "Dynamite" was the other lens, one would get an interesting pageant of America since the Civil war.—W. T.

THE NATION'S CAPITAL

Human Side Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

(Copyright, 1938, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

COLONEL STEWART RODDIE of England, just out of Germany, told an interesting story at a New York club the other day. The "ersatz" isn't working well, according to the colonel.

At a luxurious hotel he ordered an alluring lemon meringue. When he tasted it he thought he had scooped something out of a glue pot. When he could recover his speech he asked the waitress what in the world the thing was made of. She told him, with great pride, that was some of their new "ersatz" cream, made out of codfish powder. But, she said regretfully, he would have to pay for it, as he had marred the piece. "What you should worry about is getting your codfish back," said the colonel.

"We'll get pie in the sky bye and bye," the wobblies used to sing. The Nazis, too, it seems. The real sure-enough pie, like prosperity, is always just around the corner in any strong-arm economy, and somehow they never can locate the corner.

Colonel Roddie, the traditional British army officer with a trim, ram-rod figure and a monocle, drew a pretty grim picture of totalitarian hard times in Germany. He has been in and out of Germany for many years on official errands, has witnessed the ascendancy of Hitler and the crunching of the iron heel on the great German culture, which he highly esteems. He counsels no hatred of Germans—rather, a new affirmation of our democratic traditions and an assured faith that the intelligence and courage of that great people will eventually prevail.

He was in Berlin the day Hitler seized Austria. "Hitler has not subjugated religion," he said. "Thousands packed the great churches of Berlin the day I was there, and I heard the old hymn, 'Ein Feste Burg Ist Unser Gott,' rolling out with majestic fervor, and I knew there was still brave and unfettered aspiration in Germany. When Hitler 'purged' the army of its old command, he lifted out its backbone. It isn't the crushing war machine it is supposed to be."

German economy, said the colonel, is a hollow shell, with a fast run around of paper money and only a meager gold reserve back of it, and with little infiltration of real wealth through trade channels. He sees no war head. Germany isn't ready and will be even less so when other nations are.

THE ISSUE of "escapism" in the movies is rearing its ugly head, as if we didn't have trouble enough as it is. The movie escapism that I liked best was when Charlie Chaplin was escaping over the back fence from the ferocious, moustachioed hotel keeper.

But, it seems, that isn't what they mean. Some of the taller brows have been insisting that the movies are dishing us psychological run-out powders. As they see it, the vicarious heroism and success and the invariable happy ending are just a shot in the arm for millions—an escape from reality into a dream world, which makes it harder for us to buck the job or the landlord or whatever headdevil is written into our life script.

Will H. Hays, national movie czar and mouthpiece, meets the "escapist" issue in his annual report and says, in effect, that the films are supplying sound entertainment free from propaganda, held to high standards of taste and intelligence; and if that enables a bedeviled populace to "escape" from its troubles for an hour or two every now and then, he pleads guilty to "escapism."

That sounds reasonable. The Greeks would have sided with Mr. Hays, particularly Aristotle. He saw in the theater a means of sluicing out a lot of meanness and foolishness, which left the customer in better fighting trim as he went out to face reality. And as to this "escapist" thing, there's a word which flourished only in Freudian discourses in the butcher paper magazines a few years ago.

It's interesting the way these dressy words, like "inferiority complex," gradually work out into the bloodstream of the language. Sooner or later, like automobiles and electric refrigerators, they get marked down for mass consumption.

SOCIAL CREDIT was fanned up around the world, starting in Australia. Far be it from this onlooker to weigh its merits or demerits, but it is interesting to note that, like many other great messianic drives, it starts locking people up, rather than striking away their chains. In Alberta, Canada, where the Rev. Dr. Aberhart is the head of both its temporal and spiritual kingdom, it slams an Edmonton Journal reporter in the jailhouse for over disrespect in his attitude toward the new salvation.

It is a sad thought that many of the new freedoms have closed more jail doors than they have opened. The children of light are apt to be quick with the turn-key, once they get power. The late Lincoln Steffens knew that. He spent the first half of his life as a jail recruiter and the last half preaching against the dangerous "emotion of conviction," the hard assurance of righteousness which perverts reform into reliance on force.

STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein

LONG awaited, the initial details of the 1938 U. S. stamp program finally have been issued by Postmaster General James A. Farley, calling for a complete revision of the regular series, the first since 1922-23. Following is the announcement:

"The portrait of every deceased President of the United States will appear in this new regular series of 31 postage stamps, which includes four new denominations: the 4½-cent, 18-cent, 35-cent and 40-cent denominations. In addition the portraits of Benjamin Franklin and Martha Washington, wife of the first President, will be used.

"Franklin, founder of the American postal system, will be honored with top position on the list, that of the ½-cent issue, while Martha Washington follows her husband, on the 1½-cent stamp. The Franklin and Martha Washington stamps will be the only non-presidential stamps on the list.

"The presidential stamps will appear in denominations arranged in order of their White House terms, starting with the 1-cent Washington issue and running through the $5 Coolidge stamp. Twelve Presidents not previously honored with special postage stamps are included in the new list. They are Presidents John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren, William H. Harrison, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan, Johnson, Arthur and Coolidge. Thomas Jefferson will appear the most often in regular use, replacing Washington on the 3-cent stamp.

"Further details as to designs, dates and places of first-day sales will be announced later."

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

(Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine)

Whenever an invalid has been for a long time confined to bed, there is danger of the occurrence of what are commonly called bed sores. These result from a variety of causes, the most common being pressure on the skin where the bones are near the surface and where the tissues come in contact with the bed. These cases occur particularly after prolonged and severe infections or when patients have lain unconscious for a long time without suitable care. Persons who have suffered with fractures which required long continued rest in bed for recovery sometimes develop bed sores.

Whereas the person in a normal state of health would move on the occurrence of pain or the distress associated with the formation of a sore or an ulcer, one who has long been sick becomes somewhat indifferent and does not change the position. Associated with these causes is the fact that such patients have poor nutrition with loss of fat which acts as a protection against pressure.

Once the tissues are severely damaged, they become susceptible to secondary infection; the result of this infection is an ulcer. Before the ulcer occurs, however, there is a warning in the development of an area of whiteness at the point where the ulcer is going to occur. This whiteness represents an interference with the circulation as a result of long continued pressure.

Obviously it is exceedingly important to prevent the occurrence of such ulcers. The skin must always be suitably cleaned, properly stimulated and protected. The sheets upon which the patient lies should always be kept as free from wrinkles as possible and should be changed sufficiently often to give assurance that they are clean. The skin of a patient who is long in bed must be suitably stimulated by rubbing with various rubbing solutions or with oil. Thereafter, powder may be applied.

Moreover, the position of the patient should be changed frequently in order to prevent long continued pressure at any one point. The area that must be watched particularly is the lower portion of the back. Sometimes it is possible to change the pressure on this part by the use of a thin, ring-shaped rubber cushion filled with air.

If it seems likely that there is going to be a breaking of the skin or a sore, the use of suitable antiseptic solutions is instituted in preventing infection. The doctor will also prescribe treatment which may involve the use of light or heat or other methods prescribed according to the nature of the condition.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—Last month a first class battleship for the United States navy was estimated to cost about $70,000,000.

Today, according to confidential estimates of naval officers, the cost can be placed somewhere around $100,000,000.

The increase is due to the fact that the navy department and the administration now recommend 45,000-ton ships, having abandoned the old 35,000-ton treaty limit.

With costs rising in this and in other ways, little elf anything is being done to see that the taxpayers get their money's worth from what originally was called an $800,000,000 naval expansion program, but more lately has been described as a $1,121,000,000 measure which is fairly sure to be much more expensive by the time shipbuilders have presented their bids.

Odd Happenings

Although many complaints have come from administration throats against prices and rates of profit in other industries, no one here seems to have a clear idea what the profit rate is on battleships. There have been some curious incidents, however, which indicate that certain critics may be correct when they say the legally fixed profit limit of 10 per cent doesn't mean anything under certain methods of accounting.

Last year private shipyards bid $49,870,000 and $47,829,000 on two battleships, while government navy yards bid $37,265,000 and $36,789,000. The average difference was $11,827,000. At the present time the navy yards are full, and private yards are sure to build the new ships.

Congressman Sauthoff thinks the difference between what private yards will charge and what navy yards would bid will be around $35,000,000 on the three proposed dreadnaughts, but admits that's only a guess.

Big Difference

Interstate commerce commission engineers once discovered that the 1929 cruisers averaged $1,429,000 apiece cheaper when produced by navy yards, although the government paid its workers $558,000 per cruiser for annual leaves and holidays, and wages were some 20 per cent higher than in private yards. Taxes and other expenses paid by private yards but not by navy yards were listed at about $156,000. The senate munitions committee found that the navy yard-private yard difference on 1927 cruisers was $2,116,204 per cruiser.

Ambassador Joe Kennedy, until recently chairman of the maritime commission, charged that some fairly stiff bids had been made last year for construction of merchant marine vessels but that when the private shipyards saw the big naval contracts coming they boosted bids for merchant marine vessels by as much as 50 per cent.

Small freighters built in Belfast for $900,000 were bid for here at three times that cost. If the American bids were not collusive, said Kennedy, the result was the same as if they had been. He felt the bids were unjustifiable and that the situation would be "much worse" when new battleships were built.

Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri, who was questioning Kennedy, declared that there was a combine of private yards and that the government must buy from the combine or not at all.

Construction Stalled

Although the navy may pay the private yards what they ask, the maritime commission objects to paying out subsidy money from federal funds merely to meet what it considers extortionate overhead charges and profits.

Meanwhile construction of the merchant marine, vital as a naval auxiliary, is being held up and not only Roosevelt but Chairman Kennedy suggested it might be a good idea to have some American merchant marine ships built in private yards.

There has been a small movement in congress, which the administration conspicuously has failed to support, for expansion of navy yard facilities to the end that the government might produce all necessary naval ships in its own yards.

The ICC engineers told the senate munitions committee that this would cost only $23,694,000, although that figure would need revision today.

An alternate proposal is to forbid the navy to allocate battleships and cruisers to private yards unless their bids are within a given percentage of navy yard bids.

The shipbuilders' lobby usually has little trouble defeating such bills.

DISCUSS PLANS TO ENLARGE COURTHOUSE

TALLULAH, La., April 9.—(Special)—According to information given out by Dr. L. C. Spencer, director of the Catahoula parish health unit, the American Legion and its auxiliary is planning a clinic for crippled children in each parish of the fifth district, and have made arrangements for a visiting personnel, consisting of an orthopedist, a physiotherapist and a vocational instructor.

Dr. Spencer has urged that persons in this parish having such cases for the clinics contact his office.

The dates for the clinic in this parish will be announced here shortly.

The Real Satisfactions Of Life

There is one outstandingly apparent thing about existence in this world—we can easily keep ourselves in a state of constant trouble and distress without half trying, or without trying at all. But strive as we may we cannot keep ourselves in a state of continuous peace and joy. Most of us get but fleeting glimpses of peace and joy—just enough to let us know there are such influences.

Likely the efforts of all persons—good and bad—are consciously or unconsciously made to assuage the yearnings of the soul. But it is plain to anyone that such longings cannot be permanently satisfied with the materialities.

A person may believe that if he only had this or that tangible possession his happiness would be complete; yet let him get this or that and he soon finds he was mistaken; the old hunger is still with him. Experience after experience comes to him and may furnish temporary relief; but not for long.

We might as well realize first as last that what we want lies beyond the material things offered by this mundane existence—that the only way to realize utter satisfaction is not through this world, with all its difficulties, and that any attempt to satisfy our inner selves with the things this world affords is doomed to failure.

There is just one sound plan for the human being to follow—he must grit his teeth, hold up his chin, stick out his chest, and push steadily ahead obeying the spiritual laws to the best of his ability. No other procedure will get him anywhere. He certainly cannot afford to fritter himself away on the temptations of this existence if he is to derive permanent satisfactions from life.

Earthtime is schooltime for the soul here in human form, and it will do no good to play hookey, nor to flunk nor to cheat.

What is going on in Germany today emphasizes forcefully the necessity for having spiritual development keep ahead of material or mental development. The Germans are the best intellectually educated nation in the world. And they were that when they began the World war of 1914.

The incontrovertible fact is that the more the mental development the more dangerous a man or a nation, unless spiritual development keeps ahead. The more highly developed the criminal the more dangerous he is to society; and the more highly educated an unethical nation the more dangerous it is to the family of nations. And Hitler is striving still further to reduce the spiritual content of Germany.

Man's greatest enemy is inside himself. When he can lick that enemy he will have overcome the world. But he cannot win that victory through the development of his brain but of his soul.

SOLVING EVERYTHING

Gladys Swarthout, the singer, says that a careful avoidance of "irritating foods" has in some measure been responsible for the marital happiness of her and her husband.

"The lady's ideas should be taken quite seriously," says Bernard Shaw, assuming quite needlessly a slightly defensive attitude. Everybody will agree that the very best people are slaves to their stomachs whether they like to admit it or not. The pity is that more people don't take advantage of this situation.

The proper kinds of food can be used to wonderful advantage not only as preventives but correctives. Think of the possibilities of doing good work in this world as you scan the following random suggestions:

Distribute pickles among the sticky-sweet child actresses.

Put all the diplomats on what is professionally known as "a bland diet."

Open a fund campaign for the purchase and free distribution of head-lettuce among the country's bald men.

Send regular supplies of clams to your talkative friends.

See that the sallow wash all their meals down with Pink Ladies.

And make it a law that every citizen in the country take a little love potion before breakfast.

AMERICA'S LIVING STANDARD

No matter how one figures it, the American standard of living is the highest in the world.

Americans consume half the world's supply of coffee and rubber. They have at their disposal half the world's communication facilities and electrical energy. They possess 35 per cent of the world's railways, wear three-fourths of the world's silk, burn one-third of the world's coal and use two-thirds of the world's oil. They have one automobile for every five persons, in comparison with Italy's one for 109, France's one for 22, and England's one for 23.

In addition, their demands for food, clothing, shelter and domestic improvements are the most extensive and luxurious of any country in the world. And their opportunities for personal accomplishment and self-improvement are second to none.

By following the paths of democracy, this nation has advanced to a point never before reached by a civilized people.

JANE DIXON SAYS:

By JANE DIXON

HAVE FAITH IN THOSE WHOM YOU LOVE, SO THAT THEY WILL BE INSPIRED TO BE FAITHFUL TO YOU

The suspicion we direct toward others drifts back to wrap us in its own dark fog.

When we are given a promise and accept it in good faith, then it becomes our part in the pledge to have faith in the person who made that promise until we are sure it has been violated.

Doubt and suspicion never yet have bolstered loyalty. They are creators of misery in the hearts and the minds of those who indulge them.

Have FAITH in those whom you love, so that they will be inspired to be FAITHFUL to you.

"Dear Jane Dixon:

"I've been going with a boy for several months. He had to go to another town on account of his work, and he promised he would not go with another girl if I wouldn't go with other boys. He told me he loves me and I love him with all my heart. I would have gone with him when he left, but I'm only sixteen and he thought it better for me to finish school. He is twenty-two. I would do anything for him. He has promised to come back for me this summer. He has brown eyes and black curly hair. I have blue eyes and blonde hair.

"Will he come back? What is he doing while he is away from me? Is he being true? Will I ever be his wife?

"Uncertain Girl."

Comment: The young man is quite right. You need to finish school. Your education is very poor, and you have the mind of a child, not of a woman. Believe in the young man if you like him so much. Work hard to improve your education and your mind so that when and if he does come back he will be proud and happy over the improvement you have made.

The color of eyes and of hair have nothing to do with the answer to your questions. Real men are not drawn back by how a girl looks, but by what kind of a woman she is.

HATE GOOD CITIZENS

By BRUCE CATTON

A special grand jury discharged in New York City recently was believed to have established some kind of endurance record. It had been at work for nearly a year.

Its purpose was an investigation of racketeering and its political ramifications. Among the indictments it returned were those against J. Richard (Dixie) Davis and 11 of his alleged associates in the policy racket. In the process of doing this and similar work the members of the jury had held 56 meetings and questioned approximately 180 witnesses.

Governor Lehman, Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook, and District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey expressed their deep gratitude to the jurors for their service at the time of the jury's discharge.

Very likely there were scores of New York business men, racket victims, and assorted men-in-the-street who would have liked to thank the jurors themselves. Without wishing to detract from the deservedly bright reputation of such prosecutors as Dewey in any way, it should be pointed out that the business of fighting crime is not conducted alone by a district attorney. The major share, sometimes the whole measure of the glory more often than not goes to that official, but the success his efforts enjoy is dependent on the cooperation, the conscientious devotion to its task, and the fearlessness of a body of capable citizens behind him.

Service on a grand jury needs to be given the public attention and encouragement it deserves. A certain flattery attaches to being chosen as a juror, but too often the responsibilities that ensue are regarded more as the incidental burdens of citizenship, to be borne with a minimum of complaint, than as the kind of opportunities that come only rarely in one man's lifetime.

The privilege of serving as a grand juror needs to be emphasized as a gift of a special power for improving the community life. The opportunities are extraordinary, and the more John Q. Citizen is made aware of this, the tougher time rackets are going to have in our cities.

A BOOK REVIEW

AMERICAN MEN AND THEIR DOLLARS

The dedication to the "elder statesman, Senator Carter Glass" immediately sets the key for "The Market Place" by Alexander Dana Noyes, venerable financial editor of the New York Times. At 76, Mr. Noyes looks back over more than 50 years as a financial news reporter and commentator, a career he began under Godkin of the New York Evening Post.

As a cub reporter, Noyes was assigned to cover the failure of Grant and Ward in 1884, and he draws an unforgettable picture of the broken U. S. Grant making his way through the disorder of the office from which his less honest partners had fled, to face all alone the sad music of failure.

From thence Noyes followed professionally the ebb and flow of America's financial fortunes, and he writes of the figures who rode those tides uncritically, gently, and with tolerance. Down through the panic of 1893 flows the tale, through the Spanish war, the panic of 1907, the Teddy Roosevelt era, the World war. (Did you know that the controlling shares in the Suez canal were actually put in hock by the British in a New York bank vault?)

On down through financial rapids and meadows moves the writer, watching a repeated pattern of men's optimism, cupidity and hope, men's pessimism, surrender and despair, to the present, where he offers to "Americans who nowadays survey the troubled horizon" the reassurance that "their country is once more in the position of world economic leadership" and that past experience has shown them to be "tenacious of the country's best traditions." In short, though things look dubious under Roosevelt, we may hope that they are fundamentally sound.

Looking through this book as one lens of a pair of spectacles of which Louis Adamic's "Dynamite" was the other lens, one would get an interesting pageant of America since the Civil war.—W. T.

THE NATION'S CAPITAL

Human Side Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

(Copyright, 1938, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

COLONEL STEWART RODDIE of England, just out of Germany, told an interesting story at a New York club the other day. The "ersatz" isn't working well, according to the colonel.

At a luxurious hotel he ordered an alluring lemon meringue. When he tasted it he thought he had scooped something out of a glue pot. When he could recover his speech he asked the waitress what in the world the thing was made of. She told him, with great pride, that was some of their new "ersatz" cream, made out of codfish powder. But, she said regretfully, he would have to pay for it, as he had marred the piece. "What you should worry about is getting your codfish back," said the colonel.

"We'll get pie in the sky bye and bye," the wobblies used to sing. The Nazis, too, it seems. The real sure-enough pie, like prosperity, is always just around the corner in any strong-arm economy, and somehow they never can locate the corner.

Colonel Roddie, the traditional British army officer with a trim, ram-rod figure and a monocle, drew a pretty grim picture of totalitarian hard times in Germany. He has been in and out of Germany for many years on official errands, has witnessed the ascendancy of Hitler and the crunching of the iron heel on the great German culture, which he highly esteems. He counsels no hatred of Germans—rather, a new affirmation of our democratic traditions and an assured faith that the intelligence and courage of that great people will eventually prevail.

He was in Berlin the day Hitler seized Austria. "Hitler has not subjugated religion," he said. "Thousands packed the great churches of Berlin the day I was there, and I heard the old hymn, 'Ein Feste Burg Ist Unser Gott,' rolling out with majestic fervor, and I knew there was still brave and unfettered aspiration in Germany. When Hitler 'purged' the army of its old command, he lifted out its backbone. It isn't the crushing war machine it is supposed to be."

German economy, said the colonel, is a hollow shell, with a fast run around of paper money and only a meager gold reserve back of it, and with little infiltration of real wealth through trade channels. He sees no war head. Germany isn't ready and will be even less so when other nations are.

THE ISSUE of "escapism" in the movies is rearing its ugly head, as if we didn't have trouble enough as it is. The movie escapism that I liked best was when Charlie Chaplin was escaping over the back fence from the ferocious, moustachioed hotel keeper.

But, it seems, that isn't what they mean. Some of the taller brows have been insisting that the movies are dishing us psychological run-outs powders. As they see it, the vicarious heroism and success and the invariable happy ending are just a shot in the arm for millions—an escape from reality into a dream world, which makes it harder for us to buck the job or the landlord or whatever head-devil is written into our life script.

Will H. Hays, national movie czar and mouthpiece, meets the "escapist" issue in his annual report and says, in effect, that the films are supplying sound entertainment free from propaganda, held to high standards of taste and intelligence; and if that enables a bedeviled populace to "escape" from its troubles for an hour or two every now and then, he pleads guilty to "escapism."

That sounds reasonable. The Greeks would have sided with Mr. Hays, particularly Aristotle. He saw in the theater a means of sluicing out a lot of meanness and foolishness, which left the customer in better fighting trim as he went out to face reality. And as to this "escapist" thing, there's a word which flourished only in Freudian discourses in the butcher paper magazines a few years ago.

It's interesting the way these dressy words, like "inferiority complex," gradually work out into the bloodstream of the language. Sooner or later, like automobiles and electric refrigerators, they get marked down for mass consumption.

SOCIAL CREDIT was fanned up around the world, starting in Australia. Far be it from this onlooker to weigh its merits or demerits, but it is interesting to note that, like many other great messianic drives, it starts locking people up, rather than striking away their chains. In Alberta, Canada, where the Rev. Dr. Aberhart is the head of both its temporal and spiritual kingdom, it slams an Edmonton Journal reporter in the jailhouse for over disrespect in his attitude toward the new salvation.

It is a sad thought that many of the new freedoms have closed more jail doors than they have opened. The children of light are apt to be quick with the turn-key, once they get power. The late Lincoln Steffens knew that. He spent the first half of his life as a jail recruiter and the last half preaching against the dangerous "emotion of conviction," the hard assurance of righteousness which perverts reform into reliance on force.

STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein

LONG awaited, the initial details of the 1938 U. S. stamp program finally have been issued by Postmaster General James A. Farley, calling for a complete revision of the regular series, the first since 1922-23. Following is the announcement:

"The portrait of every deceased President of the United States will appear in this new regular series of 31 postage stamps, which includes four new denominations: the 4½-cent, 18-cent, 35-cent and 40-cent denominations. In addition the portraits of Benjamin Franklin and Martha Washington, wife of the first President, will be used.

"Franklin, founder of the American postal system, will be honored with top position on the list, that of the ½-cent issue, while Martha Washington follows her husband, on the 1½-cent stamp. The Franklin and Martha Washington stamps will be the only non-presidential stamps on the list.

"The presidential stamps will appear in denominations arranged in order of their White House terms, starting with the 1-cent Washington issue and running through the $5 Coolidge stamp. Twelve Presidents not previously honored with special postage stamps are included in the new list. They are Presidents John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren, William H. Harrison, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan, Johnson, Arthur and Coolidge. Thomas Jefferson will appear the most often in regular use, replacing Washington on the 3-cent stamp.

"Further details as to designs, dates and places of first-day sales will be announced later."

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

(Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine)

Whenever an invalid has been for a long time confined to bed, there is danger of the occurrence of what are commonly called bed sores. These result from a variety of causes, the most common being pressure on the skin where the bones are near the surface and where the tissues come in contact with the bed. These cases occur particularly after prolonged and severe infections or when patients have lain unconscious for a long time without suitable care. Persons who have suffered with fractures which required long continued rest in bed for recovery sometimes develop bed sores.

Whereas the person in a normal state of health would move on the occurrence of pain or the distress associated with the formation of a sore or an ulcer, one who has long been sick becomes somewhat indifferent and does not change the position. Associated with these causes is the fact that such patients have poor nutrition with loss of fat which acts as a protection against pressure.

Once the tissues are severely damaged, they become susceptible to secondary infection; the result of this infection is an ulcer. Before the ulcer occurs, however, there is a warning in the development of an area of whiteness at the point where the ulcer is going to occur. This whiteness represents an interference with the circulation as a result of long continued pressure.

Obviously it is exceedingly important to prevent the occurrence of such ulcers. The skin must always be suitably cleaned, properly stimulated and protected. The sheets upon which the patient lies should always be kept as free from wrinkles as possible and should be changed sufficiently often to give assurance that they are clean. The skin of a patient who is long in bed must be suitably stimulated by rubbing with various rubbing solutions or with oil. Thereafter, powder may be applied.

Moreover, the position of the patient should be changed frequently in order to prevent long continued pressure at any one point. The area that must be watched particularly is the lower portion of the back. Sometimes it is possible to change the pressure on this part by the use of a thin, ring-shaped rubber cushion filled with air.

If it seems likely that there is going to be a breaking of the skin or a sore, the use of suitable antiseptic solutions is instituted in preventing infection. The doctor will also prescribe treatment which may involve the use of light or heat or other methods prescribed according to the nature of the condition.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—Last month a first class battleship for the United States navy was estimated to cost about $70,000,000.

Today, according to confidential estimates of naval officers, the cost can be placed somewhere around $100,000,000.

The increase is due to the fact that the navy department and the administration now recommend 45,000-ton ships, having abandoned the old 35,000-ton treaty limit.

With costs rising in this and in other ways, little eif anything is being done to see that the taxpayers get their money's worth from what originally was called an $800,000,000 naval expansion program, but more lately has been described as a $1,121,000,000 measure which is fairly sure to be much more expensive by the time shipbuilders have presented their bids.

Odd Happenings

Although many complaints have come from administration throats against prices and rates of profit in other industries, no one here seems to have a clear idea what the profit rate is on battleships. There have been some curious incidents, however, which indicate that certain critics may be correct when they say the legally fixed profit limit of 10 per cent doesn't mean anything under certain methods of accounting.

Last year private shipyards bid $49,870,000 and $47,829,000 on two battleships, while government navy yards bid $37,265,000 and $36,789,000. The average difference was $11,527,000. At the present time the navy yards are full, and private yards are sure to build the new ships.

Congressman Sauthoff thinks the difference between what private yards will charge and what navy yards would bid will be around $35,000,000 on the three proposed dreadnaughts, but admits that's only a guess.

Big Difference

Interstate commerce commission engineers once discovered that the 1929 cruisers averaged $1,429,000 apiece cheaper when produced by navy yards, although the government paid its workers $558,000 per cruiser for annual leaves and holidays, and wages were some 20 per cent higher than in private yards. Taxes and other expenses paid by private yards but not by navy yards were listed at about $156,000. The senate munitions committee found that the navy yard-private yard difference on 1927 cruisers was $2,116,304 per cruiser.

Ambassador Joe Kennedy, until recently chairman of the maritime commission, charged that some fairly stiff bids had been made last year for construction of merchant marine vessels but that when the private shipyards saw the big naval contracts coming they boosted bids for merchant marine vessels by as much as 50 per cent.

Small freighters built in Belfast for $900,000 were bid for here at three times that cost. If the American bids were not collusive, said Kennedy, the result was the same as if they had been. He felt the bids were unjustifiable and that the situation would be "much worse" when new battleships were built.

Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri, who was questioning Kennedy, declared that there was a combine of private yards and that the government must buy from the combine or not at all.

Construction Stalled

Although the navy may pay the private yards what they ask, the maritime commission objects to paying out subsidy money from federal funds merely to meet what it considers extortionate overhead charges and profits.

Meanwhile construction of the merchant marine, vital as a naval auxiliary, is being held up and not only Roosevelt but Chairman Kennedy suggested it might be a good idea to have some American merchant marine ships built in private yards.

There has been a small movement in congress, which the administration conspicuously has failed to support, for expansion of navy yard facilities to the end that the government might produce all necessary naval ships in its own yards.

The ICC engineers told the senate munitions committee that this would cost only $23,604,000, although that figure would need revision today.

An alternate proposal is to forbid the navy to allocate battleships and cruisers to private yards unless their bids are within a given percentage of navy yard bids.

The shipbuilders' lobby usually has little trouble defeating such bills.

DISCUSS PLANS TO ENLARGE COURTHOUSE

TALLULAH, La., April 9.—(Special)—At a meeting of the Madison parish police jury a resolution was adopted appointing a building committee to consider the feasibility of enlarging the Madison parish courthouse here. In the event the committee decides on the advisibility of the improvement a bond election will be called for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not bonds will be voted for the enlargement and repairs. The committee is composed of W. H. Hewes, president of the police jury; P. O. Benjamin, secretary; G. D. Currie and W. F. Powell, members of the police jury; A. J. Sevier, sheriff; Henry C. Sevier, state representative, and Jeff B. Snyder, legal advisor.

LEGION, AUXILIARY ARRANGE FOR CLINIC

HARRISONBURG, La., April 9.—(Special)—According to information given out by Dr. L. C. Spencer, director of the Catahoula parish health unit, the American Legion and its auxiliary is planning a clinic for crippled children in each parish of the fifth district, and have made arrangements for a visiting personnel, consisting of an orthodpedist, a physiotherapist and a vocational instructor.

Dr. Spencer has urged that persons in this parish having such cases for the clinics contact his office.

The dates for the clinic in this parish will be announced here shortly.

STATE B. T. U. TO MEET THIS WEEK

Will Be Held In First Baptist Church, West Monroe, April 12-13

A state-wide associational B. T. U. clinic is announced for the First Baptist church in West Monroe Tuesday and Wednesday, when 300 to 400 are expected to attend. The first session will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Every associational officer in Louisiana is expected to attend, including moderators, directors, associate directors, secretary-treasurers, choir leaders, pianists, pastor-advisors and all other groups of Baptist church activities.

The south-wide B. T. U. department will be in charge of the program, which will feature a number of prominent speakers, including officers of the department as well as laymen. Taking active part on the program will be J. E. and Mrs. Lambdin, W. A. Harrell, Aubrey Hearn, Dr. Clay I. Hudson, Dr. T. L. Holcomb, Dr. P. E. Burroughs, Mrs. Hattie Potts Rogers, Mrs. Aurora Shumate, L. Mark Roberts, Miss Nan Morgan, J. L. Pollard, Miss Margaret Harris, Rev. Kearnie Keagan, B. B. McKinney, Dr. W. H. Knight, F. J. Katz and a number of others.

The program will be largely inspirational and many problems will be discussed.

The state president, L. Mark Roberts, will preside and Mrs. Raymond Spence, Mrs. Dallas Goss and Miss Mack Fay Hammons will serve as pianists.

BANQUET PLANNED

HARRISONBURG, La., April 9.—(Special)—The junior-senior banquet at Harrisonburg High school will be held April 14. The seniors will stage their play at the same time.

ROOSEVELT WILL BATTLE CRITICS

Administration Leaders Abandon Hope Of Controlling 75th Congress

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—A historic upsurge of opposition appeared tonight to have forced Roosevelt administration leaders to abandon hope of regaining control of the 75th congress.

Instead, they looked for a fairly quick adjournment, to be followed by a tremendous, nation-wide struggle between the president and his critics in the 1938 political campaigns. It was considered certain that the president would carry the fight for his policies to the voters, perhaps by a long stumping tour.

Mr. Roosevelt's first official reaction to the tremendous blow the house dealt his program by defeat of the reorganization bill last night was a letter declaring there should be no "personal recrimination" over the bitter fight.

He sent the following letter to Majority Leader Sam Rayburn, Democrat, Texas, one of the leaders of the unsuccessful struggle to push the reorganization bill through:

"Dear Sam:

"Thanks for the fine fight. Will you also thank the speaker and the others.

"The reorganization bill is intended to simplify and improve the public service. With this single objective in view, I have given it my earnest approval.

"The question presented is solely one of policy. Therefore, the legislative developments of yesterday offer no occasion for personal recrimination and there should be none."

It was believed by some observers that the last paragraph was an effort to avert any widening of the Democratic party breach. It was recalled that the vote of 204 to 196, by which the house sent the reorganization bill to the limbo of a committee, found many ordinarily "faithful" New Dealers in the opposition ranks.

Observers noted that Mr. Roosevelt spoke of the reorganization bill in the present tense, indicating perhaps an intention to try to revive it at a later date. There was no sign in congress, however, of any move to bring it back for debate this year.

Moreover, there was a widespread opinion that chances of 1938 action on the wage-hour bill, a key item on the Roosevelt program, had virtually vanished.

Chairman Ramspeck, Democrat, Georgia, of the house labor sub-committee, which revised the wage-hour bill after it was recommitted by the house last December, said the reorganization defeat would "militate against the wage-hour bill at this session."

Ramspeck added that the house definitely indicated it did not want to consider controversial matters on the eve of the membership's campaigns for re-election.

There was a feeling that, after final action on a few measures, like the tax revision bill, next year's relief appropriation and possibly a new public works program, congress would stampede for home. The senate has revised the tax bill in a manner highly displeasing to the administration, and the congress has yet to receive the other two measures.

CLINTON GIRL KILLED

CLINTON, La., April 9.—(AP)—Miss Leola Gayle, 18-year-old high school junior, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rowley D. Gayle, was killed about 7 o'clock last night when an automobile she was driving overturned near Darling's creek in St. Helena parish.

DEATHS

FANT FUNERAL

COLUMBIA, La., April 9.—(Special)—Funeral services for T. M. (Uncle Tom) Fant, 74, were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the First Baptist church, with Rev. J. D. Kitchingham officiating assisted by Rev. Guy Winstead, pastor of the Columbia Baptist church, and Rev. V. D. Morris, pastor of the Columbia Methodist church.

He is survived by his wife and several nieces and nephews.

ROBERT MURPHY

Robert Murphy, 49, of Swartz, died at his home after a short illness Saturday. The funeral will be held at the residence today at 2 p.m. with interment in Spring Hill cemetery.

He is survived by his wife and 12 children. They are Lawrence, Lee, Harvey, James, William, Hazel, Harold, Frank, Jack, Margaret, Elsie and Cordie Murphy.

MRS. LILLIE CROW

MARION, La., April 9.—(Special)—The funeral of Mrs. Lillie Crow, 71, who died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mattie Hudson, in Strong, Ark., Thursday, was held at the Central church at Sadie, near here, Friday. Interment was in Union cemetery.

Mrs. Crow was before her marriage to the late William Crow, Miss Lillie Murphy and had spent her life largely in this community.

She leaves four sons and three daughters; Will E. Crow and Tal E. Crow of Marion; Linnis Crow of Strong, Ark.; Guy Crow of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Lennie Smith of McGehee, Ark.; Mrs. W. E. Gresham of Shreveport and a daughter in California. She also leaves two brothers and three sisters, Carlton Murphy of Strong, Ark., and Paul Murphy, of Texas; Mrs. Rosa Hudson and Mrs. Mattie Hudson of Strong, Ark., and Mrs. Etta Harrell of Ruston.

W. L. KELLEY

QUITMAN, La., April 9.—(Special)—W. L. Kelley, 79, a lifelong resident of Quitman, died of a sudden heart attack, Friday at 10 a.m.

He is survived by his wife and the following children: Ben J. of Hodge, Jude and W. L. of Quitman; Mrs. Olla Matthews, Mrs. O. P. Alexander, Mrs. Myrtle Bryant, all of Hodge; Mrs. Grace May Moncrief of Jonesboro, and Mrs. Mary Funderburg of Quitman. He also leaves a brother and two sisters, Monroe Kelley of Jonesboro; Mrs. Jack Bell, and Mrs. Dellie Deese of Quitman.

RILLS RITES

The funeral of Mrs. Emma D. Rills, who died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Myatt McClendon, 305 McClendon avenue, West Monroe, Friday morning, was held at the Mulhearn Funeral home Saturday at 10:30 a.m. Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated and interment took place in Hasley cemetery.

The pallbearers were I. H. Hamilton, E. S. Harper, J. E. Hay, Jerry Massengill, J. T. Bryant and L. F. Rinehart.

Mrs. Rills was a native of West Point, Mo., and removed in 1889 to Monroe where she had resided continuously ever since. She was the widow of E. H. Rills and sister of the late I. T. Davis, for many years president of the People's Homestead and Savings association.

BARNETT-DOWNS POST TO FORM S. O. T. L. SQUADRON

A meeting of Barnett-Downs post 201, American Legion, West Monroe, will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock, at the NYA building, West Monroe, for the purpose of forming a squadron of Sons of the Legion.

Alton T. Harper, post commander, urges all members to attend the meeting and bring their sons. The post has a membership of 53.

DAVIS HOLDS ACE IN OIL WRANGLE

Veteran Independent Operator Watches Mexican Situation Calmly

MEXICO CITY, April 9.—(AP)—A veteran independent American oil operator was credited tonight by observers as holding the best cards in the game for a stake in Mexico's $400,000,000 expropriated petroleum industry.

He is W. R. Davis of New York who contracted to buy oil from the wells the government owned prior to President Lazaro Cardenas' expropriation of 17 American and British companies on March 18. These wells have produced 25,000 barrels of oil daily.

"We are just sitting back looking out of the window and waiting," said the 49-year-old native of Montgomery, Ala., in reply to a query whether he was interested in oil from the expropriated properties.

"I have made no propositions and none have been made me. But before I made any deal to handle the oil I would want to be sure the expropriation was going to stand up, that there was not going to be a revision of the expropriation and that the companies will be properly paid for their properties."

He added significantly:

"They (the government) will find out sooner or later we are the ones that have the ships and the markets."

Davis said his companies owned 17 tankers and had 10 more under long contract.

Some months ago he sold the government $1,080,000 worth of drilling and pipe line equipment against governmental oil.

The Norwegian tanker Maersk will proceed from Tampico to Tuxpan tomorrow to load 100,000 barrels of oil, the first of 1,000,000 barrels for which Davis was said to have paid an average price of $1.05 a barrel.

Davis said he was getting out the remainder of the oil in 13 cargoes before May 22.

Francis W. Rickett, British promoter who is dickering with the government, was quoted by friends as saying he had closed a deal for purchase of an unstated amount of oil. This was denied by official sources.

TUNIS PUT UNDER STATE OF SIEGE

TUNIS, Tunisia, April 9.—(AP)—The Bey of Tunis tonight proclaimed a state of siege over this capital of French-governed Tunisia while French troops fought to restore order as a result of day long riots.

Several persons were reported dead and a large number wounded in battles in the Arab quarter between Neodestours—nationalists—and police.

Military authorities took complete charge of the city from the civil government, headed by the bey, Sidi Ahmed.

Rioting followed a proclamation by Neodestours leaders that their followers would seize control of civil and military prisons unless a recently arrested Neodestours chief named Belhouane was released.

(Reports reaching France through a strict military censorship late tonight said the rioting started in the afternoon and continued into the night.)

Mobs of nationalists turned over buses in the streets and burned them.

Troop reserves were rushed to Tunis from other parts of the French protectorate in Africa.

SCHOOL BUS MEN MEET

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 9.—(AP)—About 600 members of the State School Bus Operators association from 37 parishes of Louisiana met here today to discuss operating conditions and ways of improving them. Speakers were Mayor V. V. Lamkin of this city, Lieutenant-Governor Earl K. Long, Henry Daughty, Manifest, R. W. Rhodes, Farmerville, Grove D. Davis, Olla, A. D. Flowers, Jena, and Representative Jesse F. Lucas.

The peanut plant is a member of the bean family.

'MEAL OF THE MONTH' CAMPAIGN PLANNED

Every Armour dealer will be given the support of eight of the nation's most popular movie stars in Armour and company's Easter "meal of the month" advertising. This advertising will feature Star ham, mellow-cooked jubilee ham, and Star bacon.

The eight movie stars who will be featured in this colorful Easter advertising are Walt Disney's Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. From the pages of magazines and newspapers throughout the country, they will invite the world to their own Easter feast. It's Armour's meal of the month.

The high point of the campaign is a special offer which will bring more customers into every Armour dealer's store. Each newspaper and magazine advertisement contains a coupon which is good for a set of eight Snow White story stamps. Armour salesmen will furnish each dealer with 50 sets of these business-building stamps. In addition to heavy newspaper and magazine support, Armour is offering dealers a complete set of unusual display [illegible] Snow White [illegible] Beautifully designed, these [illegible] will help the dealer tie in his store with the powerful advertising campaign which will reach his customers through newspapers and national magazines. It will also give him a chance to cash in on the phenomenal popularity of the nation's favorite animated characters. During this special campaign every Star ham will be wrapped in a special Snow White wrapper.

FORMER MONROE RESIDENT CRITICALLY ILL IN TEXAS

News was received here last night to the effect that Mrs. D. A. Brown, sister of W. H. Faulk, and aunt to R. T. Faulk and Miss Lucy Faulk of Monroe, is critically ill with pneumonia at San Antonio, Tex.

Mrs. Brown was a former resident of this city and had lived here practically all her life until a few years ago, when she went to San Antonio to make her home.

Do You Want A Baby?

IT is a well known fact that "Complete unity and happiness in married life is brought by babies," and that lack of children in the home is one of the greatest causes for discontented marriages. Also that woman was intended for Motherhood, but too often she has a functional weakness. During an experience of more than 40 years specializing in conditions peculiar to women, I developed a simple home method which has brought new hope.

Happiness has been brought to many who were childless because of functional weakness. Husbands have written me the most glowing letters of gratitude, in such cases. Now I want other women suffering from functional weakness to learn about this splendid method and how it may be used in the privacy of the home. (Copr. 1938)

Get This Knowledge FREE

I have printed an illustrated comprehensive treatise on the merits of this method, in which I intimately discuss many important subjects relating to the female organs that are vitally interesting to every woman. They tell how you too may often combat your troubles as have others who reported the arrival of babies after being childless for years, due to functional weakness. So often again certain women may enjoy the desire and activities of Nature's most wonderful creation—a normal, fully developed, vigorous woman. When you buy an "8" to save money IT'S NEWS!

The Standard Tudor

FOR YEARS, only the biggest, most costly cars had 8-cylinder engines. When the Ford V-8 engine was first introduced, people welcomed the finer performance that 8 cylinders provided, but kept their fingers crossed on economy. It somehow seemed as if 8 cylinders had to use more gasoline.

But the news spread that Ford V-8 cars were giving just as good gas mileage as cars that did not offer 8-cylinder advantages. Good design, not number of cylinders, determined economy. By last year, four million people had stepped up to the 85-horsepower V-8 class. Then the slightly smaller 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was introduced.

Reports soon rolled in from owners averaging 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. More than any Ford car had ever given! A new standard of economy—a low price—and the smoothness of 8 cylinders! That was NEWS!

America bought 300,000 Ford V-8 "60s" the first year and is still buying. If you'd like to know why—if you'd like to save money all ways—see and drive the 1938 version of this thrifty, modern car.

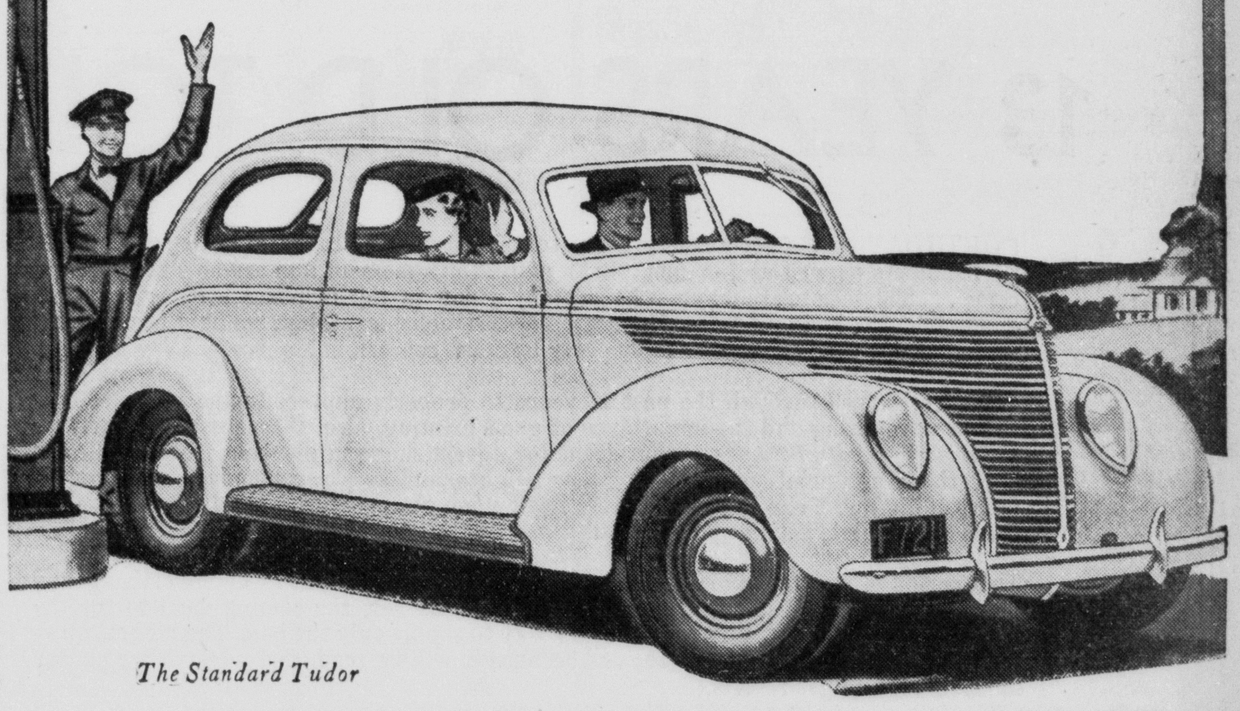
When you buy an "8" to save money IT'S NEWS!



The Standard Tudor

FOR YEARS, only the biggest, most costly cars had 8-cylinder engines. When the Ford V-8 engine was first introduced, people welcomed the finer performance that 8 cylinders provided, but kept their fingers crossed on economy. It somehow seemed as if 8 cylinders had to use more gasoline.

But the news spread that Ford V-8 cars were giving just as good gas mileage as cars that did not offer 8-cylinder advantages. Good design, not number of cylinders, determined economy. By last year, four million people had stepped up to the 85-horsepower V-8 class. Then the slightly smaller 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was introduced.

Reports soon rolled in from owners averaging 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. More than any Ford car had ever given! A new standard of economy—a low price—and the smoothness of 8 cylinders! That was NEWS!

America bought 300,000 Ford V-8 "60s" the first year and is still buying. If you'd like to know why—if you'd like to save money all ways—see and drive the 1938 version of this thrifty, modern car.

13 YEARS OLD TODAY!...

BIRTHDAYS are a good time to take stock of one's self. That goes for printing establishments as well as for men. Let's pause for a moment and see how far we have come... Thirteen years may not be so many years in the printing business, and we don't claim the honor of being Monroe's oldest establishment, but, we have consistently served at one time or another most every business concern in Monroe.

We have learned through the past 13 years to properly appreciate the value of consistent advertising and the importance of good printing, also, the necessity of getting the most in return for every dollar spent for advertising and printing. The quality of advertising and printing is reaching new heights, and as a result only advertising of outstanding merit can hope to impress itself upon the prospect's mind with sufficient force to stimulate action and get results.

This period of greater appreciation and discrimination in matters of advertising and printing has found us well prepared. Long ago, we saw the coming demand for the best and have qualified ourselves in every way to supply only the best. The highest quality printing is less expensive in the end because it will be read, and advertising matter must be read to get results.

There was a time, and not so very long ago either, when the average buyer of printing was not discriminative or choosy. If the matter could be read or the paper written upon, the work was acceptable. Price was always the paramount consideration with this class of buyer. But times have changed.

Today, even the man in the street and lady in the home are keenly alive to the difference between the good and the not so good in printing as in everything else, and they are influenced as much by the quality of a piece of advertising literature as by the selling talk it carries. Advertisers and others of discriminating tastes have learned that our printing creates the kind of impression on the prospect that helps them sell their goods.

If you are satisfied with cheap, sloppy printing, we cannot give it to you—not at any price. We have a reputation to sustain, a reputation built up by over thirteen years of unceasing effort to be just a little in advance of all other printers in this community in the production of quality work. We keep modern by always being among the first—if not the very first—to put into our shop the best.

We desire the confidence, as well as the patronage of the buyers of printing in this community, and shall endeavor to secure both by strict adherence to ethical business principles. We do not "shoot low" on one order and high on the next one, or charge one price to one person and another price to someone else, with the hope that the general average may prove satisfactory.

We firmly believe that in the celebration of our 13 birthdays we have contributed to the growth and development of the cities of Monroe and West Monroe and Ouachita Parish. We are proud of our accomplishments and thank our many friends and customers for their interest shown in our behalf.

SLAYERS' TRAIL BELIEVED FOUND

was abandoned in Mexico, and that the two suspects parted company at Del Rio to continue in separate directions.

Texas Ranger Pete Crawford telephoned Fox from Del Rio that four residents there had seen the blonde and her companion about a week ago, and reported to him they appeared to be cruising around as though waiting for some one.

One of the witnesses was an agent for the Texas liquor control board, one was the city clerk, and one a barber.

They were quoted by Crawford as saying the car had a white triangle on the door, which tied in with statements made by witnesses near Van Horn, Tex., that the Frome Packard was followed by a dark car with "white lettering" on the door.

Fox said a search was already started at Del Rio and at San Antonio, and would be pushed into Mexico.

"I feel certain the machine, which probably was driven into Mexico, is the murder car," Sheriff Fox said, "since witnesses mention the triangle, printing and Texas and New Mexico license plates being on it."

Deputy Sheriff C. W. Taylor of Sonora telephoned Fox that a blonde woman, answering the description of the one seen at Del Rio abandoned an automobile there yesterday under suspicious circumstances.

He said the car was a black Ford coach bearing California license plates. Sonora is 94 miles north of Del Rio.

"She said she didn't have time to wait for a repair to be made to the motor," Taylor reported. "One of the mechanics noticed a pistol lying on the floor of the car.

"The woman took it out and put it in her handbag. She removed four good pieces of luggage and hurried off to a bus depot, where she bought a ticket for San Antonio. While she was waiting for the bus, depot employes noticed she was extremely nervous and closely watched the baggage. She left on the San Antonio bus after telling several persons she was going to Florida."

Fox said the man and woman may have agreed to meet at San Antonio.

Posses left Del Rio and Sonora simultaneously to search the highway between the two towns on the chance the woman may have abandoned some of the luggage en route. Other searchers started from Balmorhea and Del Rio to search highway 90.

San Antonio police were asked to check bus stations and hotels for the woman.

Today's findings placed the killers' car east of Kent for the first time.

"It looks like the first real break of the case," Sheriff Fox commented as he marshalled his forces to take up the search with renewed vigor.

Ownership of the car abandoned in Sonora is being checked through the department of motor vehicle registration in Austin.

ADMITS KIDNAP THREAT

GULFPORT, Miss., April 9.—(AP)—A man listed as Melvin Paul Johnson pleaded guilty today to a charge he threatened to harm Mrs. Irma Fahey, Bay St. Louis undertaker's wife, or kidnap one of her children unless she paid him $50. United States Commissioner J. W. Savage ordered Johnson held for the federal grand jury under $1,500 bond. Officers said Johnson was arrested last night when he appeared for a reply to his threatening letter.

FLUSH KIDNEYS OF POISONS AND STOP GETTING UP NIGHTS

Live A Healthier, Happier Longer Life

Thousands of men and women wonder why backache bothers them—why they have to visit the bathroom often at night—why flow is scanty and sometimes smarts and burns.

Any one of these symptoms means that your kidneys and bladder need attention now before these minor symptoms develop into serious trouble.

To flush out waste poisons and acid from kidneys, soothe your irritated bladder and put healthy activity into them, get a 35-cent package of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Capsules and take as directed.

This harmless, tried and true medicine always works—you'll feel better in a few days, as the supremely effective diuretic and kidney stimulant drives excess uric acid from the body which is often the aggravation of joint agony, sciatica and neuritis.

But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland. All good things are imitated.

ilies were moved from flooded lowland areas. Hundreds of others doubtless moved out in smaller numbers from scattered communities, particularly in Alabama and Mississippi.

Three flood deaths were reported, one each at Birmingham and Selma, Ala., and one at Meridian, Miss. In all three cases, men lost their lives when they fell into flooded ditches or pits. A tornado at Aliceville, Ala., killed 13 Thursday.

The first estimate of damage in any one town came from Mayor L. N. Gillespie of Prattville, a textile town in Alabama which was inundated yesterday. He said loss would run from $75,000 to $100,000. The town was flooded by Autauga creek, which had receded almost to normal today, leaving a scum of mud and debris.

The flood also receded at Wetumpka, like Prattville a town of about 2,500, but still was high enough to submerge low-lying residential areas. The Coosa river fell at Wetumpka during the night, but began rising again today.

Coast guardsmen toiled throughout last night to remove marooned families in Selma, Ala., and 200 laborers built a barricade around the waterworks plant of Montgomery, the state's capital, where the flood crisis is expected late Sunday.

ONE DEAD, 1,000 IN MISSISSIPPI HOMELESS

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 9.—(AP)—One man was dead and more than 1,000 others homeless tonight in the southeast Mississippi flood area.

The first victim reported was J. B. Pace, 38, of Bailey, who was found dead by drowning in a ditch near his home in the Meridian area.

Several hundred refugees began to return to their lowland homes today but others were still being forced out south of Meridian near Hattiesburg and Laurel.

J. C. Field, relief chairman here said he expected about 1,000 flood sufferers by tonight. They are fleeing principally from the area between the Hattiesburg business district and the Leaf river.

Three hundred refugees at Meridian were going back home as the rain-swollen Okatibee and Sowashee creeks and Chunky and Chickasawhay rivers receded there. Traffic was resumed on most highways but the Mobile and Ohio railroad had to detour its trains south of Meridian.

Meanwhile, the unseasonable cold wave continued with freezing temperatures forecast for all except the southern portions of Louisiana and Mississippi tonight or tomorrow morning.

WINTER RELAXES ITS GRIP RELUCTANTLY

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—Floods drove hundreds from southern river basins today while winter reluctantly relaxed its grip on the rest of the country.

In the deep south, the Coosa, Alabama and other central Alabama rivers surged toward predicted record crests while coastguardsmen and other rescuers raced to aid endangered households.

Freezing weather in some sections of Dixie threatened to add to suffering and blast young crops.

Warmer weather cut into the snow blanket that stretched northeast from the Texas panhandle to the upper Atlantic coast.

Red Cross reports at the end of the first nine days of a usually mild month showed a toll of 82 killed, 612 injured and 109 homes destroyed by sporadic tornadoes and floods which swept south and central United States between March 28 and April 7.

Unofficial reports indicated 44 of those deaths had occurred within the last three days.

National headquarters of the Red Cross announced it would maintain twenty-four hour office service to send aid wherever it might be needed. However, the weather bureau predicted warmer weather tomorrow for much of the middle west and eastern seaboard.

RED RIVER BANKS REPORTED CAVING

SHREVEPORT, La., April 9.—(AP)—caving banks were reported at several points along the Red river in Louisiana today as the stream rose near and above flood stage in some Arkansas areas.

Cave-ins were reported a mile and a half north of here, at Honore Point in Bossier parish and one and a half miles south of Colfax in Grant parish.

There was no immediate danger but observers said levees were imperiled.

The river fell 4 of a foot at Shreveport overnight but rose .7 of a foot at Fulton, Ark., where the stage was 27.4 feet, 2.4 feet above flood stage. Index, Ark., had a rise of 2.7 feet to 21.3 feet, or 3.7 feet below flood stage.

RAIN DAMAGES CROPS

FERRIDAY, La., April 9.—(Special)—This section of north Louisiana was visited Thursday and Friday by a terrific downpour, causing damage to growing crops and gardens, as well as slowing up all highway traffic.

PLEBISCITE IN AUSTRIA TODAY

will vote on Austro-German union, effected after German troops marched into Austria March 12, and the new reichstag of the Greater Germany.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m., to 5 p.m.

Nothing in the 1,900 years of Austria's recorded history stood as an equal to the demonstrations with which the Nazis made their last bid for favor in the plebiscite.

Golden eagles looked down from 120-feet high pylons at intervals along Vienna's main avenue. Miles of flags fluttered. Every store—even in the Jewish districts—every bus and street car, truck and automobile displayed Adolf Hitler's picture, red-white-and-black Nazi banners and slogans.

Crowds possessed the streets from daybreak, long before the Fuehrer arrived by special train at 11 a.m., reviewed his honor guard and rode through shrilly shouting crowds to receive formal welcome at the city hall.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels proclaimed today "the day of the greater German Reich." He ordered a two-minute silence to memorialize Nazi dead. During it no vehicle or person moved.

Similarly in Berlin, marching, singing and blaring bands spread the festivity at noon on the command, "raise flags," broadcast from the Vienna city hall.

Throughout the world, Germans in foreign countries have been boarding German ships for the past week to cast their ballots.

Among the 50,000,000, from whom the Nazis expect an overwhelming endorsement of Austro-German union, will be tens of thousands who have streamed into Greater Germany from nearby foreign countries.

Even the lame, the halt and the blind will vote. The German Red Cross and municipal hospitals in all cities will provide ambulances for the bed-ridden.

Jews cannot vote, since they are not considered citizens.

All voters must be checked against the registration lists, which are estimated to contain 50,000,000 names in Greater Germany out of a population of 75,000,000. Hitler already has said, "when I cast my ballot I will have behind me an army of 50,000,000—the greatest in the world."

DALADIER SEEKS DECREE POWERS

palace at noon tomorrow, with or without socialist support.

He will ask parliament later to give him decree powers for six months.

Many Frenchmen heaved a sigh of relief, confident that the man who won the confidence of France's armed forces and made a dramatic comeback since February, 1934, when riots wrecked his last government, would be capable of keeping order.

His immediate problem tomorrow will be to enforce the ban on Paris leftist demonstrations and get 60,000 strikers back to work before their movement spreads.

Workers of the famed "Red Ring" of the capital's Socialist and Communist districts were called by their leaders to march on the boulevards tomorrow under the Red flag.

The demonstration was to be a mass protest against "the old men of the senate" who won their bitter duel with Socialist Blum and wrecked his government yesterday.

UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS TAX OUT

enue to the government, because higher interest would have to be paid on federal issues.

Informed tax authorities said the Borah proposal probably would be stricken out by the conference committee.

The senate rejected the often-offered proposals of Senator LaFollette, Progressive, Wisconsin, to broaden the income tax base and increase surtax rates on individual incomes.

The base broadening proposal, which would have cut exemptions from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons and from $1,000 to $800 for single individuals, was killed on an oral vote.

The tally against higher surtaxes was 44 to 33.

Earlier, the chamber killed, 53 to 24, a proposal by Senator Pope, Democrat, Idaho, to raise $212,000,000 annually for additional farm benefits through the imposition of processing taxes on field corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco, rice and synthetic fibers.

Pope and Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, argued that this revenue should be added to the $800,000,000 now available for farm benefits, else agriculture purchasing power would fall far below that of industrial workers.

Sponsors of the senate bill were reluctant to predict the outcome of the senate-house committee conference, but some said the house action in pigeonholing the government reorganization measure had strengthened chances for enactment of the senate version.

As passed by the house, the tax measure imposed rates ranging from 16 to 20 per cent on the income of corporations with more than $25,000 annual income. The senate committee substituted a flat 18 per cent rate on corporation income.

The senate also ripped out the house-approved capital gains tax, under which taxpayers would include varying percentages of long term capital gains in their ordinary income to be taxed at applicable normal and surtax rates.

CITY ATTORNEY AT NEW ORLEANS DIES

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—City Attorney Edward M. Robbert, 57 years old, died suddenly today of a heart attack.

He had served as assistant city attorney from 1926 until 1934 and in May of the latter year was given the position he held until his death.

Born in this city, he was graduated from the University of Michigan after attending Tulane university. He had been a practicing attorney since 1907 and served in the legislature as senator.

Surviving are two brothers, Fred W. and Henry Robbert.

FU MANCHU WILL SLAP DICTATORS

called back that year to participate in the presidential election.

Fu began by backing Huey Long. The story didn't say Huey Long, but that was who it was. Long was going along fine in the story—thanks to Fu's wily machinations—when suddenly Long in real life was assassinated.

Not in all his quarter century of existence had Fu done the unclever thing, as Rohmer put it, and the unexpected tolerance of changed the whole course of the story right in the middle of it.

It turned out that Fu was only fooling; he hadn't really been backing Long at all.

Any number of things like that can happen when Fu takes up the pressure international problem, but Rohmer is hoping for the best. The best, for Fu, is the status quo.

Freezing weather in some sections of Dixie threatened to add to suffering and blast young crops.

Warmer weather cut into the snow blanket that stretched northeast from the Texas panhandle to the upper Atlantic coast.

Red Cross reports at the end of the first nine days of a usually mild month showed a toll of 82 killed, 612 injured and 109 homes destroyed by sporadic tornadoes and floods which swept south and central United States between March 28 and April 7.

Unofficial reports indicated 44 of those deaths had occurred within the last three days.

National headquarters of the Red Cross announced it would maintain twenty-four hour office service to send aid wherever it might be needed. However, the weather bureau predicted warmer weather tomorrow for much of the middle west and eastern seaboard.

RED RIVER BANKS REPORTED CAVING

SHREVEPORT, La., April 9.—(AP)—caving banks were reported at several points along the Red river in Louisiana today as the stream rose near and above flood stage in some Arkansas areas.

Cave-ins were reported a mile and a half north of here, at Honore Point in Bossier parish and one and a half miles south of Colfax in Grant parish.

There was no immediate danger but observers said levees were imperiled.

The river fell .4 of a foot at Shreveport overnight but rose .7 of a foot at Fulton, Ark., where the stage was 27.4 feet, 2.4 feet above flood stage. Index, Ark., had a rise of 2.7 feet to 21.3 feet, or 3.7 feet below flood stage.

RAIN DAMAGES CROPS

FERRIDAY, La., April 9.—(Special)—This section of north Louisiana was visited Thursday and Friday by a terrific downpour, causing damage to growing crops and gardens, as well as slowing up all highway traffic.

PLEBISCITE IN AUSTRIA TODAY

will vote on Austro-German union, effected after German troops marched into Austria March 12, and the new reichstag of the Greater Germany.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m., to 5 p.m.

Nothing in the 1,900 years of Austria's recorded history stood as an equal to the demonstrations with which the Nazis made their last bid for favor in the plebiscite.

Golden eagles looked down from 120-feet high pylons at intervals along Vienna's main avenue. Miles of flags fluttered. Every store—even in the Jewish districts—every bus and street car, truck and automobile displayed Adolf Hitler's picture, red-white-and-black Nazi banners and slogans.

Crowds possessed the streets from daybreak, long before the Fuehrer arrived by special train at 11 a.m., reviewed his honor guard and rode through shrilly shouting crowds to receive formal welcome at the city hall.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels proclaimed today "the day of the greater German Reich." He ordered a two-minute silence to memorialize Nazi dead. During it no vehicle or person moved.

Similarly in Berlin, marching, singing and blaring bands spread the festivity at noon on the command, "raise flags," broadcast from the Vienna city hall.

Throughout the world, Germans in foreign countries have been boarding German ships for the past week to cast their ballots.

Among the 50,000,000, from whom the Nazis expect an overwhelming endorsement of Austro-German union, will be tens of thousands who have streamed into Greater Germany from nearby foreign countries.

Even the lame, the halt and the blind will vote. The German Red Cross and municipal hospitals in all cities will provide ambulances for the bed-ridden.

Jews cannot vote, since they are not considered citizens.

All voters must be checked against the registration lists, which are estimated to contain 50,000,000 names in Greater Germany out of a population of 75,000,000. Hitler already has said, "when I cast my ballot I will have behind me an army of 50,000,000—the greatest in the world."

DALADIER SEEKS DECREE POWERS

palace at noon tomorrow, with or without socialist support.

He will ask parliament later to give him decree powers for six months.

Many Frenchmen heaved a sigh of relief, confident that the man who won the confidence of France's armed forces and made a dramatic comeback since February, 1934, when riots wrecked his last government, would be capable of keeping order.

His immediate problem tomorrow will be to enforce the ban on Paris leftist demonstrations and get 60,000 strikers back to work before their movement spreads.

Workers of the famed "Red Ring" of the capital's Socialist and Communist districts were called by their leaders to march on the boulevards tomorrow under the Red flag.

The demonstration was to be a mass protest against "the old men of the senate" who won their bitter duel with Socialist Blum and wrecked his government yesterday.

UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS TAX OUT

enue to the government, because higher interest would have to be paid on federal issues.

Informed tax authorities said the Borah proposal probably would be stricken out by the conference committee.

The senate rejected the often-offered proposals of Senator LaFollette, Progressive, Wisconsin, to broaden the income tax base and increase surtax rates on individual incomes.

The base broadening proposal, which would have cut exemptions from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons and from $1,000 to $800 for single individuals, was killed on an oral vote.

The tally against higher surtaxes was 44 to 33.

Earlier, the chamber killed, 53 to 24, a proposal by Senator Pope, Democrat, Idaho, to raise $212,000,000 annually for additional farm benefits through the imposition of processing taxes on field corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco, rice and synthetic fibers.

Pope and Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, argued that this revenue should be added to the $500,000,000 now available for farm benefits, else agriculture purchasing power would fall far below that of industrial workers.

Sponsors of the senate bill were reluctant to predict the outcome of the senate-house committee conference, but some said the house action in pigeonholing the government reorganization measure had strengthened chances for enactment of the senate version.

As passed by the house, the tax measure imposed rates ranging from 16 to 20 per cent on the income of corporations with more than $25,000 annual income. The senate committee substituted a flat 18 per cent rate on corporation income.

The senate also ripped out the house-approved capital gains tax, under which taxpayers would include varying percentages of long term capital gains in their ordinary income to be taxed at applicable normal and surtax rates.

CITY ATTORNEY AT NEW ORLEANS DIES

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—City Attorney Edward M. Robbert, 57 years old, died suddenly today of a heart attack.

He had served as assistant city attorney from 1926 until 1934 and in May of the latter year was given the position he held until his death.

Born in this city, he was graduated from the University of Michigan after attending Tulane university. He had been a practicing attorney since 1907 and served in the legislature as senator.

Surviving are two brothers, Fred W. and Henry Robbert.

called back that year to participate in the presidential election.

Fu began by backing Huey Long. The story didn't say Huey Long, but that was who it was. Long was going along fine in the story—thanks to Fu's wily machinations—when suddenly Long in real life was assassinated.

Not in all his quarter century of existence had Fu done the unclever thing, so Rohmer got New York on the transatlantic telephone and changed the whole course of the story right in the middle of it.

It turned out that Fu was only fooling; he hadn't really been backing Long at all.

Any number of things like that can happen when Fu takes up the present international problem, but Rohmer is hoping for the best. The best, for Fu, is the status quo.

Tsinan Is Taken Of Carrying New Offense To Base Of Japanese Operations

SHANGHAI, April 10 (Sunday).—(AP)—Chinese declared today they had made a large-scale assault on Tsinan, Japanese-held capital of Shantung province, carrying their new offensive to the very base of Japanese operations on the central front.

Official reports said a Chinese force stormed the gates of the walled city and occupied positions on three sides.

With the rout of Japanese forces at Taierhchwang, on the Grand canal northeast of Suchow, Chinese said Japanese supply lines in the Lunghai corridor had been wiped out.

Tsinan is 175 miles north of Suchow on the Tientsin-Pukow railroad, along which the Japanese had been thrusting south for weeks toward the vital east-west Lunghai railway.

today had won one of their first victories in a week of hard battling.

Government troops, massed in coastal ravines and ridges, took the village of La Gralla in the Turmell foothills only to lose it again at nightfall.

Despite bitter government resistance, insurgent infantrymen, aided by bombing squadrons and fighting planes which strafed the defenders, conquered the whole of the Turmell mountain range, north of San Mateo.

The government line for defense of the highway chain between Valencia and Barcelona, the main government seaboard strongholds, stretches southwest from near Tortosa to near San Mateo de las Fuentes.

In the Tortosa region, the insurgents are about nine miles from the sea while at the southern tip of the line the distance is about 13 miles.

Bombed and strafed incessantly and raked by artillery fire, the government's troops clung to their positions. In many places they held ravines, ready to strike out any insurgent infantry advance.

The government reported, however, its offensive in Caceres province, southwest of Madrid, was being carried forward toward the Portuguese frontier, across Spain from the northeastern fighting.

QUINTS PRESENT SERIOUS PROBLEM

associate with other children in the next few years or whether they should be trained in the seclusion of their closely guarded nursery. Child experts have said and still say a lot for both sides of the question.

The grade school where the older Dionne children are getting their elementary education is in Corbeil, two and a half miles from the nursery. Attendance there would bring pressing problems upon the guardians.

They regard it as doubtful, for one thing, that interest in the quints will ever diminish to a point where they can appear in public without attracting attention.

Then there is their safety to be considered—a kidnaping plot was rumored in the first year of their life.

On the other hand, some child experts deem it necessary that the Dionne girls have normal companionship to ensure their normal development.

With this in mind, it has been suggested that the other Dionne children and several more selected from the neighborhood might form a class at the nursery.

This plan would bring the Dionne children together, meeting one point in protests against the guardianship which keeps Annette, Yvonne, Cecile, Emilie and Marie from living with their family.

The family, including a baby born April 4 and Oliva, Jr., born July 9, 1936, still occupy the old farmhouse where the quints were born.

They are together only when the other children are permitted to visit the nursery.

similar freight movements in the north and east and they contend there is no justification for low northern rates solely on the basis of "traffic density." The differential between south and north tariffs is blamed for retarding expansion of industry in Dixie.

New England governors have formed their own rate committee to combat their fellow chief executives in the south. They have described this rate case as an effort of the south to gain unfair industrial advantages.

Several southern governors, headed by Bibb Graves of Alabama, will appear at the hearing to state their case, and the established industrialists of New England and the sponsors of southern industrial growth will follow closely these proceedings involving government rail rate-making principles that vitally affect the economics of all the country east of the Mississippi.

The hearing officially is on a complaint by the state of Alabama et al against the New York Central Railroad company et al.

Joined with Alabama are the states of Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, whose governors constitute the southern freight rate conference.

The suit, to be heard by Interstate Commerce Commissioner William E. Lee, embraces an effort by the southerners to gain "parity" of rates from south to north with rates between points in the "official" territory (that section east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers).

Major commodities involved include natural building stone and marble, stoves and ranges, furnaces and other heavy products. Textiles are not a part, being taken up in a separate case.

nominee, but should none receive more than half of the total votes cast, the two candidates receiving the least number of votes will be eliminated and the two receiving the highest number of votes will enter a runoff primary on May 17.

In the aldermanic race, each voter is to cast his ballot for five. To vote for more or less will spoil the ballot so far as this race is concerned. Candidates who receive more than half the total vote cast in the primary will be nominated. Should none receive this vote, the six candidates receiving the lowest number of votes will be eliminated and the 10 highest candidates will enter the runoff primary on May 17, when the five high men will be declared nominated. This is in accordance with an opinion that was given recently by the attorney general at the instance of the West Monroe Democratic city committee.

Voting Tuesday will be held at eight precincts, as follows:

Precinct No. 1—City hall; 507 registered voters.

Precinct No. 2—Wood Laundry; 499 registered voters.

Precinct No. 3—Haile's Grocery; 244 registered voters.

Precinct No. 6—Colson Grocery; 289 registered voters.

Precinct No. 7—Younse Service Station; 257 registered voters.

Precinct No. 9—C. C. Bell's garage; 412 registered voters.

Precinct No. 10—S. W. Freeman Store; 176 registered voters.

FEVERISH STOCK MART DEVELOPS

ing at the opening. Orders hit a market rather bare of offerings and prices of many shares jumped $2 to $5 or more on initial blocks of 1,000 to 6,000 shares.

Brokers, forced to curtail expenses as trading shrank in recent months to the smallest volume in three years, saw the biggest run of Saturday business since October 23, at the tail of the destructive autumn selling wave in speculative markets.

In two hours of trading, 1,414,480 shares changed hands on the busy "big board" compared with 828,290 in the full five-hour session yesterday and only 330,350 Thursday.

The buying sweep embraced bonds, too. Railroad obligations, badly depressed in March, scored one of the sharpest advances in recent months. Contributing to the demand, bond men said, was anticipation of the rail message President Roosevelt is expected to send to congress early next week.

Most commodities also were up moderately.

United States Steel, General Motors, General Electric, International Harvester, Standard Oil of New Jersey and other key industrial stocks were taken in sizable blocks at advances of $2 to around $5 a share over Friday's close. Eastman Kodak, less active, jumped nearly $7.

The Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks rose $2.10 to $39.90, the largest gain since November 10. At the close it had regained more than half the decline in March, when listed share values on the stock exchange fell nearly $10,000,000,000, according to the exchange's figures, to the lowest average prices in five years.

Actually, analysts pointed out, the reorganization measure had little direct financial implications. But it had been widely criticized in business and financial places.

Of more concern to Wall Street, brokers said, was the downside of the house vote in reflecting a change in the political tides.

Many Wall Streeters saw in the vote a hint the house would accept in essentials the senate version of the revised tax bill, eliminating the surplus profits tax and modifying the capital gains levy.

TUGBOAT SINKS IN LAKE PONTCHARTRAIN

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—The tugboat Boaz, owned by Charles G. Leverette, 41, Franklin, La., sank in Lake Pontchartrain near the Shushan airport today but another vessel rescued Leverette and the crew of four men.

Leverette said he fought a losing battle halfway across the lake from the Rigolets, with the forward compartment full of water.

The men aboard hung from the mast and pilot house until the tug Uncle Dave of the Canulet Shipbuilding company, Slidell, La., took them off.

The mother, Mrs. A. J. Dunn, 37, of St. Landry, died.

The infant was delivered a month prematurely, physicians said, breathed normally and was given a chance to live. The baby, weighing four pounds and two ounces, was placed in an incubator.

Mr. Dunn, the father, is a WPA worker. He named the infant "Charity" after the hospital.

Doctors said the mother was believed to have died from a tumor on the brain.

OFFICIATE AT STATE NORMAL SPORTS EVENT

These co-ed majors in the physical education department at the Louisiana State Normal college at Natchitoches officiated in the fourth annual Sports' day activities for high school girls Saturday. More than 300 prep school girls from 30 schools in north and central Louisiana attended the one-day meet on the state teachers' college campus. The co-ed representatives of women's sports at the college were, standing, left to right: Dorothy Braud, LaRose; Cecile Pou, Shreveport; Rookh Caskey, Bienville; Rosemary Boudreaux, Napoleonville; Martha DePrato, Ferriday; Sarah Afeman, Morrow; Margaret Smith, Coushatta; Gussie Short, Winnsboro; Elizabeth Boone, Winnfield; Lucille Carpenter, Franklin. Sitting: Mary Ida Aycock, Franklin; Valeene Kelley, Natchitoches; Isabel Williams, Natchitoches; and Melba Bernard, Iota.

QUINTS PRESENT SERIOUS PROBLEM

associate with other children in the next few years or whether they should be trained in the seclusion of their closely guarded nursery. Child experts have said and still say a lot for both sides of the question.

The grade school where the older Dionne children are getting their elementary education is in Corbeil, two and a half miles from the nursery. Attendance there would bring pressing problems upon the guardians.

They regard it as doubtful, for one thing, that interest in the quints will ever diminish to a point where they can appear in public without attracting attention.

Then there is their safety to be considered—a kidnaping plot was rumored in the first year of their life.

On the other hand, some child experts deem it necessary that the Dionne girls have normal companionship to ensure their normal development.

With this in mind, it has been suggested that the other Dionne children and several more selected from the neighborhood might form a class at the nursery.

This plan would bring the Dionne children together, meeting one point in protests against the guardianship which keeps Annette, Yvonne, Cecile, Emilie and Marie from living with their family.

The family, including a baby born April 4 and Oliva, Jr., born July 9, 1936, still occupy the old farmhouse where the quints were born.

They are together only when the other children are permitted to visit the nursery.

FREIGHT HEARING TO OPEN MONDAY

similar freight movements in the north and east and they contend there is no justification for low northern rates solely on the basis of "traffic density." The differential between south and north tariffs is blamed for retarding expansion of industry in Dixie.

New England governors have formed their own rate committee to combat their fellow chief executives in the south. They have described this rate case as an effort of the south to gain unfair industrial advantages.

Several southern governors, headed by Bibb Graves of Alabama, will appear at the hearing to state their case, and the established industrialists of New England and the sponsors of southern industrial growth will follow closely these proceedings involving government rail rate-making principles that vitally affect the economics of all the country east of the Mississippi.

The hearing officially is on a complaint by the state of Alabama et al against the New York Central Railroad company et al.

Joined with Alabama are the states of Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, whose governors constitute the southern freight rate conference.

The suit, to be heard by Interstate Commerce Commissioner William E. Lee, embraces an effort by the southerners to gain "parity" of rates from south to north with rates between points in the "official" territory (that section east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers).

Major commodities involved include natural building stone and marble, stoves and ranges, furnaces and other heavy products. Textiles are not a part, being taken up in a separate case.

WEST MONROE TO VOTE ON TUESDAY

nominee, but should none receive more than half of the total votes cast, the two candidates receiving the least number of votes will be eliminated and the two receiving the highest number of votes will enter a runoff primary on May 17.

In the aldermanic race, each voter is to cast his ballot for five. To vote for more or less will spoil the ballot so far as this race is concerned. Candidates who receive more than half the total vote cast in the primary will be nominated. Should none receive this vote, the six candidates receiving the lowest number of votes will be eliminated and the 10 highest candidates will enter the runoff primary on May 17, when the five high men will be declared nominated. This is in accordance with an opinion that was given recently by the attorney general at the instance of the West Monroe Democratic city committee.

Voting Tuesday will be held at eight precincts, as follows:

Precinct No. 1—City hall; 507 registered voters.

Precinct No. 2—Wood Laundry; 499 registered voters.

Precinct No. 3—Haile's Grocery; 244 registered voters.

Precinct No. 6—Colson Grocery; 289 registered voters.

Precinct No. 7—Younse Service Station; 257 registered voters.

Precinct No. 9—C. C. Bell's garage; 412 registered voters.

Precinct No. 10—S. W. Freeman Store; 176 registered voters.

Precinct No. 11—Wheelis Service Station; 299 registered voters.

ing at the opening. Orders hit a market rather bare of offerings and prices of many shares jumped $2 to $5 or more on initial blocks of 1,000 to 6,000 shares.

Brokers, forced to curtail expenses as trading shrank in recent months to the smallest volume in three years, saw the biggest run of Saturday business since October 23, at the tail of the destructive autumn selling wave in speculative markets.

In two hours of trading, 1,414,480 shares changed hands on the busy "big board" compared with 828,290 in the full five-hour session yesterday and only 330,350 Thursday.

The buying sweep embraced bonds, too. Railroad obligations, badly depressed in March, scored one of the sharpest advances in recent months. Contributing to the demand, bond men said, was anticipation of the rail message President Roosevelt is expected to send to congress early next week.

Most commodities also were up moderately.

United States Steel, General Motors, General Electric, International Harvester, Standard Oil of New Jersey and other key industrial stocks were taken in sizable blocks at advances of $2 to around $5 a share over Friday's close. Eastman Kodak, less active, jumped nearly $7.

The Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks rose $2.10 to $39.90, the largest gain since November 10. At the close it had regained more than half the decline in March, when listed share values on the stock exchange fell nearly $10,000,000,000, according to the exchange's figures, to the lowest average prices in five years.

Actually, analysts pointed out, the reorganization measure had little direct financial implications. But it had been widely criticized in business and financial places.

Of more concern to Wall Street, brokers said, was the meaning of the house vote in reflecting a change in the political tides.

Many Wall Streeters saw in the vote a hint the house would accept in essentials the senate version of the revised tax bill, eliminating the surplus profits tax and modifying the capital gains levy.

TUGBOAT SINKS IN LAKE PONTCHARTRAIN

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—The tugboat Boaz, owned by Charles G. Leverette, 41, Franklin, La., sank in Lake Pontchartrain near the Shushan airport today but another vessel rescued Leverette and the crew of four men.

Leverette said he fought a losing battle halfway across the lake from the Rigolets, with the forward compartment full of water.

BABY TAKEN FROM BODY OF MOTHER

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—A baby girl was removed by operation from the body of her mother in Charity hospital here today 35 seconds after the mother, Mrs. A. J. Dunn, 27, of St. Landry, died.

The infant was delivered a month prematurely, physicians said, breathed normally and was given a chance to live. The baby, weighing four pounds and two ounces, was placed in an incubator.

Mr. Dunn, the father, is a WPA worker. He named the infant "Charity" after the hospital.

Doctors said the mother was believed to have died from a tumor on the brain.

YOU CAN DEPEND ON CHAMPIONS

For Better Engine Performance

WHEN YOUR CAR was delivered by your dealer, it was as dependable in speed, power, acceleration and economy, as careful, painstaking engineering could make it. If you service it regularly and check and clean spark plugs when you change oil, it will continue to maintain that dependability.

For maximum results, it is recommended that new Champion Spark Plugs be installed every 10,000 miles. The saving in gas and oil will soon pay their cost. Insist on Champions because you can depend on them to render better service over a longer period than any others. See your Champion Spark Plug dealer this week.

MONROE CLUB TO PLAY AT CROSSETT TODAY

SPORTS

GEORGE V. LOFTON, SPORTS EDITOR

MONROE, LOUISIANA, SUNDAY, APRIL 10, 1938

The PAYOFF

Emmett Joseph Mueller is a striking example of the type of baseball slavery practiced by the St. Louis Cardinals and other major league clubs, and frowned upon by Commissioner Landis. Mueller played second base here last Tuesday.

This particular brand of bondage sees Mueller, a grizzled veteran at 24, obtaining his first big league opportunity after nine years in the Cardinal chain gang.

"I'm glad I escaped," smiles the sawed-off Mueller, purchased from the Red Birds' Houston subsidiary by the Phillies, who take what is left after the outfits with far-flung farm systems have their pick.

"I knew Jimmy Wilson when I tended bats for the Cardinals, and he promises me every chance at second base. Thats more than the Cardinals ever gave me."

Mueller's case well illustrates how Breadon, Rickey and company grabs 'em young, before they know any better, sends them out for seasoning, and takes its good time about giving up on them.

Mueller was snatched from his algebra and physics at McBride High school of St. Louis by Bill DeWitt when he was 15. That was in 1928, when DeWitt, now vice-president and general manager of the Browns, was treasurer of the Cardinals.

Without A Guardian

Although Mueller had two years of high school left, Branch Rickey sent the kid to Danville of the Three-Eye in 1929, when he was 16, for the start of nine years of farm service. The boy moved from Danville to Scottdale, Pa., to St. Joseph; to Springfield, Mo., of the Western association; to Greensboro, N. C., of the Piedmont; back to Scottdale; back to Springfield, where he served two complete campaigns and part of another; and then to Houston, where he has been for three seasons.

Mueller, the rabbit-type of infielder, scarcely can be another Frank Frisch, judging by some of the more recent second base candidates of the Cardinals, but the Phillies purchased him after he had led the Texas league second basemen in fielding, participated in more double plays than any other athlete in that loop, accepted more chances, and topped the circuit in bases on balls. He batted .280 and drove in 72 runs in what long has been a pitchers' wheel.

Mueller had been a pitching and infielding phenomenon in St. Louis parochial school high school, and municipal leagues when the Cardinals lassoed him.

He stood only 5 feet 5 when he worked out with the Red Birds, and often was mistaken for Butch, the clubhouse boy. He is an inch taller now, and scales 167 pounds.

Not Like Old Heinie

Mueller, now variously known as Heinie, Dutch, Dutchman, and Krauthead, is no relation to the inimitable Heinie Mueller of some years back. The old Heinie now is the partner of Joe Tobin in a St. Louis florist shop. The old Heinie hailed from the Dutch settlement in south St. Louis. Emmett comes from the Irish district on the north side. He is of German-Irish extraction. His father, John J. Mueller, was chairman of last year's convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists.

Nor does this Heinie think like the old Heinie, whose idea of winning the late John McGraw's approbation was to stick his forehead smack dab in front of a shortstop or second baseman's throw to break up a double play.

The Heinie Mueller knows easier ways of breaking up double plays, and has shown Jimmy Wilson that he covers plenty of ground. He made two swell plays here.

Perhaps his shaking the Cardinal ball and chain has something to do with the latter.

TULANE NETTERS WALLOP ALABAMA BY 5-1 SCORE

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., April 9.—(AP)—The Tulane university tennis team registered a 5 to 1 victory over Alabama here this afternoon in a cold, biting wind.

Closer Race Predicted In American Loop This Year

TULANE BOASTS GOOD BALL NINE

Greenies Weren't Impressive Last Year But They Have Plenty Of Veterans

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—Although last year's team didn't create a sensation, Tulane's baseball squad, sprinkled liberally with veterans, has hopes of improving its standing this spring.

With two games lost to Minnesota, the Greenies are still in reverse gear but expect to snap out of it next Wednesday and Thursday, when they engage the Wildcats of Northwestern university.

Coach "Monk" Simons has 10 of last year's active squad back in his roster of 15 names this spring.

Two ex-footballers, who finished their grid careers last fall, are taking care of the catching duties. They are Bob Dexheimer and Norman Buckner, both of whom have had considerable baseball as a background. Buckner is one of the long-distance hitters of the squad while Dexheimer is consistent with singles and doubles.

"Dub" Mattis, another pigskin hero who has completed his halfbacking, is an ace pitcher while Al Montgomery of last year is another dependable hurler. Marshall Kopman, of less experience, and Walter Blessey, a sophomore, round out the pitching staff.

John Tiedeman at first, Norvin Oliver or George Manteris at second, Sid Blessey at shortstop and Don Overdyke at third form the infield. Tiedeman is a capable fielder while Blessey at short is probably one of the best in the conference.

Since the Minnesota games, Coach Simons pulled Overdyke from the outfield for the hot corner and sent Waltz Ott from that position to the outposts.

Bob Kellogg, Arthur Hammond, Bill Thompkins, Walter Friday and Elvio Lopez are the other outfielders.

The Greenies meet L. S. U. in four games the first week in May, Monday and Tuesday of that week at Baton Rouge, and Friday and Saturday at New Orleans.

DUBACH DEFEATS OUACHITA, 3 TO 1

K. Jones, Hurling For Plungers, Stops Lions In Close Ball Game

DUBACH, La., April 9.—(Special)—Ouachita Parish High school's baseball team suffered its first defeat in north Louisiana in three years Saturday when the Dubach Plungers stopped the Lions 3 to 1. The two teams are perhaps the best in this section year after year and usually the Lions win, but today the Plungers scored a well-earned victory by taking advantage of sloppy fielding by the Ouachita club.

K. Jones, Dubach pitching ace, allowed Ouachita only four hits and coasted along in impressive style behind faultless fielding. Ouachita, on the other hand, used four pitchers and they did well enough, giving up only two hits but the Lion infield was far from air-tight. Both Dubach hits were made off Edgar in the second inning and, coupled with a walk and two errors Dubach made two runs, enough to win the ball game right there. Dubach made its third and final run in the eighth when another walk and two more errors paved the way for the tally. The Ouachita errors and the pitchers' wildness led to the Lions' downfall.

Ouachita made their run, the only earned run of the game, in the fourth when Hinton singled and Blazier tripled to score him. Blazier's three-bagger was the only extra-base blow of the battle.

Coach Leo Hartman of Ouachita said he used four pitchers because the Lions had had no workout this week. Coach Hartman said no games were scheduled for next week but added that he was trying to book a few.

Score by innings:

Ouachita	000 100 000—1	4	3
Dubach	200 000 10x—3	2	0

Edgar, Kennedy, Fields, Hinton and Patterson; K. Jones and D. Colvin.

SUN EGRET WINNER OF BOWIE HANDICAP

BOWIE, Md., April 9.—(AP)—Sun Egret, small wiry chestnut colt from A. C. Compton's stable, thrilled 11,000 chilled fans with a hands-down victory today in the $3,500 Bowie spring handicap over a soupy track to establish himself as an outstanding candidate for the Kentucky Derby.

With never a falter in stride through the angle-deep mud, Compton's 3-year-old colt broke first in the mile and 70-yard feature and held the lead easily to splash home two and a half lengths ahead of Cleveland Putnam's Moon Side. W. L. Brann's Challephen was third.

Jockey Alfred Shelhamer, Sun Egret's regular pilot, did not use the whip at all, and rode through the back stretch looking back occasionally through brown spray kicked from puddles on the track. The time was one minute, 48 and 2-5 seconds, good for the slow track.

Sun Egret, odds-on favorite, paid $2.80, $2.60 and $2.50.

Sun Egret won easily here last Saturday, taking the six-furlong feature on a poor track. He is due to run Wednesday in the $5,000 Southern Maryland handicap, closing day feature at a mile and a sixteenth.

ARMSTRONG GOES TO SPA FOR REST

Dusky Feather Champ Who Meets Ross On May 26 Thinks He'll Win

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 9.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong, the dusky little world's featherweight champion, came to Hot Springs today "to get away from it all."

Scheduled for one of the most important fights of his young career—with Welterweight Champion Barney Ross May 26 at New York—Armstrong is seeking here some badly needed rest which he said he was unable to get in the big cities or at his home in Los Angeles.

Since January 1 1937, the 26-year-old negro fighter has been going at a rapid pace of better than a fight every two weeks. In that period he has amassed a total of 38 victories, all but two by the knockout route, and earnings of $125,000.

"In the big cities they always have something for you to do," he explained, "and if I went home it would be worse. So, I thought I'd come down here for the rest and take the baths. Both ought to do me a lot of good."

Armstrong plans to do no training here. He will leave around May 1 for Pompton Lakes, N. J., to begin working out for the Ross match. His manager, Eddie Mead, and a sparring partner accompanied the little champion to the Arkansas resort.

With reference to his match with Ross, Armstrong said "I thing I have a very fine chance to win. While Ross has some advantages there are others on my side."

Ross, Armstrong pointed out, isn't such a terrific punchet, but he's powerful. Then, too, he has been ordered down to 142 pounds by the New York Boxing commission for the Armstrong fight.

The negro fighter must come into the ring at 136 pounds in order that the difference in weights will not be too large.

"My fighting weight is around 133," Armstrong said "and if I have to get down under 136 to get in condition, I'll do it. Then if the boxing commission doesn't want the fight, they'll just have to call it off. I'm not going to be in poor shape just to make a certain weight."

He weighs 139 now.

ILLINOIS WESLEYAN TAKES ANNUAL TOUR

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 9.—(Special)—The Illinois Wesleyan university baseball squad left Friday for an 11-day spring training trip into the deep south.

This is the fourth annual southern training trip the Titans have taken under Coach H. Fred Parker. This year's journey will be of special educational value in that the club will spend four days in historic Pensacola, Fla., and one day in New Orleans, La.

The 11-day tour will take the Methodists through nine states, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri and Alabama.

Coming at the time of Easter recess the boys will miss but two days of school.

The schedule:

April 9: David Lipscomb college, Nashville, Tenn. (2). April 11: United States Naval Flying school, Pensacola, Fla. April 12: United States Naval Flying school, Pensacola, Fla. April 13: United States Naval Flying school, Pensacola, Fla. April 14: United States Naval Flying school, Pensacola, Fla. April 15: Southeastern Louisiana college, Hammond, La. April 16: Southeastern Louisiana college, Hammond, La. April 17: St. Louis university, St. Louis, Mo.

YANKEES APPEAR NOT AS STRONG AS LAST SEASON

Detroit And Cleveland Expected To Furnish Chief Opposition To Champs

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—Stormy weather, which has upset the semi-final week of training for big league ball clubs and cancelled a score of exhibition games, may be the tipoff on the forthcoming pennant races.

The world champion Yankees and their victims for the past two years, the Giants, probably will be the expert choices to win again, since past performances have an annual habit of being a decisive factor in prognostications. Yet the latest signs all point toward a double-barrelled struggle for both New York clubs and the possibility, for a change, that the American league will develop a more wide open race than the National.

The Yankees may explode the theory to bits, just as soon as they get the recalcitrant Joe DiMaggio back into the fold, but it is impossible now to escape the suspicion that the world champions are "riding for a fall." Certainly they give no outward indication of being in shape for the getaway.

Without DiMaggio, still scornful of the club's $25,000 salary offer, the Yankees do not resemble the same club that finished 13 games in front of the Tigers and 19 ahead of the Indians in 1937.

Detroit's power and the possibility of improved pitching, based on the addition of Vernon Kennedy and a comeback by Schoolboy Rowe, combine to make the Tigers a formidable contender.

For several reasons, Cleveland may be the sensation of the race. The Tribe has acquired fresh spirit under its new big chief, Oscar Vitt. Part of the infield problem seems to have been solved by the development of a rookie star at third base, Ken Keltner. Potentially, the pitching staff headed by Johnny Allen, Bob Feller and Mel Harder, is the best in the league. If Rollie (Bad Boy) Hemsley attends strictly to business behind the bat the Indians are sure to be on the warpath. They can win.

Bad luck caught up with the White Sox, just when it looked like Jimmy Dykes' outfit would go places. The loss of Shortstop Luke Appling with a broken ankle, following the trade of slugging Zeke Bonura for Joe Kuhel, robs the Chicagoans of their one-two punch. The condition of Monty Stratton's pitching arm is another source of worry.

Meantime the Giants seem better fortified than ever for anything their opposition can offer. The latest break in favor of the National league champions is the return of Clydell Castleman to the fold.

The Giants are strongest of all National league clubs "through the middle." They have the best catching combination in the league, in Danning and Mancuso; one of the best keystone pairs in baseball; and alternate sluggers in Hank Leiber and Wally Berger for the center field spot.

Chicago looks like the one club capable of upsetting the Giants. The Cubs have more power than the champions but do not look as strong defensively, or in the box.

No team with such an outstanding trio as Dizzy Dean, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize can be discounted but it remains to be seen whether the Cardinals develop pitching, catching and infield strength otherwise or sufficiently to become real contenders.

'FROZEN GLOVES' BOXING TOURNEY SLATED APRIL 14

KING ISLAND, Alaska, April 9.—(AP)—Father Bernard Hubbard, "Padre of the Glaciers," announced today the first annual "frozen gloves" amateur boxing tournament will open April 14.

The ring show, to last three days, will be a feature of Father Hubbard's drive to raise the health level of Eskimo children by physical culture rather than medicine.

Different Slants Listed In Five-Suit Poker Game

Fans Anticipate Wilder Game Under New Rules But Experts Are Satisfied

By William E. McKenney

NEW YORK, April 9.—So much has been printed and said about five-suit bridge that thousands of poker players want to adapt the new deck to their game.

It was only natural that America would not accept the royal suit. Card manufacturers will make a fifth suit, green in color, but the pips will be eagles. The suit will be known as the eagle suit.

Percentage figures show that this new suit will not make much change in poker. The value of a flush is stepped up, so as to beat a full house.

Possible hands in four-suit poker:

	Actual Number	Pct. Of Total
Royal flush	4	.00015
Straight flush	36	.0014
Four of a kind	624	.024
Full house	3,744	.144
Flush	5,108	.196
Straight	10,200	.39
Three of a kind	54,912	2.1
Two pair	123,552	4.8
One pair	1,098,240	42.2
Nothing	1,304,240	48.1
Total	2,598,960	100.

Possible hands in five-suit poker:

	Actual Number	Pct. Of Total
Royal eagle spread	5	.00006
Five of a kind	13	.00015
Straight flush	45	.00055
Four of a kind	3,900	.047

A royal flush was tops before. A royal eagle spread, which is a straight flush headed by the ace, is still the best hand in five-suit poker. In four-suit poker you will not be dealt anything better than a pair 92.3 per cent of the time. In five-suit poker you will not be dealt anything better than a pair 91.4 per cent of the time.

While the number of possible hands in five-suit poker is in excess of 8,000,000 a careful examination shows that 2,500,000 possible hands in four-suit poker carry almost identical percentage figures.

The one great advantage of five-suit poker is that there will be more cards in the deck, thereby allowing a larger number of players to participate at once. On many occasions it will not be necessary to shuffle discards.

America is likely to see a lot of wildness with this new eagle suit. Some poker fans like a wild and fast game and that was why "deuces wild," "one-eyed jacks," etc., were introduced.

Maybe some culprit will even suggest making the entire green suit wild; or in a milder form they may allow the substitution of the green suit for any other suit, thereby making it easier to get flushes.

I played five-suit poker with several fine players and statisticians.

Russell J. Baldwin, tournament director of the American Contract Bridge league and one of America's finest mathematicians, was in the game.

Phil Abramsohn, who rattles off the odds of dice or balances the book sheet of a horse race in less time than it takes to deal, also was in the game.

Baldwin and Abramsohn are convinced that the percentage changes in the new game are so slight that no difference from the original four-suit poker game will be noticed. Henry Chamn, another in the game, liked the idea of being able to draw to a new suit.

Baldwin's prediction is that we will see six-card poker. He claims that this will be a normal development due to the fact that in bridge we are dealt 13 cards, while in five-suit bridge each player receives three extra cards and there is the faced card in the middle.

Six-card poker presents an entirely new set of figures. The sixth card changes the possible number of hands to more than 82,000,000, but here is the nice thing about it. It is easier to hold a pair than not to hold one.

Only 30 per cent of the hands will be worthless and more than 21 per cent will hold better than a pair.

Here are the approximate possible hands in five-suit poker with six cards:

	Total No.	Pct. Of Total
Six-card royal eagle spread	5	.000005
Six-card straight flush	40	.00004
Five-card royal eagle spread	300	.0003
Five of a kind	780	.001
Five-card straight flush	2,660	.003
Four and two	7,880	.010
Three and three	7,800	.010
Six-card flush	8,540	.011
Three pair	28,600	.03
Four of a kind	115,150	14
Six-card straight	138,780	.17
Five-card flush	374,555	.46
Three and two	858,000	1.0
Five-card straight	1,730,215	2.1
Three of a kind	3,575,000	4.4
Two pair	10,615,000	12.9
One pair	40,218,750	48.9
Nothing	24,536,405	30.0
Total	82,598,880	100.

American poker players undoubtedly will develop a few hundred variations of their own with this fifth suit.

As soon as these variations and the game itself are standardized, the National Laws commission of card games will publish official rules.

WHITNEY FROWNS ON MATCH RACE

War Admiral-Seabiscuit Joust Said To Depend On Official's Approval

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—The proposed $100,000 match race between War Admiral and Seabiscuit apparently hung today on the decision of C. V. Whitney, vice-president of the Westchester Racing association.

Whitney, who has been on a fishing trip off the Bahamas, could not be reached for a statement, but the New York Sun said it had learned from associates close to Whitney that he is "unalterably opposed" to match races and "extravagant purses."

The Sun pointed out that since Whitney's family and that of the Vanderbilts own controlling stock in Belmont park, his voice is "almost certain" to decide the matter when it comes before the stockholders of the Westchester association, which operates the site of the proposed September meeting.

Joseph E. Widener, president of the association, already has approved the race, in principle, but said he did not want to make a definite announcement until he talked with Whitney.

Meanwhile, Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York State Racing commission, indicated he did not expect any trouble gaining Whitney's approval once he learns of the details.

"It's too big a thing for one man to kill," said Swope. "The race not only will settle the argument as to which is the better horse but also will boom racing in this state and the country as a whole."

The race would be at a mile and a quarter under weight-for-age conditions. Unless the owners decide otherwise, the duel will be a sweepstakes—winner take all.

STRAFACI DEFEATS DUNLAP FOR TITLE

PINEHURST, N. C., April 9.—(AP)—Frank Strafaci, a Brooklyn boy who once won the National Public Links golf championship, defeated George T. Dunlap, Jr., of Pinehurst today and became the 1938 North and South Amateur golf champion.

Strafaci turned in a 5 and 4 victory over the former National Amateur champion in the 36-hole final round. Dunlap, a veteran of Pinehurst courses and five times winner of the tournament, was the favorite.

Dunlap was beaten in the morning round when a big wind blew over the championship course, making it difficult to hold the ball on line. Under these conditions Strafaci was the better golfer. He played the round in 38-36—74.

Seven down at luncheon, Dunlap won the first and second holes in the afternoon with a par four and a birdie three.

The Brooklyn golfer took the next hole with a par four as Dunlap pushed his tee shot into a bunker, played his second beyond the green into the pine trees and could not get his third close.

Dunlap's hope vanished as Strafaci played the difficult par-five fourth in a birdie four to go seven up and the par-five fifth in another birdie four to go eight up. Dunlap was short in two at the fourth and bunkered with his second at the fifth.

From this point on there was no question as to the result.

NEVILLE NETTERS TROUNCE RUSTON

Tigers Score 13-3 Triumph Over Lincoln Parish High School Squad

Neville High school's tennis team overwhelmed Ruston High school representatives yesterday, 13 to 3.

The Tiger netters swept the boys' singles, boys' doubles, and mixed doubles, dropping only two girls' singles matches and one girls' doubles.

The Neville team will send four players to the Ruston tournament this week-end, it was announced yesterday. They are Harbert Marshall and John Hilburn, and Martha Marshall and Dorothy Stamets.

The summary of the Neville-Ruston meet:

Boys' singles:

Harbert Marshall, Neville, defeated Arlidge Land, 6-1, 6-3.

John Hilburn, Neville, defeated Billy Stodgill, 6-3, 6-2.

Dickie Touchstone, Neville, defeated Billy Baskin, 6-2, 6-3.

Bill Herrick, Neville, defeated James Gill, 6-1, 7-5.

Boys' doubles:

Marshall and Hilburn, Neville, defeated Land and Stodgill, 6-2, 6-3.

Touchstone and Herrick, Neville, defeated Baskin and Gill, 6-1, 6-4.

Girls' singles:

Mary Holt Barnes, Ruston, defeated Dorothy Stamets, 6-4, 2-6, 8-6.

Martha Marshall, Neville, defeated Elixir Lawler, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Annette Farmer, Ruston, defeated Anne Fulson, 6-1, 0-6, 7-5.

Emale Gattis, Neville, defeated Lucille Baker, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Girls' doubles:

Stamets and Marshall, Neville, defeated Barnes and Lawler, 6-2, 6-2.

Farmer and Baker, Ruston, defeated Fulson and Gattis, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Mixed doubles:

H. Marshall and Stamets, Neville, defeated Land and Barnes, 7-5, 6-2.

Hilburn and M. Marshall, Neville, defeated Stodgill and Lawler, 6-3, 6-1.

Burgess and Fulson, Neville, defeated Baskin and Farmer, 6-4, 6-2.

Herrick and Gattis, Neville, defeated Gill and Goyne, 12-10, 6-3.

In an exhibition, Charles Marks of Neville, beat John English, 6-1, 6-0.

TATTERDEMALION IS WINNER AT TROPICAL

CORAL GABLES, Fla., April 9.—(AP)—Thomas J. Healey's Tatterdemalion missed the track record by a full second when he won the $10,000 added Tropical Special today—but it was the only record that failed to fall as Florida ended its 96-day thoroughbred racing season.

Miami's two horse tracks, Hialeah park and Tropical park, enjoyed a record pari-mutuel play of $34,252,022, a record attendance of 822,458 and contributed a record state tax of $1,200,446.81.

An average crowd of 8,588 wagered $356.793 a day.

The total pari-mutuel increase was $4,426,858 over last season, when all previous records were established. Attendance showed a gain of 65,523, with the state receiving $113,865.44 more than it did last season.

A crowd estimated at 10,000 saw Tatterdemalion, a 5-year-old purchased last fall from C. V. Whitney, finish 2 1-2 lengths ahead of T. D. Buhl's Gyral in the mile and one-sixteenth closing feature at Tropical park.

With Jockey Eddie Arcaro up, Tatterdemalion stepped the route in 1:44, paid $10.80 for a $2 win ticket, and brought his owner $8,000.

Gyral, a 22-to-1 shot ridden by Kenneth McCombs, finished four lengths ahead of the Millsdale stable's entry and paid $18.50 to place. Infantry, with J. Lynch in the saddle, beat out the Darby Dan farm's Francesco by a nose for the show award, paying $5.

Mucho Gusto, favorite, finished a badly beaten eighth.

WHITE SOX MEET MILLERS' NINE IN EXHIBITION GAME

Griswold To Start For Local Club; Oklahoma City Sends Two Hurlers Here

The Monroe White Sox, far behind in their training schedule, will go to Crossett, Ark., today to meet the strong Crossett Millers, members of the Ouachita Valley league. It will be the second exhibition game of the season for the Monroe club, the Sox having opened their exhibition card against the Philadelphia Phillies last Tuesday.

Yesterday the Monroe pitchers and catchers reported for a bit of limbering up exercises, but that was the extent of the workout. The infielders and outfielders again were kept idle, with the diamond still too soft to permit a workout. The Sox now have had no work since last Tuesday, when they played the Phillies, and prior to that time they had been able to get in only about six days of active practice.

Manager "Red" Harvel said he would start "Greece" Griswold, chunky right-hander, against the Crossett club today. Griswold, who held the Phillies well in check last Tuesday during the four innings he hurled, will pitch three or four innings and then turn the hurling assignment over to Dan Jackson, another right-hander. Wildness cost Jackson the game with the Phils but ordinarily the youngster has excellent control and Manager Harvel hopes he will be in better shape today. The third pitcher will be Jim Smith or Dale Richardson. Both are right-handers. Smith pitched an inning against the Phils Tuesday but Richardson hasn't seen active duty yet. He was a member of the local staff last season.

It is probable that Harry Webb will see part time action either at second base or in left field. Webb has worked out only twice with the club.

The squad will leave here this morning at 10:30 o'clock in automobiles for Crossett. They will return immediately after the game.

The White Sox have a game scheduled with Hodge to be played at Hodge Wednesday and they play the Jackson Senators, George Brannon's Southeastern league entry, at Casino park next Friday.

Manager Harvel announced last night that Oklahoma City would send two promising pitchers here early this week. He said the hurlers had been with the Indians all spring and will be sent here on option. He said he did not know the names or the records of the two hurlers, but added that he expected them to report Monday.

Club officials gave out some good news for local youngsters. A Knot-Hole Gang will be organized and all boys under 16 years of age will be admitted free to all games except on Sundays, holidays and opening day, it was announced, if they belong to the Knot-Hole Gang. A coupon with which youngsters may apply for admission to the Gang is printed on today's sports page. Consent of a boy's parent or guardian must be accompanied by his application for membership.

There will be certain rules and regulations that Knot-Hole Gang members must obey, club officials said. The boys will sit together in a group and must not occupy any part of the grandstand other than that set aside for them. They will be given a card certifying to their membership and rules of the Gang will be printed thereon.

It is the first time that youngsters have been admitted free to all games here.

Manager Harvel said the team hopes to be able to resume heavy work Monday and continue throughout the week, except on Wednesday and Friday, when the Sox play Hodge and Jackson. Only 10 days remain until the season opens and the local squad is far from ready, Harvel said.

Several pitchers will be sent here from Dallas later in the week, club officials said yesterday. The Chicago White Sox reach Dallas today and will drop off several hurlers there. Dallas, in turn, will distribute their surplus pitchers to various farm clubs and Monroe is said to have the "inside track" on the best of those to be optioned out. It is rumored that Gicks and Dobernic, two outstanding hurlers in the Evangeline league last year who have been with the Chicago Sox all spring, will be dropped at Dallas Monday and one of them may be sent here. Both are considered certain major league pitchers within the next two years, it was said.

MONROE CLUB TO PLAY AT CROSSETT TODAY

The PAYOFF

Emmett Joseph Mueller is a striking example of the type of baseball slavery practiced by the St. Louis Cardinals and other major league clubs, and frowned upon by Commissioner Landis. Mueller played second base here last Tuesday.

This particular brand of bondage sees Mueller, a grizzled veteran at 24, obtaining his first big league opportunity after nine years in the Cardinal chain gang.

"I'm glad I escaped," smiles the sawed-off Mueller, purchased from the Red Birds' Houston subsidiary by the Phillies, who take what is left after the outfits with far-flung farm systems have their pick.

"I knew Jimmy Wilson when I tended bats for the Cardinals, and he promises me every chance at second base. Thats more than the Cardinals ever gave me."

Mueller's case well illustrates how Breadon, Rickey and company grabs 'em young, before they know any better, sends them out for seasoning, and takes its good time about giving up on them.

Mueller was snatched from his algebra and physics at McBride High school of St. Louis by Bill DeWitt when he was 15. That was in 1928, when DeWitt, now vice-president and general manager of the Browns, was treasurer of the Cardinals.

Without A Guardian

Although Mueller had two years of high school left, Branch Rickey sent the kid to Danville of the Three-Eye in 1929, when he was 16, for the start of nine years of farm service. The boy moved from Danville to Scottdale, Pa.; to St. Joseph; to Springfield, Mo., of the Western association; to Greensboro, N. C., of the Piedmont; back to Scottdale; back to Springfield, where he served two complete campaigns and part of another; and then to Houston, where he has been for three seasons.

Mueller, the rabbit-type of infielder, scarcely can be another Frank Frisch, judging by some of the more recent second base candidates of the Cardinals, but the Phillies purchased him after he had led the Texas league second basemen in fielding, participated in more double plays than any other athlete in that loop, accepted more chances, and topped the circuit in bases on balls. He batted .280 and drove in 72 runs in what long has been a pitchers' wheel.

Mueller had been a pitching and infielding phenomenon in St. Louis parochial school, high school, and municipal leagues when the Cardinals lassoed him.

He stood only 5 feet 5 when he worked out with the Red Birds, and often was mistaken for Butch, the clubhouse boy. He is an inch taller now, and scales 167 pounds.

Not Like Old Heinie

Mueller, now variously known as Heinie, Dutch, Dutchman, and Krauthead, is no relation to the inimitable Heinie Mueller of some years back. The old Heinie now is the partner of Joe Tobin in a St. Louis floral shop. The old Heinie hailed from the Dutch settlement in south St. Louis. Emmett comes from the Irish district on the north side. He is of German-Irish extraction. His father, John J. Mueller, was chairman of last year's convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists.

Nor does this Heinie think like the old Heinie, whose idea of winning the late John McGraw's approbation was to stick his forehead smack dab in front of a shortstop or second baseman's throw to break up a double play.

The Heinie Mueller knows easier ways of breaking up double plays, and has shown Jimmy Wilson that he covers plenty of ground. He made two swell plays here.

Perhaps his shaking the Cardinal ball and chain has something to do with the latter.

TULANE NETTERS WALLOP ALABAMA BY 5-1 SCORE

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., April 9.—(AP)—The Tulane university tennis team registered a 5 to 1 victory over Alabama here this afternoon in a cold, biting wind.

The results:

Singles—Westerfield (T) defeated Tworag 6-4, 6-2; Abrams (T) defeated Goodes 6-4, 6-2; Doyle (T) defeated Rubel 6-4, 6-3; Gentsch (A) defeated Cheng 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Doubles—Doyle and Abrams (T) defeated Tworag and Goodes 7-5, 0-6, 8-6; Westerfield and Cheng (T) defeated Drenen and Rubel 6-4, 6-2.

EVANGELINE LEAGUE TO START SCHEDULE TODAY

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 9.—(AP)—The Evangeline league's fifth season will open tomorrow.

Paired off are: Opelousas at Alexandria; Abbeville at Lake Charles; New Iberia at Jeanerette and Lafayette at Rayne.

Past winners were Lafayette, 1934; Jeanerette, 1935; Alexandria, 1936; and Opelousas, 1937.

TULANE BOASTS GOOD BALL NINE

Greenies Weren't Impressive Last Year But They Have Plenty Of Veterans

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—Although last year's team didn't create a sensation, Tulane's baseball squad, sprinkled liberally with veterans, has hopes of improving its standing this spring.

With two games lost to Minnesota, the Greenies are still in reverse gear but expect to snap out of it next Wednesday and Thursday, when they engage the Wildcats of Northwestern university.

Coach "Monk" Simons has 10 of last year's active squad back in his roster of 15 names this spring.

Two ex-footballers, who finished their grid careers last fall, are taking care of the catching duties. They are Bob Dexheimer and Norman Buckner, both of whom have had considerable baseball as a background. Buckner is one of the long-distance hitters of the squad while Dexheimer is consistent with singles and doubles.

"Dub" Mattis, another pigskin hero who has completed his halfbacking, is an ace pitcher while Al Montgomery of last year is another dependable hurler. Marshall Kopman, of less experience, and Walter Blessey, a sophomore, round out the pitching staff.

John Tiedeman at first, Norvin Oliver or George Manteris at second, Sid Blessey at shortstop and Don Overdyke at third form the infield. Tiedeman is a capable fielder while Blessey at short is probably one of the best in the conference.

Since the Minnesota games, Coach Simons pulled Overdyke from the outfield for the hot corner and sent Wiltz Ott from that position to the outposts.

Bob Kellogg, Arthur Hammond, Bill Thompkins, Walter Friday and Elvio Lopez are the other outfielders.

The Greenies meet L. S. U. in four games the first week in May, Monday and Tuesday of that week at Baton Rouge and Friday and Saturday at New Orleans.

DUBACH DEFEATS OUACHITA, 3 TO 1

K. Jones, Hurling For Plungers, Stops Lions In Close Ball Game

DUBACH, La., April 9.—(Special)—Ouachita Parish High school's baseball team suffered its first defeat in north Louisiana in three years Saturday when the Dubach Plungers stopped the Lions, 3 to 1. The two teams are perhaps the best in this section year after year and usually the Lions win, but today the Plungers scored a well-earned victory by taking advantage of sloppy fielding by the Ouachita club.

K. Jones, Dubach pitching ace, allowed Ouachita only four hits and coasted along in impressive style behind faultless fielding. Ouachita, on the other hand, used four pitchers and they did well enough, giving up only two hits but the Lion infield was far from air-tight. Both Dubach hits were made off Edgar in the second inning and, coupled with a walk and two errors Dubach made two runs, enough to win the ball game right there. Dubach made its third and final run in the eighth when another walk and two more errors paved the way for the tally. The Ouachita errors and the pitchers' wildness led to the Lions' downfall.

Ouachita made their run, the only earned run of the game, in the fourth when Hinton singled and Blazier tripled to score him. Blazier's three-bagger was the only extra-base blow of the battle.

Coach Leo Hartman of Ouachita said he used four pitchers because the Lions had had no workout this week. Coach Hartman said no games were scheduled for next week but added that he was trying to book a few.

Score by innings:

Ouachita	000	100	000	1	4	5
Dubach	200	000	10x	3	2	0

Edgar, Kennedy, Fields, Hinton and Patterson; K. Jones and D. Colvin.

SUN EGRET WINNER OF BOWIE HANDICAP

BOWIE, Md., April 9.—(AP)—Sun Egret, small wiry chestnut colt from A. C. Compton's stable, thrilled 11,000 chilled fans with a hands-down victory today in the $3,500 Bowie spring handicap over a soupy track to establish himself as an outstanding candidate for the Kentucky Derby.

With never a falter in stride through the angle-deep mud, Compton's 3-year-old colt broke first in the mile and 70-yard feature and held the lead easily to splash home two and a half lengths ahead of Cleveland Putnam's Moon Side. W. L. Brann's Challephen was third.

Jockey Alfred Shelhamer, Sun Egret's regular pilot, did not use the whip at all, and rode through the back stretch looking back occasionally through brown spray kicked from puddles on the track. The time was one minute, 48 and 2-5 seconds, good for the slow track.

Sun Egret, odds-on favorite, paid $2.80, $2.60 and $2.50.

Sun Egret won easily here last Saturday, taking the six-furlong feature on a poor track. He is due to run Wednesday in the $5,000 Southern Maryland handicap, closing day feature at a mile and a sixteenth.

ARMSTRONG GOES TO SPA FOR REST

Dusky Feather Champ Who Meets Ross On May 26 Thinks He'll Win

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 9.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong, the dusky little world's featherweight champion, came to Hot Springs today "to get away from it all."

Scheduled for one of the most important fights of his young career—with Welterweight Champion Barney Ross May 26 at New York—Armstrong is seeking here some badly needed rest which he said he was unable to get in the big cities or at his home in Los Angeles.

Since January 1, 1937, the 26-year-old negro fighter has been going at a rapid pace of better than a fight every two weeks. In that period he has amassed a total of 38 victories, all but two by the knockout route, and earnings of $125,000.

"In the big cities they always have something for you to do," he explained, "and if I went home it would be worse. So, I thought I'd come down here for the rest and take the baths. Both ought to do me a lot of good."

Armstrong plans to do no training here. He will leave around May 1 for Pompton Lakes, N. J., to begin working out for the Ross match. His manager, Eddie Mead, and a sparring partner accompanied the little champion to the Arkansas resort.

With reference to his match with Ross, Armstrong said "I thing I have a very fine chance to win. While Ross has some advantages there are others on my side."

Ross, Armstrong pointed out, isn't such a terrific puncher, but he's powerful. Then, too, he has been ordered down to 142 pounds by the New York Boxing commission for the Armstrong fight.

The negro fighter must come into the ring at 136 pounds in order that the difference in weights will not be too large.

"My fighting weight is around 133," Armstrong said, "and if I have to get down under 136 to get in condition, I'll do it. Then if the boxing commission doesn't want the fight, they'll just have to call it off. I'm not going to be in poor shape just to make a certain weight."

He weighs 139 now.

ILLINOIS WESLEYAN TAKES ANNUAL TOUR

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 9.—(Special)—The Illinois Wesleyan university baseball squad left Friday for an 11-day spring training trip into the deep south.

This is the fourth annual southern training trip the Titans have taken under Coach H. Fred Parker. This year's journey will be of special educational value in that the club will spend four days in historic Pensacola, Fla., and one day in New Orleans, La.

The 11-day tour will take the Methodists through nine states, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri and Alabama.

Coming at the time of Easter recess the boys will miss but two days of school.

The schedule:

April 9: David Lipscomb college, Nashville, Tenn. (2). April 11: United States Naval Flying school, Pensacola, Fla. April 12: United States Naval Flying school, Pensacola, Fla. April 13: United States Naval Flying school, Pensacola, Fla. April 14: United States Naval Flying school, Pensacola, Fla. April 15: Southeastern Louisiana college, Hammond, La. April 16: Southeastern Louisiana college, Hammond, La. April 17: St. Louis university, St. Louis, Mo.

YANKEES APPEAR NOT AS STRONG AS LAST SEASON

Detroit And Cleveland Expected To Furnish Chief Opposition To Champs

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—Stormy weather, which has upset the semi-final week of training for big league ball clubs and cancelled a score of exhibition games, may be the tipoff on the forthcoming pennant races.

The world champion Yankees and their victims for the past two years, the Giants, probably will be the expert choices to win again, since past performances have an annual habit of being a decisive factor in prognostications. Yet the latest signs all point toward a double-barrelled struggle for both New York clubs and the possibility, for a change, that the American league will develop a more wide open race than the National.

The Yankees may explode the theory to bits, just as soon as they get the recalcitrant Joe DiMaggio back into the fold, but it is impossible now to escape the suspicion that the world champions are "riding for a fall." Certainly they give no outward indication of being in shape for the getaway.

Without DiMaggio, still scornful of the club's $25,000 salary offer, the Yankees do not resemble the same club that finished 13 games in front of the Tigers and 19 ahead of the Indians in 1937.

Detroit's power and the possibility of improved pitching, based on the addition of Vernon Kennedy and a comeback by Schoolboy Rowe, combine to make the Tigers a formidable contender.

For several reasons, Cleveland may be the sensation of the race. The Tribe has acquired fresh spirit under its new big chief, Oscar Vitt. Part of the infield problem seems to have been solved by the development of a rookie star at third base, Ken Keltner. Potentially, the pitching staff headed by Johnny Allen, Bob Feller and Mel Harder, is the best in the league. If Rollie (Bad Boy) Hemsley attends strictly to business behind the bat the Indians are sure to be on the warpath. They can win.

Bad luck caught up with the White Sox, just when it looked like Jimmy Dykes' outfit would go places. The loss of Shortstop Luke Appling with a broken ankle, following the trade of slugging Zeke Bonura for Joe Kuhel, robs the Chicagoans of their one-two punch. The condition of Monty Stratton's pitching arm is another source of worry.

Meantime the Giants seem better fortified than ever for anything their opposition can offer. The latest break in favor of the National league champions is the return of Clydell Castleman to the fold.

The Giants are strongest of all National league clubs "through the middle." They have the best catching combination in the league, in Danning and Mancuso; one of the best keystone pairs in baseball; and alternate sluggers in Hank Leiber and Wally Berger for the center field spot.

Chicago looks like the one club capable of upsetting the Giants. The Cubs have more power than the champions but do not look as strong defensively, or in the box.

No team with such an outstanding trio as Dizzy Dean, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize can be discounted but it remains to be seen whether the Cardinals develop pitching, catching and infield strength otherwise or sufficiently to become real contenders.

'FROZEN GLOVES' BOXING TOURNEY SLATED APRIL 14

KING ISLAND, Alaska, April 9.—(AP)—Father Bernard Hubbard, "Padre of the Glaciers," announced today the first annual "frozen gloves" amateur boxing tournament will open April 14.

The ring show, to last three days, will be a feature of Father Hubbard's drive to raise the health level of Eskimo children by physical culture rather than medicine.

Different Slants Listed In Five-Suit Poker Game

Fans Anticipate Wilder Game Under New Rules But Experts Are Satisfied

By William E. McKenney

NEW YORK, April 9.—So much has been printed and said about five-suit bridge that thousands of poker players want to adapt the new deck to their game.

It was only natural that America would not accept the royal suit. Card manufacturers will make a fifth suit, green in color, but the pips will be eagles. The suit will be known as the eagle suit.

Percentage figures show that this new suit will not make much change in poker. The value of a flush is stepped up, so as to beat a full house.

Possible hands in four-suit poker:

	Actual Number	Pct. Of Total
Royal flush	4	.00015
Straight flush	36	.0014
Four of a kind	624	.024
Full house	3,744	.144
Flush	5,108	.196
Straight	10,200	.39
Three of a kind	54,912	2.1
Two pair	123,552	4.8
One pair	1,098,240	42.2
Nothing	3,984,240	48.1
Total	2,598,960	100.

Possible hands in five-suit poker:

	Actual Number	Pct. Of Total
Royal eagle spread	5	.00006
Five of a kind	13	.00015
Straight flush	45	.00055
Four of a kind	3,900	.047
Flush	6,385	.077
Full House	15,600	.189
Straight	31,200	.378
Three of a kind	214,500	2.6
Two pair	429,000	5.2
One pair	3,575,000	43.3
Nothing	3,894,240	48.1
Total	8,259,888	100.

A royal flush was tops before. A royal eagle spread, which is a straight flush headed by the ace, is still the best hand in five-suit poker. In four-suit poker you will not be dealt anything better than a pair 92.3 per cent of the time. In five-suit poker you will not be dealt anything better than a pair 91.4 per cent of the time.

While the number of possible hands in five-suit poker is in excess of 8,000,000 a careful examination shows that 2,500,000 possible hands in four-suit poker carry almost identical percentage figures.

The one great advantage of five-suit poker is that there will be more cards in the deck, thereby allowing a larger number of players to participate at once. On many occasions it will not be necessary to shuffle discards.

America is likely to see a lot of wildness with this new eagle suit. Some poker fans like a wild and fast game and that was why "deuces wild," "one-eyed jacks," etc., were introduced.

Maybe some culprit will even suggest making the entire green suit wild; or in a milder form they may allow the substitution of the green suit for any other suit, thereby making it easier to get flushes.

I played five-suit poker with several fine players and statisticians.

Russell J. Baldwin, tournament director of the American Contract Bridge league and one of America's finest mathematicians, was in the game.

Phil Abramsohn, who rattles off the odds of dice or balances the book sheet of a horse race in less time than it takes to deal, also was in the game.

Baldwin and Abramsohn are convinced that the percentage changes in the new game are so slight that no difference from the original four-suit poker game will be noticed. Henry Chanin, another in the game, liked the idea of being able to draw to a new suit.

Baldwin's prediction is that we will see six-card poker. He claims that this will be a normal development due to the fact that in bridge we are dealt 13 cards, while in five-suit bridge each player receives three extra cards and there is the faced card in the middle.

Six-card poker presents an entirely new set of figures. The sixth card changes the possible number of hands to more than 82,000,000, but here is the nice thing about it. It is easier to hold a pair than not to hold one.

Only 30 per cent of the hands will be worthless and more than 21 per cent will hold better than a pair.

Here are the approximate possible hands in five-suit poker with six cards:

	Total No.	Pct. Of Total
Six-card royal eagle spread	5	.000005
Six-card straight flush	40	.00004
Five-card royal eagle spread	300	.0003
Five of a kind	780	.001
Five-card straight flush	2,660	.003
Four and two	7,850	.010
Three and three	7,800	.010
Six-card flush	8,540	.011
Three pair	28,600	.03
Four of a kind	115,150	.14
Six-card straight	138,780	.17
Five-card flush	374,555	.46
Three and two	858,000	1.0
Five-card straight	1,730,215	2.1
Three of a kind	3,575,000	4.4
Two pair	10,615,000	12.9
One pair	40,218,750	48.9
Nothing	24,556,405	30.0
Total	82,598,880	100.

American poker players undoubtedly will develop a few hundred variations of their own with this fifth suit.

As soon as these variations and the game itself are standardized, the National Laws commission of card games will publish official rules.

WHITNEY FROWNS ON MATCH RACE

War Admiral-Seabiscuit Joust Said To Depend On Official's Approval

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—The proposed $100,000 match race between War Admiral and Seabiscuit apparently hung today on the decision of C. V. Whitney, vice-president of the Westchester Racing association.

Whitney, who has been on a fishing trip off the Bahamas, could not be reached for a statement, but the New York Sun said it had learned from associates close to Whitney that he is "unalterably opposed" to match races and "extravagant purses."

The Sun pointed out that since Whitney's family and that of the Vanderbilts own controlling stock in Belmont park, his voice is "almost certain" to decide the matter when it comes before the stockholders of the Westchester association, which operates the site of the proposed September meeting.

Joseph E. Widener, president of the association, already has approved the race, in principle, but said he did not want to make a definite announcement until he talked with Whitney.

Meanwhile, Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York State Racing commission, indicated he did not expect any trouble gaining Whitney's approval once he learns of the details.

"It's too big a thing for one man to kill," said Swope. "The race not only will settle the argument as to which is the better horse but also will boom racing in this state and the country as a whole."

The race would be at a mile and a quarter under weight-for-age conditions. Unless the owners decide otherwise, the duel will be a sweepstakes—winner take all.

STRAFACI DEFEATS DUNLAP FOR TITLE

PINEHURST, N. C., April 9.—(AP)—Frank Strafaci, a Brooklyn boy who once won the National Public Links golf championship, defeated George T. Dunlap, Jr., of Pinehurst today and became the 1938 North and South Amateur golf champion.

Strafaci turned in a 5 and 4 victory over the former National Amateur champion in the 36-hole final round. Dunlap, a veteran of Pinehurst courses and five times winner of the tournament, was the favorite.

Dunlap was beaten in the morning round when a big wind blew over the championship course, making it difficult to hold the ball on line. Under these conditions Strafaci was the better golfer. He played the round in 38-36—74.

Seven down at luncheon, Dunlap won the first and second holes in the afternoon with a par four and a birdie three.

The Brooklyn golfer took the next hole with a par four as Dunlap pushed his tee shot into a bunker, played his second beyond the green into the pine trees and could not get his third close.

Dunlap's hope vanished as Strafaci played the difficult par-five fourth in a birdie four to go seven up and the par-five fifth in another birdie four to go eight up. Dunlap was short in two at the fourth and bunkered with his second at the fifth.

From this point on there was no question as to the result.

NEVILLE NETTERS TROUNCE RUSTON

Tigers Score 13-3 Triumph Over Lincoln Parish High School Squad

Neville High school's tennis team overwhelmed Ruston High school representatives yesterday, 13 to 3.

The Tiger netters swept the boys' singles, boys' doubles, and mixed doubles, dropping only two girls' singles matches and one girls' doubles.

The Neville team will send four players to the Ruston tournament this week-end, it was announced yesterday. They are Harbert Marshall and John Hilburn, and Martha Marshall and Dorothy Stamets.

The summary of the Neville-Ruston meet:

Boys' singles:

Harbert Marshall, Neville, defeated Arlidge Land, 6-1, 6-3.

John Hilburn, Neville, defeated Billy Stodgill, 6-3, 6-2.

Dickie Touchstone, Neville, defeated Billy Baskin, 6-2, 6-3.

Bill Herrick, Neville, defeated James Gill, 6-1, 7-5.

Boys' doubles:

Marshall and Hilburn, Neville, defeated Land and Stodgill, 6-2, 6-3.

Touchstone and Herrick, Neville, defeated Baskin and Gill, 6-1, 6-4.

Girls' singles:

Mary Holt Barnes, Ruston, defeated Dorothy Stamets, 6-4, 2-6, 8-6.

Martha Marshall, Neville, defeated Elixir Lawler, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Annette Farmer, Ruston, defeated Anne Fulson, 6-1, 0-6, 7-5.

Emale Gattis, Neville, defeated Lucille Baker, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Girls' doubles:

Stamets and Marshall, Neville, defeated Barnes and Lawler, 6-2, 6-2.

Farmer and Baker, Ruston, defeated Fulson and Gattis, 2-6, 6-4, 6,-3.

Mixed doubles:

H. Marshall and Stamets, Neville, defeated Land and Barnes, 7-5, 6-2.

Hilburn and M. Marshall, Neville, defeated Stodgill and Lawler, 6-3, 6-1.

Burgess and Fulson, Neville, defeated Baskin and Farmer, 6-4, 6-2.

Herrick and Gattis, Neville, defeated Gill and Goyne, 12-10, 6-3.

In an exhibition, Charles Marks of Neville, beat John English, 6-1, 6-0.

TATTERDEMALION IS WINNER AT TROPICAL

CORAL GABLES, Fla., April 9.—(AP)—Thomas J. Healey's Tatterdemalion missed the track record by a full second when he won the $10,000 added Tropical Special today—but it was the only record that failed to fall as Florida ended its 96-day thoroughbred racing season.

Miami's two horse tracks, Hialeah park and Tropical park, enjoyed a record pari-mutuel play of $34,252,022, a record attendance of 822,458 and contributed a record state tax of $1,200,446.81.

An average crowd of 8,588 wagered $356.793 a day.

The total pari-mutuel increase was $4,426,858 over last season, when all previous records were established. Attendance showed a gain of 65,523, with the state receiving $113,865.44 more than it did last season.

A crowd estimated at 10,000 saw Tatterdemalion, a 5-year-old purchased last fall from C. V. Whitney, finish 2 1-2 lengths ahead of T. D. Buhl's Gyral in the mile and one-sixteenth closing feature at Tropical park.

With Jockey Eddie Arcaro up, Tatterdemalion stepped the route in 1:44, paid $10.80 for a $2 win ticket, and brought his owner $8,000.

Gyral, a 22-to-1 shot ridden by Kenneth McCombs, finished four lengths ahead of the Millsdale stable's entry and paid $18.50 to place. Infantry, with J. Lynch in the saddle, beat out the Darby Dan farm's Francesco by a nose for the show award, paying $5.

Mucho Gusto, favorite, finished a badly beaten eighth.

Griswold To Start For Local Club; Oklahoma City Sends Two Hurlers Here

The Monroe White Sox, far behind in their training schedule, will go to Crossett, Ark., today to meet the strong Crossett Millers, members of the Ouachita Valley league. It will be the second exhibition game of the season for the Monroe club, the Sox having opened their exhibition card against the Philadelphia Phillies last Tuesday.

Yesterday the Monroe pitchers and catchers reported for a bit of limbering up exercises, but that was the extent of the workout. The infielders and outfielders again were kept idle, with the diamond still too soft to permit a workout. The Sox now have had no work since last Tuesday, when they played the Phillies, and prior to that time they had been able to get in only about six days of active practice.

Manager "Red" Harvel said he would start "Greece" Griswold, chunky right-hander, against the Crossett club today. Griswold, who held the Phillies well in check last Tuesday during the four innings he hurled, will pitch three or four innings and then turn the hurling assignment over to Dan Jackson, another right-hander. Wildness cost Jackson the game with the Phils but ordinarily the youngster has excellent control and Manager Harvel hopes he will be in better shape today. The third pitcher will be Jim Smith or Dale Richardson. Both are right-handers. Smith pitched an inning against the Phils Tuesday but Richardson hasn't seen active duty yet. He was a member of the local staff last season.

It is probable that Harry Webb will see part time action either at second base or in left field. Webb has worked out only twice with the club.

The squad will leave here this morning at 10:30 o'clock in automobiles for Crossett. They will return immediately after the game.

The White Sox have a game scheduled with Hodge to be played at Hodge Wednesday and they play the Jackson Senators, George Brannon's Southeastern league entry, at Casino park next Friday.

Manager Harvel announced last night that Oklahoma City would send two promising pitchers here early this week. He said the hurlers had been with the Indians all spring and will be sent here on option. He said he did not know the names or the records of the two hurlers, but added that he expected them to report Monday.

Club officials gave out some good news for local youngsters. A Knot-Hole Gang will be organized and all boys under 16 years of age will be admitted free to all games except on Sundays, holidays and opening day, it was announced, if they belong to the Knot-Hole Gang. A coupon with which youngsters may apply for admission to the Gang is printed on today's sports page. Consent of a boy's parent or guardian must be accompanied by his application for membership.

There will be certain rules and regulations that Knot-Hole Gang members must obey, club officials said. The boys will sit together in a group and must not occupy any part of the grandstand other than that set aside for them. They will be given a card certifying to their membership and rules of the Gang will be printed thereon.

It is the first time that youngsters have been admitted free to all games here.

Manager Harvel said the team hopes to be able to resume heavy work Monday and continue throughout the week, except on Wednesday and Friday, when the Sox play Hodge and Jackson. Only 10 days remain until the season opens and the local squad is far from ready, Harvel said.

Several pitchers will be sent here from Dallas later in the week, club officials said yesterday. The Chicago White Sox reach Dallas today and will drop off several hurlers there. Dallas, in turn, will distribute their surplus pitchers to various farm clubs and Monroe is said to have the "inside track" on the best of those to be optioned out. It is rumored that Gick and Dobernic, two outstanding hurlers in the Evangeline league last year who have been with the Chicago Sox all spring, will be dropped at Dallas Monday and one of them may be sent here. Both are considered certain major league pitchers within the next two years, it was said.

HAGAN-ESTES MATCH TOPS WEDNESDAY CARD

OKLAHOMA STAR AND SHREVEPORT 'VILLAIN' SIGNED

Canadian Light Heavyweight Champion To Appear In Semi-Final Bout

Jack Hagan, the Shreveport dandy, and Balk Estes, clever Oklahoma grappler, will meet in the main event of the weekly wrestling show at Bruscato arena Wednesday night, it was announced by Promoter Charlie Bruscato last night. In the semi-final match, Ernie Arthur, Canadian light heavyweight champion, will meet Neal Lay of Boston. Both are newcomers here.

Hagan, who hasn't wrestled here in some five years, and Estes, who has been gone for six months or more, returned last week and won their matches. Hagan beat the rugged Chuck Powell in the semi-final match and Estes subdued Najeeb Rabeen in two straight falls in the main event. It was the first time Rabeen had lost here.

Hagan was known as "Roughhouse" when he appeared here years ago and he showed that he can still mix it by out-roughing Powell. However, Jack's appearance has altered somewhat. He sports a hair-line mustache, which reminds mat followers of a sissy movie extra, and his other mannerisms indicate he isn't as tough as he acts. In fact, when he appeared all dolled up in his abbreviated lip adornment, the fans thought Powell would make quick work of him. However, Hagan got a couple of lucky breaks and managed to beat the rough Alabaman.

What Estes will do to the Shreveport blank remains to be seen, but the odds should be about 10 to 1 that the Oklahoman will flatten him in quick time. Estes knows more about wrestling than Hagan ever hopes to learn and if everything's on the up-and-up, Balk should triumph. However, it should be an interesting match because Hagan likes to swing his fists. True, some will tell you that his swinging his fists is like waving a powder puff, but nevertheless he may manage to make it interesting for Estes for a while.

Both of the semi-final boys come highly recommended. In fact, Arthur, the Canadian champion, refused at first to take a bout as a semi-finalist but Promoter Bruscato said he wanted to see just how good the Canadian is before he books him in a main event spot. Lay is said to be a fast grappler who knows all the holds and who can get rough if the occasion demands.

Both matches will be best two out of three falls, with the main event having a 90-minute time limit and the semi-final limited to 45 minutes. "Butch" Martin will referee both matches, J. B. Swanson will make the announcements and "Bud" Fisher will keep time.

Exhibition Games

DODGERS WIN SLUGFEST

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 9.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers scored five runs in the tenth inning today to defeat the Jacksonville Tars of the Sally league 12 to 9 in a poorly played exhibition game. The Tars came back with two in their half of the tenth.

The wildness of Bratton, second Jacksonville pitcher, was the deciding factor. He gave up four walks, forcing in two runs, in the eighth and his successor, Walker, forced home another tally to give the Dodgers a tie. Four hits, an error and an intentional pass by Walker gave the Dodgers their winning runs in the tenth.

Score by innings:

Brooklyn (N)	0	0	1	2	0	1	0	0	5	12	13	1
Jac'ville (Sally)	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	9	13	1

Hoyt, Sigmer (8) and Chervinko, Spencer (7); McKinney, Bratton (7), Walker (8) and Van Antwerp.

NATS, TRENTON TIE

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 9.—(AP)—The Washington Nationals and the Trenton, N. J., Eastern leaguers burlesqued nine innings of baseball here today to a muddy 2-2 draw.

Outfielders abandoned their spike footgear for cleated football shoes, because the pasture was ankle deep in slush. The mud-bespattered players were glad to quit when Umpire Cal Hubbard called the game.

Washington was scheduled to play Greenville of the South Atlantic league today but the Trenton game was substituted for it.

Score by innings:

(Game called at end of ninth inning.)

A'S WHIP PORTSMOUTH

PORTSMOUTH, Va., April 9.—(AP)—After hitting a homer that helped the Philadelphia Athletics defeat Portsmouth of the Piedmont league 7-4 today, Shortstop Skeeter Newsome was knocked out by a pitched ball in the fifth inning.

A fast ball thrown by Scheren struck Newsome on the head and he collapsed on the plate. The injury did not appear serious, but he was taken to the naval hospital for observation.

Lodigiani and Werber also got homers for the Athletics, while Cueto brought one in for Portsmouth.

Score by innings:

Philadephia (A)	0	2	2	0	0	1	0	0	0	7	8	1
Portsmouth (P)	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	2	1	4	8	0

Kelley, Smith (6) and Wagner; Mooney, Schearen (4), Batman (7) and Luckey, Cueto (6).

CUBS STOP BROWNS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 9.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns, who had won 15 straight exhibition games from minor league, semi-pro and university teams, learned today at the expense of their winning streak that major league opposition is different.

Battering Vito Tamulis and Les Tietje for 14 hits, the Chicago Cubs defeated the Browns, 5 to 2, in the opener of a 6-game series. Two of the Cub runs were donated when Beau Bell lost a fly ball in the sun.

The only satisfaction the Browns had was in driving Clay Bryant from the mound in the seventh, when Shortstop Ralph Kress hit a home run with a man on. Otherwise the Browns were impotent at bat and failed to take full advantage of 10 bases on balls.

Score by innings:

St. Louis (A)	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	0	2	9	4

Bryant, Russell (7) and Hartnett; Tamulis, Tietje (6) and Sullivan, Heath (7).

PIRATES THUMP CHISOX

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 9.—(AP)—Led by Bill Brubaker and Johnny Rizzo, the Pittsburgh Pirates celebrated their release from a two-day period of forced idleness today by thumping the Chicago White Sox, 13 to 8, in an exhibition game.

The Bucs made 25 hits off three Sox hurlers for a total of 38 bases. Brubaker and Rizzo contributed four apiece, while Arky Vaughan added a home run to his collection of three.

Mace Brown held the Sox to four hits in the first five innings. One of the blows was a homer by Joe Kuhel with Rip Radcliff on base and gave the American leaguers a shortlived 2-2 tie in the second inning.

Score by innings:

Pittsburgh (NL)	0	2	2	0	3	1	1	3	0	13	25	1
Chicago (AL)	0	2	0	0	0	0	2	0	4	8	14	5

YANKS TRIM ROCKS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 9.—(AP)—A nine run blast in the seventh inning enabled the New York Yankees to whip the Southern association Little Rock Travelers 10 to 5 today.

The Travelers scored all their runs off Monte Pearson in the first two innings with two misplays by Bill Knickerbocker as contributing factors.

Score by innings:

New York (A)	0	0	0	0	0	0	9	0	1	10	10	2

INDIANS BLANK MERIDIAN

MERIDIAN, Miss., April 9.—(AP)—Six home runs paced the Cleveland Indians to a 13-0 victory today over Meridian of the class B Southeastern league.

Bill Zuber held Meridian to four hits in his seven innings. Jeff Heath, newly reported, got two of the homers. Jimmy Webb, the Indians' latest acquisition, played at shortstop.

Score by innings:

Cleveland (A)	4	0	1	0	4	0	2	2	0	13	15	1
Meridian (SE)	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	7	3

GIANTS DOWN CHICKS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9.—(AP)—After spotting the Memphis Chicks three runs in the third inning, the New York Giants rallied in the last four frames today to defeat their Southern association rivals 6 to 3 in an exhibition game.

Cliff Melton, who pitched the full route, gave up only eight hits but the Chicks bunched four of them, including Reese's triple, in the third.

Score by innings:

New York (N)	0	0	0	0	2	3	0	1	0	6	9	1

SAVANNAH BEATS BEES

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 9.—(AP)—Defeated 6-2 in their special feature with the Savannah Indians today, the Boston Bees could blame most of it onto John Niggeling, their temporary pitching "gift" to the Indians, and Charlies Marsella, who joined the Warriors after the Stengel crew discarded him.

Niggeling's knuckle-balling for Savannah limited the hits of his erstwhile mates to eight, while Marsella's hitting accounted for four of his team's tallies with a single and a home run.

Score by innings:

Boston (N)	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	2	8	1
Savannah (SA)	0	0	0	0	0	1	5	0	x	6	12	0

Balas, Reis (7) and Riddle; Niggeling and Leitz.

RED SOX WALLOP REDS

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., April 9.—(AP)—Taking Paul Derringer for 10 hits which netted seven runs, the Red Sox easily defeated the Cincinnati Reds 11 to 2 here today.

Jim Bagby, who pitched four innings, retired 10 men in order before Lang and Campbell singled. The Reds, getting seven hits, made one run off Johnny Marcum and the other off left-handed Archie McKain.

The Sox dozen hits included homers by Joe Vosmik and Jimmy Foxx, a triple by Joe Cronin and two base hits by Vosmik and Jim Bagby.

Score by innings:

Cincinnati (N)	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	2	7	1
Boston (A)	0	5	2	0	2	1	0	0	x	11	12	0

CARDS WHIP NEW IBERIA

NEW IBERIA, La., April 9.—(AP)—With seven New Iberia errors making it all the easier, the St. Louis Cardinals toyed with their Evangeline league "farmhands," winning pretty much as pleased, 12 to 3.

Enos Slaughter, Johnny Mize and Recruit Pitcher Howard Krist banked out home runs, Krist, who went into the game in the seventh inning, and Max Macon held New Iberia to five hits, one of them a four-bagger by Shortstop Delon.

Score by innings:

St. Louis (N)	2	0	4	3	1	1	0	0	0	12	12	2

Demons Get Only 20 Points And Bulldogs Held To 18 At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La., April 9.—(AP)—The Louisiana State university varsity and freshmen track teams this afternoon won their three-team meet with Louisiana Normal college and Southwestern Louisiana institute.

The L. S. U. varsity team piled up 111 1-2 points, with Normal coming second with 20 and Southwestern getting 18 1-2. In the freshmen meet, L. S. U. amassed 74 points, Southwestern got 29 and Normal received 24.

MISSISSIPPI DEAF SCHOOL WINS FIRST CAGE GAME

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—New Jersey and Mississippi won the opening matches today in the national championship basketball tournament of state schools for the deaf.

New Jersey, eastern champion, turned back Minnesota, the midwest titleholder, 40 to 30, and Mississippi conquered Wisconsin, which won the central championship, 25 to 24. The tournament, which is being played on a round-robin basis, will be concluded tomorrow. A second session was scheduled tonight.

The Mississippi school staged a great comeback to win the more exciting of the two games, after trailing through the first half. The Southerners took the lead in the third quarter, dropped behind near the finish and won out on a field goal by Cecil Watts in the final minute.

GIRAULT LEADS IN LAKESIDE TOURNEY

Shep Girault, defending champion, is leading for medalist honors in the Lakeside Country club's championship tournament, the qualifying round of which got under way last week.

Girault posted a 37-36—73 to take an early lead among the qualifiers. He nosed out Ben Downing, Jr., state high school champion, by one stroke, young Downing posting a 37-37—74 in his qualifying round of 18 holes.

Winnie Cole, Lakeside pro, announced yesterday that the qualifying round would be continued until next Sunday night because the recent inclement weather has kept many players from posting their scores.

Scores of other qualifiers follow:

Cramer Haas, 81; Art Surguine, 91; H. G. Frazer, 90; Ben Downing, 85; W. W. Kellogg, 100; R. D. Kellogg, 98; Ed Seymour, 95; W. L. Jones, 94; Will Washburn, 100; Fred Millsaps, 97.

At least 50 players are expected to qualify, Cole said.

BOXING PROGRAM SLATED MONDAY

'Speedy' Johnson And Joe Gully Meet In Return Bout At Stadium Here

"Speedy" Johnson, 170, of San Diego, and Joe Gully, Monroe, claimant of the light heavyweight championship of the state, will meet in a 12-round bout that tops a boxing card at Bruscato arena Monday night. Promoter Charlie Bruscato said the boxing commission has recognized the bout as an official battle for the state title.

Johnson and Gully fought a torrid ten-round battle on the Oscar Matthews card here a couple of weeks ago and furnished most of the action on that program. It was a toe-to-toe battle, with both boys swinging with their Sunday punches from the first gong. The bout, in fact, was worth the price of admission. The Matthews-Smith match was no go, of course, but the fans didn't seem to mind after Gully and Johnson had packed plenty of action in each of the ten rounds of their engagement.

Gully was given the decision in their first meeting but it was a pretty raw verdict. Johnson appeared to have won the first six rounds, which alone should have given him the decision, and then he rocked Gully repeatedly in the tenth to win that round by a wide margin. Despite that, there was action all the way, and their second meeting should be just as interesting.

Promoter Bruscato has arranged an attractive card to back up the main event. As an eight-round semi-final, he will present "Sweet Papa" Williams, the wild-swinging Monroe welterweight, against Kid Napoleon, a dusky lad who likes to mix it equally well. These two boys have fought here before and the fans know what to expect when they tangle.

Two four-round preliminaries already have been booked, and at least one more four-rounder will be presented, Bruscato said. Joe Brown will meet Tiger Sam in one prelim and Sam Lad Carter will fight Willie Green in the other. Bruscato said he had two free-swinging boys for another four-rounder.

Prices have been reduced for the Monday night show, the promoter said.

OLE MISS GOLFERS WIN FROM GREEN WAVE TEAM

UNIVERSITY, Miss., April 9.—(AP)—Mississippi defeated Tulane in a Southeastern conference golf match today, 11½ to 6½, in bitter cold.

Alonzo Westbrook took the measure of Vincent D'Antoni, Southeastern conference champion, 2 to 1. Harry Deas showed best for Tulane by tying Billy Martin at 1½ points each. Dick Maddox of Ole Miss defeated Johnson Manson, 2 to 1, and Ike Pearson dropped Maurice Picheloup, 3 to 0. The teams broke even in foursome play.

GRIM REAPER WINNER OF RICH CALIFORNIA DERBY

SAN MATEO, Calif., April 9.—(AP)—Leading all the way, Grim Reaper, owned by W. E. Boeing of Seattle, won the $6,000-added California Derby at Bay Meadows track today by six lengths over the favorite, Lavengro, and Wing and Wing.

Grim Reaper, ridden by Johnny Adams, ran the mile and one-sixteenth in 1:43 4-5 and paid his backers $9.80, $3.20 and $2.20. Lavengro, the Macarco stable's coal black speedster, paid $3.00 and $2.20 and Wing and Wing $2.40.

L. T. I. NINE WINS FROM CLARKS, 6-2

The Louisiana Training institute Pelicans defeated the Clarks High school baseball team here yesterday, 6 to 2.

Mehaffey, L. T. I. hurler, held the Lumberjacks to four hits and struck out 16 Clarks batsmen. He went the full nine innings for the Pelicans.

The Pels got to Clarks' hurlers for nine hits, with Spann and Stewart getting two each. The Pelicans concentrated their power in the first three innings, scoring four of their six runs.

L. T. I. will go to Olla next Wednesday to compete in a four-way track and baseball meet. Other teams which will participate are Olla-Standard, Columbia and Clarks.

Score by innings:

HAGAN-ESTES MATCH TOPS WEDNESDAY CARD

OKLAHOMA STAR AND SHREVEPORT 'VILLAIN' SIGNED

Canadian Light Heavyweight Champion To Appear In Semi-Final Bout

Jack Hagan, the Shreveport dandy, and Balk Estes, clever Oklahoma grappler, will meet in the main event of the weekly wrestling show at Bruscato arena Wednesday night, it was announced by Promoter Charlie Bruscato last night. In the semi-final match, Ernie Arthur, Canadian light heavyweight champion, will meet Neal Lay of Boston. Both are newcomers here.

Hagan, who hasn't wrestled here in some five years, and Estes, who has been gone for six months or more, returned last week and won their matches. Hagan beat the rugged Chuck Powell in the semi-final match and Estes subdued Najeeb Rabeen in two straight falls in the main event. It was the first time Rabeen had lost here.

Hagan was known as "Roughhouse" when he appeared here years ago and he showed that he can still mix it by out-roughing Powell. However, Jack's appearance has altered somewhat. He sports a hair-line mustache, which reminds mat followers of a sissy movie extra, and his other mannerisms indicate he isn't as tough as he acts. In fact, when he appeared all dolled up in his abbreviated lip adornment, the fans thought Powell would make quick work of him. However, Hagan got a couple of lucky breaks and managed to beat the rough Alabaman.

What Estes will do to the Shreveport blank remains to be seen, but the odds should be about 10 to 1 that the Oklahoman will flatten him in quick time. Estes knows more about wrestling than Hagan ever hopes to learn and if everything's on the up-and-up, Balk should triumph. However, it should be an interesting match because Hagan likes to swing his fists. True, some will tell you that his swinging his fists is like waving a powder puff, but nevertheless he may manage to make it interesting for Estes for a while.

Both of the semi-final boys come highly recommended. In fact, Arthur, the Canadian champion, refused at first to take a bout as a semi-finalist but Promoter Bruscato said he wanted to see just how good the Canadian is before he books him in a main event spot. Lay is said to be a fast grappler who knows all the holds and who can get rough if the occasion demands.

Both matches will be best two out of three falls, with the main event having a 90-minute time limit and the semi-final limited to 45 minutes. "Butch" Martin will referee both matches, J. B. Swanson will make the announcements and "Bud" Fisher will keep time.

Exhibition Games

DODGERS WIN SLUGFEST

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 9.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers scored five runs in the tenth inning today to defeat the Jacksonville Tars of the Sally league 12 to 9 in a poorly played exhibition game. The Tars came back with two in their half of the tenth.

The wildness of Bratton, second Jacksonville pitcher, was the deciding factor. He gave up four walks, forcing in two runs, in the eighth and his successor, Walker, forced home another tally to give the Dodgers a tie. Four hits, an error and an intentional pass by Walker gave the Dodgers their winning runs in the tenth.

Score by innings:
Brooklyn (N) ..001 201 030 5—12 13 1
Jac'ville (Sally).020 050 000 2— 9 13 1
Hoyt, Signer (8) and Chervinko, Spencer (7); McKinney, Bratton (7), Walker (8) and Van Antwerp.

NATS, TRENTON TIE

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 9.—(AP)—The Washington Nationals and the Trenton, N. J., Eastern leaguers burlesqued nine innings of baseball here today to a muddy 2-2 draw.

Outfielders abandoned their spike footgear for cleated football shoes, because the pasture was ankle deep in slush. The mud-bespattered players were glad to quit when Umpire Cal Hubbard called the game.

Washington was scheduled to play Greenville of the South Atlantic league today but the Trenton game was substituted for it.

Score by innings:
Washington (A) ...000 000 020—2 7 1
Trenton (EL) .....010 100 000—2 7 0
(Game called at end of ninth inning.)

A'S WHIP PORTSMOUTH

PORTSMOUTH, Va., April 9.—(AP)—After hitting a homer that helped the Philadelphia Athletics defeat Portsmouth of the Piedmont league 7-4 today, Shortstop Skeeter Newsome was knocked out by a pitched ball in the fifth inning.

A fast ball thrown by Scheren struck Newsome on the head and he collapsed on the plate. The injury did not appear serious, but he was taken to the naval hospital for observation.

Lodigiani and Werber also got homers for the Athletics, while Cueto brought one in for Portsmouth.

CUBS STOP BROWNS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 9.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns, who had won 15 straight exhibition games from minor league, semi-pro and university teams, learned today at the expense of their winning streak that major league opposition is different.

Battering Vito Tamulis and Les Tietje for 14 hits, the Chicago Cubs defeated the Browns, 5 to 2, in the opener of a 6-game series. Two of the Cub runs were donated when Beau Bell lost a fly ball in the sun.

The only satisfaction the Browns had was in driving Clay Bryant from the mound in the seventh, when Shortstop Ralph Kress hit a home run with a man on. Otherwise the Browns were impotent at bat and failed to take full advantage of 10 bases on balls.

Score by innings:
Chicago (N) .....100 022 000—5 14 0
St. Louis (A) .....000 000 200—2 9 4

PIRATES THUMP CHISOX

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 9.—(AP)—Led by Bill Brubaker and Johnny Rizzo, the Pittsburgh Pirates celebrated their release from a two-day period of forced idleness today by thumping the Chicago White Sox, 13 to 8, in an exhibition game.

The Bucs made 25 hits off three Sox hurlers for a total of 38 bases. Brubaker and Rizzo contributed four apiece, while Arky Vaughan added a home run to his collection of three.

Mace Brown held the Sox to four hits in the first five innings. One of the blows was a homer by Joe Kuhel with Rip Radcliff on base and gave the American leaguers a shortlived 2-2 tie in the second inning.

Score by innings:
Pittsburgh (NL) ..022 031 311—13 25 1
Chicago (AL) ....020 000 204— 8 14 5

YANKS TRIM ROCKS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 9.—(AP)—A nine run blast in the seventh inning enabled the New York Yankees to whip the Southern association Little Rock Travelers 10 to 5 today.

The Travelers scored all their runs off Monte Pearson in the first two innings with two misplays by Bill Knickerbocker as contributing factors.

Score by innings:
New York (A) ...000 000 901—10 10 2
Little Rock (SA) .320 000 000— 5 9 1
Pearson, Vance (6) and Dickey; Gonzales, Kerksieck (6), Rich (7) and Coble, Walters (6).

INDIANS BLANK MERIDIAN

MERIDIAN, Miss., April 9.—(AP)—Six home runs paced the Cleveland Indians to a 13-0 victory today over Meridian of the class B Southeastern league.

Bill Zuber held Meridian to four hits in his seven innings. Jeff Heath, newly reported, got two of the homers. Jimmy Webb, the Indians' latest acquisition, played at shortstop.

Score by innings:

GIANTS DOWN CHICKS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9.—(AP)—After spotting the Memphis Chicks three runs in the third inning, the New York Giants rallied in the last four frames today to defeat their Southern association rivals 6 to 3 in an exhibition game.

Cliff Melton, who pitched the full route, gave up only eight hits but the Chicks bunched four of them, including Reese's triple, in the third.

Score by innings:

SAVANNAH BEATS BEES

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 9.—(AP)—Defeated 6-2 in their special feature with the Savannah Indians today, the Boston Bees could blame most of it onto John Niggeling, their temporary pitching "gift" to the Indians, and Charlies Marsella, who joined the Warriors after the Stengel crew discarded him.

Niggeling's knuckle-balling for Savannah limited the hits of his erstwhile mates to eight, while Marsella's hitting accounted for four of his team's tallies with a single and a home run.

Score by innings:
Boston (N) .....000 010 010—2 8 1

RED SOX WALLOP REDS

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., April 9.—(AP)—Taking Paul Derringer for 10 hits which netted seven runs, the Red Sox easily defeated the Cincinnati Reds 11 to 2 here today.

Jim Bagby, who pitched four innings, retired 10 men in order before Lang and Campbell singled. The Reds, getting seven hits, made one run off Johnny Marcum and the other off left-handed Archie McKain.

The Sox dozen hits included homers by Joe Vosmik and Jimmy Foxx, a triple by Joe Cronin and two base hits by Vosmik and Jim Bagby.

Score by innings:

CARDS WHIP NEW IBERIA

NEW IBERIA, La., April 9.—(AP)—With seven New Iberia errors making it all the easier, the St. Louis Cardinals toyed with their Evangeline league "farmhands," winning pretty much as pleased, 12 to 3.

Enos Slaughter, Johnny Mize and Recruit Pitcher Howard Krist banked out home runs, Krist, who went into the game in the seventh inning, and Max Macon held New Iberia to five hits, one of them a four-bagger by Shortstop Delon.

COTTON

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—Cotton futures closed steady 6 to 7 points net higher here today.

The rally was attributed to the house setback of the reorganization bill, upturn in other markets and unfavorable weather in the belt.

Contracts were scarce during the short session and the trend was upward most of the day.

May closed at 8.71, July at 8.77, Oct. 8.85, Dec. 8.86 bid to 8.87 asked, Jan. 8.88 and March at 8.93 bid to 8.94 asked.

The weather was definitely bullish and there was a belief that cotton already planted would be damaged and further planting delayed by continuing rains and low temperatures in the belt.

Considerable rain fell in the east and scattered showers in the west.

Temperatures were far below normal.

There were reports of increased activity in the goods markets with finished and gray goods in steady demand at stiffening prices.

The Liverpool market closed quiet one to two pennypoints higher. Bombay straddle reversing and hedging offset scattered buying and trade calling.

Spot markets generally were reported quiet and offerings light. Galveston said there was some Japanese demand.

The turnover yesterday was 18,800 bales and open commitments 394,150 bales, a decrease of 1,200 bales from the perevious day.

Exports today were 13,975 bales.

Cotton futures closed steady at net advance of 6 to 7 points.

Cotton firm; trade and Wall Street buying. Sugar improved; trade buying. Coffee higher; steady Brazilian markets.

CHICAGO — Wheat unsettled. Corn about steady. Cattle nominally steady. Hogs steady, limited trading.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—Stock market leaders bounded skyward today in the broadest buying surge of the year, many climbing one to more than six points as traders scrambled for favorites.

The principal ammunition for the upswing, brokers said, was the unexpected defeat of the government reorganization bill by the house. This, from the standpoint of some financial circles, indicated congress might ditch other measures which administration opponents deem restrictive to business and industry.

In addition, the inflation theme attained a higher pitch in Wall Street as speculative forces gave credence to reports from the capital that "pump-priming" on a large scale would be recommended by the president as a means of halting the recession.

The list got off to one of the speediest openings in some time with the ticker tape, for a while, about three minutes behind floor dealings. It was again in arrears near the finish. Blocks of 1,000 to 6,000 shares changed hands on the forward sweep. Numerous "blue chips" that only last week hit new five-year lows were from five to 30 minutes late in opening as gaps of as much as six points appeared between bids and offers.

Profit selling later slowed the pace and reduced extreme gains, but fresh support arrived in the final half-hour and closing prices were around the best of the brief session. Transfers approximated 1,400,000 shares.

Secondary bonds jumped with stocks and the majority of commodities improved although wheat met some resistance after its brisk recovery yesterday.

Boardrooms usually sparsely populated in the two-hour Saturday proceedings, were mostly filled. The stock exchange floor also found more members in attendance than in many months.

Heavy purchases on balance were reported from Amsterdam, London and Paris. The Amsterdam securities market exhibited exceptional strength before the New York start.

COTTON

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, April 9.—(AP)—Cotton futures closed steady 6 to 7 points net higher here today.

The rally was attributed to the house setback of the reorganization bill, upturn in other markets and unfavorable weather in the belt.

Contracts were scarce during the short session and the trend was upward most of the day.

May closed at 8.71, July at 8.77, Oct. 8.85, Dec. 8.86 bid to 8.87 asked, Jan. 8.88 and March at 8.93 bid to 8.94 asked.

The weather was definitely bullish and there was a belief that cotton already planted would be damaged and further planting delayed by continuing rains and low temperatures in the belt.

Considerable rain fell in the east and scattered showers in the west.

Temperatures were far below normal.

There were reports of increased activity in the goods markets with finished and gray goods in steady demand at stiffening prices.

The Liverpool market closed quiet one to two pennypoints higher, Bombay straddle reversing and hedging offset scattered buying and trade calling.

Spot markets generally were reported quiet and offerings light. Galveston said there was some Japanese demand.

The turnover yesterday was 18,800 bales and open commitments 394,150 bales, a decrease of 1,200 bales from the perevious day.

Exports today were 13,975 bales.

Cotton futures closed steady at net advance of 6 to 7 points.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 9.—(AP)—Fresh gains in wheat prices today resulted from buying attributed to strength in securities and reports of further international purchasing by English millers.

Opening 1-4 lower to 5-8 higher, May 85 1-4-1-2, July 81 3-4-82 1-4, all Chicago wheat contracts later rose above the previous close. Corn started 1-8-3-8 up, May 60 7-8, July 61 7-8-62.

Wheat closed 1-8 higher to 1-2 lower compared with yesterday's finish, May 84 7-8-85, July 81 1-2-5-8 and corn was unchanged to 1-4 off, May 60 3-8, July 61 3-4. Oats were 1-8 off to 1-4 up.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—Stock market leaders bounded skyward today in the broadest buying surge of the year, many climbing one to more than six points as traders scrambled for favorites.

The principal ammunition for the upswing, brokers said, was the unexpected defeat of the government reorganization bill by the house. This, from the standpoint of some financial circles, indicated congress might ditch other measures which administration opponents deem restrictive to business and industry.

In addition, the inflation theme attained a higher pitch in Wall Street as speculative forces gave credence to reports from the capital that "pump-priming" on a large scale would be recommended by the president as a means of halting the recession.

The list got off to one of the speediest openings in some time with the ticker tape, for a while, about three minutes behind floor dealings. It was again in arrears near the finish. Blocks of 1,900 to 6,000 shares changed hands on the forward sweep. Numerous "blue chips" that only last week hit new five-year lows were from five to 30 minutes late in opening as gaps of as much as six points appeared between bids and offers.

Profit selling later slowed the pace and reduced extreme gains, but fresh support arrived in the final half-hour and closing prices were around the best of the brief session. Transfers approximated 1,400,000 shares.

Secondary bonds jumped with stocks and the majority of commodities improved although wheat met some resistance after its brisk recovery yesterday.

Boardrooms, usually sparsely populated in the two-hour Saturday proceedings, were mostly filled. The stock exchange floor also found more members in attendance than in many months.

Heavy purchases on balance were reported from Amsterdam, London and Paris. The Amsterdam securities market exhibited exceptional strength before the New York start.

...MEET FOR BAKERS PLANNED

...To Be Held Here On April 18-20; Many Entertainment Features

The seventh annual convention of the Louisiana State Bakers' association will bring a large number of delegates and their friends to Monroe on April 18-20, inclusive, according to President William Bennett, local baking company manager. Headquarters will be at Hotel Frances.

Registration will start a week from Tuesday at 7:30 a.m., and the convention will be called to order by the president at 9:30 a.m. Addresses of welcome will be delivered by Mayor H. H. Benoit and Judge W. M. Harper.

Out of the state speakers on the morning program will be Russell W. Varney, New York City, manager of the bakery merchandising department of Standard Brands, Inc. His theme will be "Who Counts?" and Dr. L. A. Rumsey, of W. E. Long company, Chicago, Ill., will speak on "Operating Cost and Management Control."

On Tuesday afternoon there will be a barbecue for bakers, allied tradesmen, their wives and guests at McGuire Park Golf club. Dancing, golf and baseball games are scheduled. At night there will be a dancing party and floor show at Three Mile inn.

Special entertainment will be provided for the ladies throughout the three days the convention will be in session.

The annual banquet will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Hotel Frances, which will conclude the convention.

Officers for the ensuing year will have been elected at a business meeting earlier in the day.

'CHANGE WEEK' PLANNED BY SPARK PLUG CONCERN

TOLEDO, O., April 9.—(Special)—The Champion Spark Plug company will observe its fourteenth "change week" May 2-8 this year, R. A. Stranahan, president, announced today.

"This event is our annual reminder to motorists of the benefits of changing spark plugs every 10,000 miles," said Mr. Stranahan.

"An expanded newspaper and magazine campaign will back up the program. Also, during the week, dealers will be equipped to render special service and to conduct tests on the efficiency of spark plugs in all makes of cars."

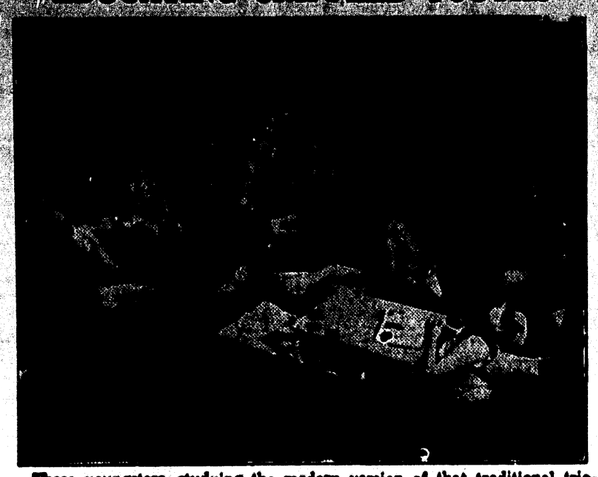
EDUCATING CRIPPLED YOUTHS



These youngsters, studying the modern version of that traditional trio—reading, writing and arithmetic—must learn about nouns, verbs and multiplication tables from the positions in wheel chairs and convalescent beds. If they go to the blackboard, it must be with the aid of crutches. Fractions and subtractions, adjectives and superlatives are no less real, no less troublesome to them. Classrooms such as this are designed to supply certain physical as well as mental needs of crippled children. The importance of educating these patients is stressed in the crippled child's "Bill of Rights."

Article 5 says: "Every crippled child has a right to an education. Without this, all other previous provisions, unless for the relief of actual suffering, are in vain."

The Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Society for Crippled Children has opened its seal campaign to raise funds which will aid in solving the problem of the crippled child. The Easter seals, selling for a penny, show a small girl with a crutch under her arm, watering a lily plant. The slogan: "A better life for crippled children" is appended.

Leche Supports Legion's Drive For National Honor

With the Louisiana department of the American Legion out to capture first place in the national membership drive which will mean that legionnaires will be entitled to lead the parade at the legion's 1938 national convention in Los Angeles, there will be required the enrollment of approximately 2,000 more veterans. Commander Alcee S. Legendre of the American Legion in Louisiana has set aside the week of April 9 to 16 as "American Legion week," for the purpose of going over the top in a big way. Governor Richard W. Leche, himself a legionnaire, has issued a proclamation in connection with this week and Mayor H. H. Benoit of Monroe has also issued a proclamation urging definite and concerted action.

The governor's proclamation is as follows:

"WHEREAS, the American Legion is an organization with membership composed of men who served in the military forces of the United States during the World war, and

"WHEREAS, the American Legion exists for the mutual advantages of its members and has dedicated its services and purposes for God and country, to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America, and to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy, and

"WHEREAS, the American Legion stands at all times ready to sustain, protect and serve our government, state and community in times of great emergencies and in times of peace, and

"WHEREAS, the American Legion in Louisiana at this time is endeavoring to secure an additional 2,000 members which will place it in a position to lead the great parade of the national convention of the legion in Los Angeles next September, and

"WHEREAS, the splendid record of the American Legion in Louisiana deserves the support of every veteran of the World war, now

"THEREFORE, I, Richard W. Leche, governor of the state of Louisiana, do hereby set aside and proclaim the week beginning April 9 and ending April 16 as American Legion week.

"THUS DONE, SIGNED AND SEALED with the great seal of the state of Louisiana this the 8th day of April, 1938.

(Signed) "RICHARD W. LECHE,
"Governor."

Mayor Benoit's proclamation is as follows:

"WHEREAS, Commander Alcee S. Legendre of the American Legion in Louisiana has set aside the week of April 9 to 16 as American Legion week, and,

"WHEREAS, Commander Legendre and the commanders of the 130 American Legion posts in the state of Louisiana are endeavoring to secure an additional 2,000 members for the purpose of leading the parade at the American Legion national convention in Los Angeles in September, and,

"WHEREAS, Governor Richard W. Leche, has issued a proclamation setting aside the week of April 9 to April 16 and designating the said week as American Legion week, and

"WHEREAS, the American Legion is an organization composed of men who served in the military forces in the United States during the World war and the splendid record of the American Legion in Louisiana deserves the support of every veteran of the World war, and,

"WHEREAS, the honor of leading the great parade at the American Legion National convention will bring good will, publicity, and honor to our state, now

"THEREFORE, I, Harvey H. Benoit, mayor of the city of Monroe, do hereby set aside and proclaim the week beginning April 9th and ending April 16th as American Legion week.

"THUS DONE, SIGNED AND SEALED with the seal of the city of Monroe, this 9th day of April, 1938.

"H. H. BENOIT,
"Mayor of the City of Monroe."

STERLINGTON MEN CONDUCT BANQUET

STERLINGTON, La., April 9.—(Special)—The Sterlington Men's Bible class held its regular monthly meeting at the Methodist church here Friday night. An address was delivered by Rev. J. F. Dring, pastor, on "The Interest of Men in the Church." He expressed appreciation that men are taking an interest in the Bible class and church.

Musical numbers by the assemblage were led by L. B. Stall, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. G. Muller.

The meal comprised a chicken spaghetti supper served by women of the church.

R. W. Cretney, superintendent of the Thermatomic Carbon company, explained the operation of the plant. His talk was educational and much appreciated.

The committee in charge of development of the water system reported that work will be completed shortly. This committee is composed of Matt Parker, Elmo Waugh and Carl Brooks.

Another committee that is in charge of equipping the Bible class auditorium with tables and chairs reported that all will be completed in time for the May meeting. On this committee are D. Y. Smith, John R. Horton and J. M. Powell.

Six new members were enrolled and L. B. Stall encouraged every man to bring a new member to the next meeting.

MRS. TISDALE GUEST SPEAKER AT MEETING

TALLULAH, La., April 9.—(Special)—Mrs. A. D. Tisdale of Monroe, president of the Fifth District Federation of Women's Clubs, delivered an address on the "Value of Federation" at a meeting of the Tallulah Book club held here Tuesday afternoon. She emphasized that an ideal club is one of study as well as service and stressed the ethics of the relationship of officers and members.

A musical program was rendered by Mrs. Lamar T. Loe and Mrs. Frank Montgomery, and Mrs. W. L. Rountree, who gave vocal numbers, and Mrs. M. A. Phillips and Mrs. J. O. Horn, piano selections. Mrs. R. T. Starrett presided.

PROGRAM POSTPONED

"The Rainbow Wedding," scheduled to be presented last Thursday at Martin temple, negro church at Nineteenth and Adams streets, has been postponed until next Thursday. It will be presented at 8 p.m. Special seats will be reserved for whites.

MOREHOUSE WILL CONDUCT CLINIC

Crippled Tots Will Undergo Examination At Bastrop On April 22

BASTROP, La., April 9.—(Special)—A diagnostic clinic for crippled tots, sponsored by the Forty and Eight of the American Legion, will be held at Bastrop on April 22, Ancel W. Ard of the Morehouse unit, Louisiana Society for Crippled Children, announced at a meeting in the parish courthouse Friday night.

Ably assisted by Mrs. N. H. Fietel, of New Orleans, executive secretary of the state society, Chairman A. N. Robinson, chairman of membership committee, Mrs. Sam Orchard, Secretary Louie Mathis, and Assistant Secretary Alvin Arledge of the Ouachita parish unit, the Morehouse unit elected officers and set up a permanent organization.

The following officers were elected for the year: Ancel W. Ard, chairman; Rev. L. K. Yount, vice-chairman; Mrs. Allen Turpin, secretary; Leroy Matison, treasurer. Board of directors, Robert Harp, John Coats, Mrs. F. L. Billington, S. N. Story, Mrs. Esther Snyder and F. P. Robinson.

Plans were made to take part in the state-wide Easter seal sale and active membership drive, which in Morehouse parish, because of the late formation of the unit, will probably be carried over Easter week.

Enthusiastic support of the seal sale in Ouachita parish was reported by Mrs. Orchard. First returns indicate 100 per cent membership in many business houses in Monroe. Two contributing memberships of $5 each have been received. Membership in the Ouachita unit lists representatives from 21 social, benevolent and fraternal organizations in the Twin Cities.

In addressing the group, Mrs. Fietel told of the wonderful response by Louisiana people to the call to aid unfortunate children. In one town in the southern part of the state, five hours after the first meeting officers had been elected, permanent organization set up and active work begun, Mrs. Fietel said. One worker in Winnsboro sold $56 worth of seals in two hours.

Ultimate aims of the society were set forth by Mrs. Fietel in describing the splendid work that has been done in Cleveland, O. A sheltered workshop has been organized for men and women who are physically disabled. Transportation to and from work is furnished by the Rotarians and Lions. Orders for uniforms, dresses, furniture and other articles made by the workers are solicited by the social organizations. A gift shop is operated by the Junior Charity league at the Grand Central station in Cleveland. So much publicity has been given to the work there, Mrs. Fietel said, that no Cleveland bride will even consider beginning housekeeping unless supplied with towels and linens from the gift shop.

Considerable interest was aroused by Mrs. Orchard's announcement of a children's ward in the St. Francis sanitarium equipped with six beds, where a child may be admitted by an organization at the rate of $2 a day. This was granted by the mother superior eight years ago and is maintained by the St. Francis auxiliary.

BAPTIZING SCHEDULED

The Macedonia Baptist church, negro, will have a baptizing in the Ouachita river at the foot of Pine street this morning at 7:30 o'clock. Ten candidates will be baptized by the pastor, Rev. A. S. Jackson. The city of Monroe will furnish a special city bus that is to leave the church this morning at 6:45 o'clock to carry the candidates to the scene of the baptizing.

There are more than 40,000 different ways of seating eight persons at a table set for eight.

New York Doctor Lowers HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE in 22 out of 26 cases

Dr. Frederic Damrau, eminent physician of New York City, recently lowered the blood pressure in 22 out of 26 cases with ALLIMIN Essence of Garlic-Parsley Tablets. Not only did the blood pressure come down and stay down with the use of ALLIMIN, but dizziness and headaches were completely relieved in almost every case. To get the selfsame tablets used by Dr. Damrau, ask your druggist for ALLIMIN Essence of Garlic-Parsley Tablets and take no substitutes or imitations. STATE MEET FOR BAKERS PLANNED

Will Be Held Here On April 18-20; Many Entertainment Features

The seventh annual convention of the Louisiana State Bakers' association will bring a large number of delegates and their friends to Monroe on April 18-20, inclusive, according to President William Bennett, local baking company manager. Headquarters will be at Hotel Frances.

Registration will start a week from Tuesday at 7:30 a.m., and the convention will be called to order by the president at 9:30 a.m. Addresses of welcome will be delivered by Mayor H. H. Benoit and Judge W. M. Harper.

Out of the state speakers on the morning program will be Russell W. Varney, New York City, manager of the bakery merchandising department of Standard Brands, Inc. His theme will be "Who Counts?" and Dr. L. A. Rumsey, of W. E. Long company, Chicago, Ill., will speak on "Operating Cost and Management Control."

On Tuesday afternoon there will be a barbecue for bakers, allied tradesmen, their wives and guests at McGuire Park Golf club. Dancing, golf and baseball games are scheduled. At night there will be a dancing party and floor show at Three Mile inn.

Special entertainment will be provided for the ladies throughout the three days the convention will be in session.

The annual banquet will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Hotel Frances, which will conclude the convention.

Officers for the ensuing year will have been elected at a business meeting earlier in the day.

'CHANGE WEEK' PLANNED BY SPARK PLUG CONCERN

TOLEDO, O., April 9.—(Special)—The Champion Spark Plug company will observe its fourteenth "change week" May 2-8 this year, R. A. Stranahan, president, announced today.

"This event is our annual reminder to motorists of the benefits of changing spark plugs every 10,000 miles," said Mr. Stranahan.

"An expanded newspaper and magazine campaign will back up the program. Also, during the week, dealers will be equipped to render special service and to conduct tests on the efficiency of spark plugs in all makes of cars."

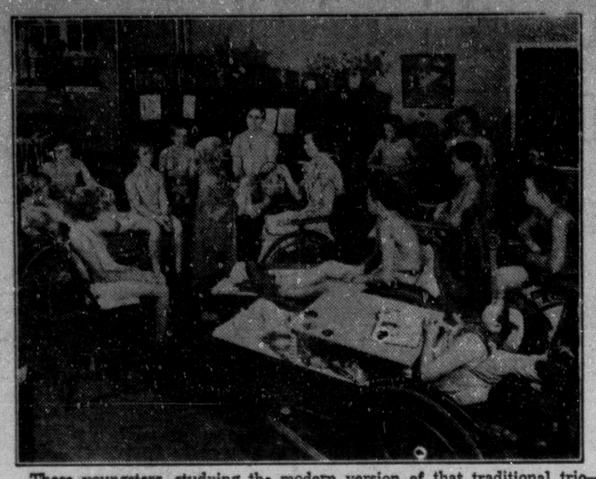
EDUCATING CRIPPLED YOUTHS



These youngsters, studying the modern version of that traditional trio—reading, writing and arithmetic—must learn about nouns, verbs and multiplication tables from the positions in wheel chairs and convalescent beds. If they go to the blackboard, it must be with the aid of crutches. Fractions and subtractions, adjectives and superlatives are no less real, no less troublesome to them. Classrooms such as this are designed to supply certain physical as well as mental needs of crippled children. The importance of educating these patients is stressed in the crippled child's "Bill of Rights."

Article 5 says: "Every crippled child has a right to an education. Without this, all other previous provisions, unless for the relief of actual suffering, are in vain."

The Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Society for Crippled Children has opened its seal campaign to raise funds which will aid in solving the problem of the crippled child. The Easter seals, selling for a penny, show a small girl with a crutch under her arm, watering a lily plant. The slogan: "A better life for crippled children" is appended.

Leche Supports Legion's Drive For National Honor

With the Louisiana department of the American Legion out to capture first place in the national membership drive which will mean that legionnaires will be entitled to lead the parade at the legion's 1938 national convention in Los Angeles, there will be required the enrollment of approximately 2,000 more veterans. Commander Alcee S. Legendre of the American Legion in Louisiana has set aside the week of April 9 to 16 as "American Legion week," for the purpose of going over the top in a big way. Governor Richard W. Leche, himself a legionnaire, has issued a proclamation in connection with this week and Mayor H. H. Benoit of Monroe has also issued a proclamation urging definite and concerted action.

The governor's proclamation is as follows:

"WHEREAS, the American Legion is an organization with membership composed of men who served in the military forces of the United States during the World war, and

"WHEREAS, the American Legion exists for the mutual advantages of its members and has dedicated its services and purposes for God and country, to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America, and to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy, and

"WHEREAS, the American Legion stands at all times ready to sustain, protect and serve our government, state and community in times of great emergencies and in times of peace, and

"WHEREAS, the American Legion in Louisiana at this time is endeavoring to secure an additional 2,000 members which will place it in a position to lead the great parade of the national convention of the legion in Los Angeles next September, and

"WHEREAS, the splendid record of the American Legion in Louisiana deserves the support of every veteran of the World war, now

"THEREFORE, I, Richard W. Leche, governor of the state of Louisiana, do hereby set aside and proclaim the week beginning April 9 and ending April 16 as American Legion week.

"THUS DONE, SIGNED AND SEALED with the great seal of the state of Louisiana this the 8th day of April, 1938.

(Signed) "RICHARD W. LECHE,
"Governor."

Mayor Benoit's proclamation is as follows:

"WHEREAS, Commander Alcee S. Legendre of the American Legion in Louisiana has set aside the week of April 9 to 16 as American Legion week, and,

"WHEREAS, Commander Legendre and the commanders of the 130 American Legion posts in the state of Louisiana are endeavoring to secure an additional 2,000 members for the purpose of leading the parade at the American Legion national convention in Los Angeles in September, and,

"WHEREAS, Governor Richard W. Leche, has issued a proclamation setting aside the week of April 9 to April 16 and designating the said week as American Legion week, and

"WHEREAS, the American Legion is an organization composed of men who served in the military forces in the United States during the World war and the splendid record of the American Legion in Louisiana deserves the support of every veteran of the World war, and,

"WHEREAS, the honor of leading the great parade at the American Legion National convention will bring good will, publicity, and honor to our state, now

"THEREFORE, I, Harvey H. Benoit, mayor of the city of Monroe, do hereby set aside and proclaim the week beginning April 9th and ending April 16th as American Legion week.

"THUS DONE, SIGNED AND SEALED with the seal of the city of Monroe, this 9th day of April, 1938.

"H. H. BENOIT,
"Mayor of the City of Monroe."

Crippled Tots Will Undergo Examination At Bastrop On April 22

BASTROP, La., April 9.—(Special)—A diagnostic clinic for crippled tots, sponsored by the Forty and Eight of the American Legion, will be held at Bastrop on April 22, Ancel W. Ard of the Morehouse unit, Louisiana Society for Crippled Children, announced at a meeting in the parish courthouse Friday night.

Ably assisted by Mrs. N. H. Fietel, of New Orleans, executive secretary of the state society, Chairman A. N. Robinson, chairman of membership committee, Mrs. Sam Orchard, Secretary Louie Mathis, and Assistant Secretary Alvin Arledge of the Ouachita parish unit, the Morehouse unit elected officers and set up a permanent organization.

The following officers were elected for the year: Ancel W. Ard, chairman; Rev. L. K. Yount, vice-chairman; Mrs. Allen Turpin, secretary; Leroy Matison, treasurer. Board of directors, Robert Harp, John Coats, Mrs. F. L. Billington, S. N. Story, Mrs. Esther Snyder and F. P. Robinson.

Plans were made to take part in the state-wide Easter seal sale and active membership drive, which in Morehouse parish, because of the late formation of the unit, will probably be carried over Easter week.

Enthusiastic support of the seal sale in Ouachita parish was reported by Mrs. Orchard. First returns indicate 100 per cent membership in many business houses in Monroe. Two contributing memberships of $5 each have been received. Membership in the Ouachita unit lists representatives from 21 social, benevolent and fraternal organizations in the Twin Cities.

In addressing the group, Mrs. Fietel told of the wonderful response by Louisiana people to the call to aid unfortunate children. In one town in the southern part of the state, five hours after the first meeting officers had been elected, permanent organization set up and active work begun, Mrs. Fietel said. One worker in Winnsboro sold $56 worth of seals in two hours.

Ultimate aims of the society were set forth by Mrs. Fietel in describing the splendid work that has been done in Cleveland, O. A sheltered workshop has been organized for men and women who are physically disabled. Transportation to and from work is furnished by the Rotarians and Lions. Orders for uniforms, dresses, furniture and other articles made by the workers are solicited by the social organizations. A gift shop is operated by the Junior Charity league at the Grand Central station in Cleveland. So much publicity has been given to the work there, Mrs. Fietel said, that no Cleveland bride will even consider beginning housekeeping unless supplied with towels and linens from the gift shop.

Considerable interest was aroused by Mrs. Orchard's announcement of a children's ward in the St. Francis sanitarium equipped with six beds, where a child may be admitted by an organization at the rate of $2 a day. This was granted by the mother superior eight years ago and is maintained by the St. Francis auxiliary.

BAPTIZING SCHEDULED

The Macedonia Baptist church, negro, will have a baptizing in the Ouachita river at the foot of Pine street this morning at 7:30 o'clock. Ten candicates will be baptized by the pastor, Rev. A. S. Jackson. The city of Monroe will furnish a special city bus that is to leave the church this morning at 6:45 o'clock to carry the candidates to the scene of the baptizing.

There are more than 40,000 different ways of seating eight persons at a table set for eight.

STERLINGTON MEN CONDUCT BANQUET

STERLINGTON, La., April 9.—(Special)—The Sterlington Men's Bible class held its regular monthly meeting at the Methodist church here Friday night. An address was delivered by Rev. J. F. Dring, pastor, on "The Interest of Men in the Church." He expressed appreciation that men are taking an interest in the Bible class and church.

Musical numbers by the assemblage were led by L. B. Stall, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. G. Muller.

The meal comprised a chicken spaghetti supper served by women of the church.

R. W. Cretney, superintendent of the Thermatomic Carbon company, explained the operation of the plant. His talk was educational and much appreciated.

The committee in charge of development of the water system reported that work will be completed shortly. This committee is composed of Matt Parker, Elmo Waugh and Carl Brooks.

Another committee that is in charge of equipping the Bible class auditorium with tables and chairs reported that all will be completed in time for the May meeting. On this committee are D. Y. Smith, John R. Horton and J. M. Powell.

Six new members were enrolled and L. B. Stall encouraged every man to bring a new member to the next meeting.

MRS. TISDALE GUEST SPEAKER AT MEETING

TALLULAH, La., April 9.—(Special)—Mrs. A. D. Tisdale of Monroe, president of the Fifth District Federation of Women's Clubs, delivered an address on the "Value of Federation" at a meeting of the Tallulah Book club held here Tuesday afternoon. She emphasized that an ideal club is one of study as well as service and stressed the ethics of the relationship of officers and members.

A musical program was rendered by Mrs. Lamar T. Loe and Mrs. Frank Montgomery, and Mrs. W. L. Rountree, who gave vocal numbers, and Mrs. M. A. Phillips and Mrs. J. O. Horn, piano selections. Mrs. R. T. Starrett presided.

PROGRAM POSTPONED

"The Rainbow Wedding," scheduled to be presented last Thursday at Martin temple, negro church at Nineteenth and Adams streets, has been postponed until next Thursday. It will be presented at 8 p.m. Special seats will be reserved for whites.

Gentlemen:

I want to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for your splendid cooperation in connection with Home Improvement Month. This movement to improve business conditions in the State throughout the slack Summer period has gained a tremendous impetus and has received wholehearted cooperation from the merchants and business men, the press, the radio stations and public officials. I feel sure that our sustained campaign will make this Summer the best in a business way that Louisiana has enjoyed in many years.

Thanking you again for your assistance,

I am

Yours very truly,

Christian World Reverently Observes Palm Sunday; Bright Easter Looming

Johnnie Smith Elbert Planning Tour Abroad

Many Attractive Young Guests, Here During Spring Holidays, Will Visit Monroe This Week

By Eve Bradford

PALM SUNDAY! The hush of spiritual things is upon us today. Music sweeps through the churches where voices are raised in the words, "Blessed is He who cometh to bring us salvation," from the immortal song, "The Palms," by Faure. Musical delineation of the Savior's last days is a form of church service that has existed since the fourth century. Since that time the form has remained virtually the same. The actual utterances of the Christ are the comments, petitions, and outcries of the apostles and the multitude, found in the words of Bach's masterpiece "Passion of Our Lord," sung by choirs the world over during holy week which starts on Palm Sunday and climaxes in the glorious song "Christ Is Risen," pouring from the throats of the church going throngs on Easter Sunday.

Once again we will greet the spring in lily-banked churches next Sunday. The Easter parade promises to be more colorful and more pompous than for many years. The styles this year are more beautiful than ever as it is a wide open season for color—scarlet gloves, yellow bags, blue facing to wide-brimmed hats and veils rivaling Joseph's coat of many colors. Beguiling indeed are the clothes displayed in local shops. Hats are small and flippant or enormous and floppy. If they are tiny they are only moorings for clumps of flowers and tied securely to smooth, curled heads with trailing veils.

Most of the motorists who have visited garden fiestas in various sections of the south have returned home but there is one among us, Johnnie Smith Elbert, who will greet the spring in Italy where the roses will be blooming on the sunny slopes and Venetian serenaders will sing for tourists who drift down the Grand canal in Venice. Mrs. Elbert will sail from New York City April 30 on board the "Conte di Savoia," for Naples. She and members of her party, Miss Marie Moore and Albert Haas of Chicago, will be guests at Hotel Royal for several days. They will visit Pompeii, Amalfi, Sorrento and the romantic island of Capri. In small row boats they will drift past picturesque white box-like houses, overlooking the Bay of Naples. They will board the train for Rome where two days will be spent, then going on to Florence and then to Venice. Budapest and Vienna will be visited, also Lucerne and Brussels. In Paris they will be guests at Hotel Commodore and then on to England where the countryside will be blossoming with hawthorne. Home on the Queen Mary will be a fitting climax to a glorious springtime visit in the old world.

The G. B. Cooleys and their house guest, Mrs. F. P. Bowen, greeted the early springtime among the blossoming orange groves, the scented sweetness of oleanders and hibiscus of Florida. They returned home last week from a motor trip along the coast to Daytona Beach, St. Augustine, Miami and Palm Beach and of course the Bellingrath gardens.

"The world is full of so many things we all should be as happy as kings." Yes indeed we should be happy. It is good just to see the golden sun, the azure sky, to walk upon the green earth and to be lord of a thousand creatures; to look over distant sunny slopes; to seek for truth; to be free to enjoy the mighty pageant that is staged for us. "The feast of reason and the flow of soul" to which we have all been invited is sufficient reason for being happy now.

There is one person in particular who is enjoying life to the fullest—Melba Gaston. We saw her recently in New Orleans and were invited to join her for a sail on Lake Pontchartrain. The night was a glorious one but a high wind was blowing and not being nautically minded we were rather fearful. Melba will spend every free moment from now until fall on the gulf coast where sailing is the daily occupation. Dr. Gaston will spend the summer commuting.

The Edward Appersons are sailing in the warm waters of the gulf today with a party of friends from Washington, New York and New Orleans. They arranged a house party at the White House and are enjoying reminiscing—living over again the happy days when they spent their summers on the gulf coast.

There will be more lovely young things in Monroe this week than you can shake a stick at. Thyra Holt home from L. S. U. with a guest, Elizabeth Scales of New Orleans. Robertine Rhymes home from Sophie Newcomb with two classmates, one from Alabama and one from Kentucky. They will be introduced to the younger set at a dancing party at Lakeside Country club on Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rhymes are giving the party for the visitors as well as their daughter, Robertine.

• • •

By the way, Thyra Holt is a member of Lambda, intersorority of Louisiana State university campus. Selection into Lambda is made on the basis of scholarship and leadership and each sorority has three representatives, a sophomore, a junior and a senior. Thyra is a member of Alpha Omega.

The very young set are not interested in the economic aspects of a bigger and better navy, balancing the budget or the war debts—but they are interested in the Easter egg hunt next Sunday afternoon at Forsythe park. Dancing in their heads are visions of Easter eggs ranging in size from tiny carnival-colored ones to great chocolate ones that split in two and reveal a prize—perhaps a diamond ring, who knows. Every child who goes to Forsythe park on Easter Sunday will receive a prize of some kind from their kind-hearted hosts, the city firemen who have arranged this gala affair for the children of this community.

Never have the shops been so lavishly adorned with Easter eggs as this year. It is a grand sight for the young and for those who are no longer young. Is there one among us who does not revel in the fluffy yellow chicks perched on colorful eggs nestling in baskets of vivid hue? There are Victorian panorama eggs bedecked with flowers and revealing garden vistas when you look through the peephole in one end; chocolate character eggs with bunny heads and candy eggs upon which the saleslady will write your name in gay colors.

Delta Beta Sigma members will go Spanish Wednesday night and dine on coroyones de apio, acetunas, sopa de frijol, arroz con pollo a la Catalana, chicheros verde, ensalade de lechuga y aguacate, fresas parfait, tortillas and cafe negro, in the patio at Hotel Frances. The dining hall will be converted into a court yard with tables covered with gayly colored linens and serviced with brilliant pottery, grouped "in the shade of the sheltering palms." The lovely senoritas will be chaperoned by Dell Paine and Eunice Haynes.

Bobby O'Donnel, student at Tulane university, is singing his way into the hearts of music directors, so we hear. He was recently made a member of the ultra and highly polished Newcomb-Tulane glee club and went with them to St. Louis for the centennial banquet. Tuxedoed and evening gowned they rendered Bach's compositions like regular troupers.

• • •

While people were being killed and made homeless in many sections of the country last week by storms and flood Monroe had one casualty during the heavy windstorm. Cleta Godfrey rushing to close an open window fell against a heavy piece of furniture and broke a bone in her foot. She will be a semi-invalid for six weeks with her foot in a plaster cast.

WILL WED IN EARLY SUMMER

Miss Helen King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd King of Baton Rouge, whose engagement to Mr. Shelby Causey Calhoun, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Calhoun of Bastrop, has just been announced. The wedding will take place in the early summer.

Much Time Given to Child Psychology

Never in the history of the world have parents devoted so much time to the study of child psychology as now. Never have so many helpful books been written and so many pictures been produced especially for the pleasure of children.

Children have no keener or more lasting pleasure than their hours in the theater, according to Clare Major, noted woman child psychologist who recommends above all else such pictures as "Hansel and Gretel," "Heidi," and "Daddy Longlegs."

One of the pictures especially recommended by Mrs. Major is "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Other pictures recommended are those in which the persecuting adults are punished and children emerge safe and happy. Practically every child has spells of believing that he is being persecuted by the adults around him. He is sure to have his hours of wondering whether he was adopted, believing that the parents could not treat him so badly if he were their own. So he recognizes himself in the character that is being persecuted. They all do that, girls and boys, but mostly boys.

Children revel in the transition to the land of make-believe. The thrill of "Peter Pan" lasts for life. This is a heritage of humanity since prehistoric times.

I don't think, says Mrs. Major that "many writers understand children's minds. They don't realize that boys and girls are not so much interested in stories about children as in a dramatization of the reaction between the child and the adult world. Children spend far more time thinking of themselves as the adults they are going to be than as the children they are. To them there is nothing contradictory in suddenly transposing a character to someone older. That is why the Cinderella theme is so popular."

Loyal Daughters Enjoy Social Hour

A social hour was enjoyed by the Loyal Daughters of the First Christian church, in the home of Mrs. L. B. McCarthy, Jr.

As a result of the game of hearts, introduced by the hostess for diversion, prizes were claimed by Mrs. L. D. Rogers and Mrs. Clyde Blanchard.

Delicious refreshments were served as the concludion of the brief business session, during which officers were elected as follows: president, Mrs. B. W. Friend; vice-president, Mrs. L. B. McCarthy; second vice-president, Mrs. J. M. Smith; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Scott; assistant secretary and treasurer, Miss Pearl Ramsey.

Members present were: Mrs. B. W. Friend, Miss Pearl Ramsey, Mrs. Johnnie Bell, Mrs. Clyde Blanchard, Mrs. George E. Ruffner, Mrs. Fred Keller, Mrs. R. T. Watson, Mrs. Kenneth Humphries, Mrs. R. O. Ware, Mrs. B. B. Martin, Mrs. L. D. Rogers, Mrs. S. W. Raby, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. T. R. Easterling and the hostess.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. R. O. Ware with Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Raby co-hostesses.

Women's Clubs Boost Louisiana Products

Every club of the Louisiana Federation of Women's clubs is urged to devote at least one program of the year to one or more phases of work outlined in the department of American home program.

In order that definite and worthwhile results may be obtained, followed up and reported, every club, having an organization that will permit, should, and is urged to have an American home department within the club and to cooperate with that department in some specific work for the good of the homes, individually, and for the community as a whole.

Every club should be familiar with the work of all agencies working in the community, and wherever there is opportunity, assistance should be given in promoting work that has for its purpose the improvement of living conditions and development of good citizenship.

In compliance with suggestions from the state home demonstration agent and her staff, members of the Federation of Women's clubs are advised that if more people in Louisiana used Louisiana dairy products, Louisiana poultry products and Louisiana meat, it would be a good stimulus to those three agricultural industries of our state; that women of the federated clubs might help to bring about more interest in the improvement of rural homes and finally more improvement in general if they would give some study to Louisiana housing, perhaps broadening the subject by including old homes of Louisiana and correlated topics. Program material, outlines, and references could be supplied through the Louisiana agricultural extension service.

The American home department of the Louisiana Federated Women's clubs therefore recommends that the local clubs confer with the parish agricultural agent and the home demonstration agent as to date available and the best procedure, locally, to increase use of Louisiana meat, poultry, and dairy products, and as to the best procedure to stimulate active interest in better housing.

Complying with requests from the chairman of department of American home of the General Federation of Women's clubs and a resolutio. passed by the board of the General Federation of Women's club at a meeting held in Washington, D. C., January of this year, women of the Louisiana Federation of Women's clubs should have an understanding of and assist in the passage of a uniform marriage and divorce law for the United States which will serve for the best interest of humanity.

Of interest to friends is the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Ila Louise Woods and Mr. Dan L. Frost, Wednesday evening, April 6, at the home of the bride with Rev. I. J. Brooks, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, officiating.

The bride wore navy blue and beige ensemble with accessories of navy blue. A corsage of bride's roses and valley lilies was worn.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Russell of Shreveport.

Mr. and Mrs. Frost are now at home to their friends at 600 Moore street.

Kay Powell of Chicago is the guest for a few days of Mrs. Florence Zeigler Allbritton and Miss Mary Jeanette Zeigler. Mrs. Powell visited in Monroe several years ago and delighted audiences with Cajun song numbers, several of which were composed by Mrs. Blanche Oliver. Mrs. Powell was the guest artist at the Little Theater production of "The Cajun," and later appeared in concert in this city.

Mary Lin O'Kelly Observes Birthday

Mary Lin O'Kelly was complimented by her aunt, Miss Mary O'Kelly, who arranged a party at the O'Kelly home in commemoration of her twelfth birthday anniversary.

The festivities were enjoyed in the library, banked with beautiful garden flowers. Bingo supplied the afternoon's diversion and the gifts were presented to the winners from a large Easter basket.

The guests were invited later to the dining room for the cutting of the handsomely embossed birthday cake centering the beautifully appointed tea table. Delicious confections were served by Miss O'Kelly, assisted by Mrs. Charles Mitchell and Mrs. Faulkner Heard.

Guests invited to share the pleasure with Mary Lin were Betty Jane Wilds, Jean Carroll, Dorothy Prater, Emily McCaleb, Mary Ann St. John, Evelyn Middleton, Rita Clements, Adrion Gaston, Vera Joe Cannon, Arnold Barker, Bobby Hornberger, Blythe Cragon, Buddy Smith, Bill Hardin, Billy Jackson, Ernest Grafton, Ernest St. John, Bill Heard and Donald Wadley.

Luncheon Given By Mrs. Thornhill

Mrs. Bridger Thornhill placed a flaring crystal bowl overflowing with tulips, delphinium and sweet peas, on the beautifully appointed luncheon table in her home on St. John drive when she entertained complimentary to Mrs. A. L. Bertrand of Perry Point, Md., and her sister, Mrs. Frank Gordon of Marion, Ala., on Friday at 1 o'clock.

Four delicious courses were faultlessly served to Mrs. Bertrand, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mrs. E. H. Hill, Mrs. Blanks Parker and the hostess.

Friends will be glad to know that Mr. Harold Heinberg is now convalescing nicely from a recent appendectomy at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nailling of Union City, Tenn., are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Thebus on Alexander avenue.

Johnnie Smith Elbert Planning Tour Abroad

By Eve Bradford

PALM SUNDAY! The hush of spiritual things is upon us today. Music sweeps through the churches where voices are raised in the words, "Blessed is He who cometh to bring us salvation," from the immortal song, "The Palms," by Faure. Musical delineation of the Savior's last days is a form of church service that has existed since the fourth century. Since that time the form has remained virtually the same. The actual utterances of the Christ are the comments, petitions, and outcries of the apostles and the multitude, found in the words of Bach's masterpiece "Passion of Our Lord," sung by choirs the world over during holy week which starts on Palm Sunday and climaxes in the glorious song "Christ Is Risen," pouring from the throats of the church going throngs on Easter Sunday.

Once again we will greet the spring in lily-banked churches next Sunday. The Easter parade promises to be more colorful and more pompous than for many years. The styles this year are more beautiful than ever as it is a wide open season for color—scarlet gloves, yellow bags, blue facing to wide-brimmed hats and veils rivaling Joseph's coat of many colors. Beguiling indeed are the clothes displayed in local shops. Hats are small and flippant or enormous and floppy. If they are tiny they are only moorings for clumps of flowers and tied securely to smooth, curled heads with trailing veils.

Most of the motorists who have visited garden fiestas in various sections of the south have returned home but there is one among us, Johnnie Smith Elbert, who will greet the spring in Italy where the roses will be blooming on the sunny slopes and Venetian serenaders will sing for tourists who drift down the Grand canal in Venice. Mrs. Elbert will sail from New York City April 30 on board the "Conte di Savoia," for Naples. She and members of her party, Miss Marie Moore and Albert Haas of Chicago, will be guests at Hotel Royal for several days. They will visit Pompeii, Amalfi, Sorrento and the romantic island of Capri. In small row boats they will drift past picturesque white box-like houses, overlooking the Bay of Naples. They will board the train for Rome where two days will be spent, then going on to Florence and then to Venice. Budapest and Vienna will be visited, also Lucerne and Brussels. In Paris they will be guests at Hotel Commodore and then on to England where the countryside will be blossoming with hawthorne. Home on the Queen Mary will be a fitting climax to a glorious springtime visit in the old world.

The G. B. Cooleys and their house guest, Mrs. F. P. Bowen, greeted the early springtime among the blossoming orange groves, the scented sweetness of oleanders and hibiscus of Florida. They returned home last week from a motor trip along the coast to Daytona Beach, St. Augustine, Miami and Palm Beach and of course the Bellingrath gardens.

"The world is full of so many things we all should be as happy as kings." Yes indeed we should be happy. It is good just to see the golden sun, the azure sky, to walk upon the green earth and to be lord of a thousand creatures; to look over distant sunny slopes; to seek for truth; to be free to enjoy the mighty pageant that is staged for us. "The feast of reason and the flow of soul" to which we have all been invited is sufficient reason for being happy now.

There is one person in particular who is enjoying life to the fullest—Melba Gaston. We saw her recently in New Orleans and were invited to join her for a sail on Lake Pontchartrain. The night was a glorious one but a high wind was blowing and not being nautically minded we were rather fearful. Melba will spend every free moment from now until fall on the gulf coast where sailing is the daily occupation. Dr. Gaston will spend the summer commuting.

The Edward Appersons are sailing in the warm waters of the gulf today with a party of friends from Washington, New York and New Orleans. They arranged a house party at the White House and are enjoying reminiscing—living over again the happy days when they spent their summers on the gulf coast.

There will be more lovely young things in Monroe this week than you can shake a stick at. Thyra Holt home from L. S. U. with a guest, Elizabeth Scales of New Orleans. Robertine Rhymes home from Sophie Newcomb with two classmates, one from Alabama and one from Kentucky. They will be introduced to the younger set at a dancing party at Lakeside Country club on Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rhymes are giving the party for the visitors as well as their daughter, Robertine.

• • •

By the way, Thyra Holt is a member of Lambda, intersorority of Louisiana State university campus. Selection into Lambda is made on the basis of scholarship and leadership and each sorority has three representatives, a sophomore, a junior and a senior. Thyra is a member of Alpha Omega.

The very young set are not interested in the economic aspects of a bigger and better navy, balancing the budget or the war debts—but they are interested in the Easter egg hunt next Sunday afternoon at Forsythe park. Dancing in their heads are visions of Easter eggs ranging in size from tiny carnival-colored ones to great chocolate ones that split in two and reveal a prize—perhaps a diamond ring, who knows. Every child who goes to Forsythe park on Easter Sunday will receive a prize of some kind from their kind-hearted hosts, the city firemen who have arranged this gala affair for the children of this community.

Never have the shops been so lavishly adorned with Easter eggs as this year. It is a grand sight for the young and for those who are no longer young. Is there one among us who does not revel in the fluffy yellow chicks perched on colorful eggs nestling in baskets of vivid hue? There are Victorian panorama eggs bedecked with flowers and revealing garden vistas when you look through the peephole in one end; chocolate character eggs with bunny heads and candy eggs upon which the saleslady will write your name in gay colors.

Delta Beta Sigma members will go Spanish Wednesday night and dine on coroyones de apio, acetunas, sopa de frijol, arroz con pollo a la Catalana, chicheros verde, ensalade de lechuga y aguacate, fresas parfait, tortillas and cafe negro, in the patio at Hotel Frances. The dining hall will be converted into a court yard with tables covered with gayly colored linens and serviced with brilliant pottery, grouped "in the shade of the sheltering palms." The lovely senoritas will be chaperoned by Dell Paine and Eunice Haynes.

Bobby O'Donnel, student at Tulane university, is singing his way into the hearts of music directors, so we hear. He was recently made a member of the ultra and highly polished Newcomb-Tulane glee club and went with them to St. Louis for the centennial banquet. Tuxedoed and evening gowned they rendered Bach's compositions like regular troupers.

While people were being killed and made homeless in many sections of the country last week by storms and flood Monroe had one casualty during the heavy windstorm. Cleta Godfrey rushing to close an open window fell against a heavy piece of furniture and broke a bone in her foot. She will be a semi-invalid for six weeks with her foot in a plaster cast.

WILL WED IN EARLY SUMMER

Miss Helen King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd King of Baton Rouge, whose engagement to Mr. Shelby Causey Calhoun, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Calhoun of Bastrop, has just been announced. The wedding will take place in the early summer.

Much Time Given to Child Psychology

Never in the history of the world have parents devoted so much time to the study of child psychology as now. Never have so many helpful books been written and so many pictures been produced especially for the pleasure of children.

Children have no keener or more lasting pleasure than their hours in the theater, according to Clare Major, noted woman child psychologist who recommends above all else such pictures as "Hansel and Gretel," "Heidi," and "Daddy Longlegs."

One of the pictures especially recommended by Mrs. Major is "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Other pictures recommended are those in which the persecuting adults are punished and children emerge safe and happy. Practically every child has spells of believing that he is being persecuted by the adults around him. He is sure to have his hours of wondering whether he was adopted, believing that the parents could not treat him so badly if he were their own. So he recognizes himself in the character that is being persecuted. They all do that, girls and boys, but mostly boys.

Children revel in the transition to the land of make-believe. The thrill of "Peter Pan" lasts for life. This is a heritage of humanity since prehistoric times.

I don't think, says Mrs. Major that "many writers understand children's minds. They don't realize that boys and girls are not so much interested in stories about children as in a dramatization of the reaction between the child and the adult world. Children spend far more time thinking of themselves as the adults they are going to be than as the children they are. To them there is nothing contradictory in suddenly transposing a character to someone older. That is why the Cinderella theme is so popular."

Child Welfare Program Given By American Legion Auxiliary Of Faulk Pos

Arrangements Made By Mrs. T. C. Mahr

Mrs. Mitchell, Dr. Wolff, Mr. Winkler And Dr. Perot Among Those Making Addresses

In observance of child welfare month, the L. B. Faulk unit of the American Legion auxiliary through the unit child welfare chairman, Mrs. T. C. Mahr, arranged a child welfare program and invited the local post and the Forty and Eight to meet with them.

The meeting was held Friday evening at the American Legion memorial home with the vice-president, Mrs. H. B. McClendon, presiding. The colors were advanced by Mr. L. M. Talbot and Mrs. H. L. Stamets. After the formal opening the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Mahr, who stated the purpose of the meeting and introduced the speakers.

Mr. Charles M. Mitchell, department child welfare chairman of the American Legion, spoke briefly on "The Legion's Child Welfare Program." He said that it was a three-phase program—educational, legislative and material relief. The legion cooperated with all existing agencies and did not supplant the local services but tried to strengthen and coordinate all of the existing services to the end that all the children would be better provided for, he said.

Dr. Irving J. Wolff next spoke on the subject of "The Juvenile Delinquent." He stated that in his work as physician at the Louisiana Training institute he come in contact with the youthful offender and now in his position as parish coroner he is brought in touch with the adult offender. He spoke of the alarming number of young persons 20 years and under who are found in the penal institutions. He stated that after much study he was convinced that there were five cardinal points in the cause of delinquency—lack of proper environment conducive to healthy development of the individual, lack of proper parental care; lack of satisfactory education; idleness; lack of religious training. In speaking on point number four he mentioned the money being spent for civic improvements and lamented the fact that not one cent was being spent for playground or recreation centers. He stated that it was his hope that some interest could be aroused as to the need for more recreational and playground centers, and that action should be taken to acquire places where the idle boy and girl could spend their leisure time in supervised play.

Mr. Joe Winkler, the Ouachita parish child welfare worker of the department of public welfare next spoke on "The Types of Child Welfare Services Being Carried on By the Department of Public Welfare." He stated that this is a special phase of work under part three of the social security act and is available to areas predominantly rural. The cases referred to him were those cases which require special study and treatment, cases where the home life is not satisfactory. Unless corrected, it is necessary to provide other institutional or foster boarding home care for the child, then the behavior problems have to be handled, the cases of the physically or mentally handicapped child by providing vocational training and guidance to this group of unfortunates, acting as an agent of the court for investigations of cases of neglect or transfer of custody or adoptions, acting as investigators or parole advisers for state institutions when requested, and working with communities when coping with their juvenile delinquency problems.

The next speaker was Dr. P. L. Perot, who spoke on "The Prevention of Blindness." Dr. Perot said in part: "It has been estimated that the financial cost of blindness in the United States including loss of earning power is in excess of forty million dollars a year and that three out of four cases of blindness were preventable. Due to better care of the mother during child-birth that there is only one-fourth as much blindness that occurs at child-birth as there was 30 years ago. Approximately one-eighth of the entire school population are handicapped in their education by defective sight, and this defective vision or disease of the eye not only has a detrimental influence upon the child in his school work but may react upon his general health, and upon his adjustments to his school, his playmates and even his family. This point should be recognized and visual defects corrected as soon as discovered."

Dr. Perot said further that we must not think of the eyes as something apart from the body but rather as a part of a living being, then we cannot fail to be impressed with what is good for the body in general is good for the eyes, and what is bad for the body in general is bad for the eyes. He then spoke of the different diseases and defects that cause defective vision and blindness and how they should be treated, and stressed the fact that eye injuries should be meddled with as little as possible.

Mr. Jesse D'Armond, chef de gare of the Forty and Eight, spoke on the Forty and Eight child welfare program and introduced Mr. S. E. Dodd, who spoke on the Forty and Eight crippled children's clinics which the local vesture is sponsoring in all the parishes of the fifth district. He stated that two clinics had already been held and that dates for four more had been set and that they would continue until all the parishes have had a clinic.

At the conclusion of the program a social hour was enjoyed with sandwiches and cold drinks served by Mrs. Wayne Huckaby, Mrs. Oscar Johnson and Miss May Faulk.

Miss Fitler Marries Harold Burkhalter

The interest of friends is centered in the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Fitler of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lucille Fitler, to Mr. Harold Burkhalter, Saturday, April 9, at 6 o'clock in the evening, with Rev. W. C. Scott, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

The bride wore a smart, advanced spring model of Wallis blue with accessories of a darker shade of blue. A corsage of bride's roses and valley lilies added a distinctive touch.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkhalter, following their honeymoon, will be at home to their friends at 200 Pargoud.

Child Welfare Program Given By American Legion Auxiliary Of Faulk Post

Arrangements Made By Mrs. T. C. Mahr

Mrs. Mitchell, Dr. Wolff, Mr. Winkler And Dr. Perot Among Those Making Addresses

In observance of child welfare month, the L. B. Faulk unit of the American Legion auxiliary through the unit child welfare chairman, Mrs. T. C. Mahr, arranged a child welfare program and invited the local post and the Forty and Eight to meet with them.

The meeting was held Friday evening at the American Legion memorial home with the vice-president, Mrs. H. B. McClendon, presiding. The colors were advanced by Mr. L. M. Talbot and Mrs. H. L. Stamets. After the formal opening the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Mahr, who stated the purpose of the meeting and introduced the speakers.

Mr. Charles M. Mitchell, department child welfare chairman of the American Legion, spoke briefly on "The Legion's Child Welfare Program." He said that it was a three-phase program—educational, legislative and material relief. The legion cooperated with all existing agencies and did not supplant the local services but tried to strengthen and coordinate all of the existing services to the end that all the children would be better provided for, he said.

Dr. Irving J. Wolff next spoke on the subject of "The Juvenile Delinquent." He stated that in his work as physician at the Louisiana Training institute he came in contact with the youthful offender and now in his position as parish coroner he is brought in touch with the adult offender. He spoke of the alarming number of young persons 20 years and under who are found in the penal institutions. He stated that after much study he was convinced that there were five cardinal points in the cause of delinquency—lack of proper environment conducive to healthy development of the individual; lack of proper parental care; lack of satisfactory education; idleness; lack of religious training. In speaking on point number four he mentioned the money being spent for civic improvements and lamented the fact that not one cent was being spent for playground or recreation centers. He stated that it was his hope that some interest could be aroused as to the need for more recreational and playground centers, and that action should be taken to acquire places where the idle boy and girl could spend their leisure time in supervised play.

Mr. Joe Winkler, the Ouachita parish child welfare worker of the department of public welfare, next spoke on "The Types of Child Welfare Services Being Carried on By the Department of Public Welfare." He stated that this is a special phase of work under part three of the social security act and is available to areas predominantly rural. The cases referred to him were those cases which require special study and treatment; cases where the home life is not satisfactory. Unless corrected, it is necessary to provide other institutional or foster boarding home care for the child; then the behavior problems have to be handled; the cases of the physically or mentally handicapped child by providing vocational training and guidance to this group of unfortunates; acting as an agent of the court for investigations of cases of neglect or transfer of custody or adoptions; acting as investigators or parole advisers for state institutions when requested, and working with communities when coping with their juvenile delinquency problems.

The next speaker was Dr. P. L. Perot, who spoke on "The Prevention of Blindness." Dr. Perot said in part: "It has been estimated that the financial cost of blindness in the United States including loss of earning power is in excess of forty million dollars a year and that three out of four cases of blindness were preventable. Due to better care of the mother during child-birth that there is only one-fourth as much blindness that occurs at child-birth as there was 30 years ago. Approximately one-eighth of the entire school population are handicapped in their education by defective sight, and this defective vision or disease of the eye not only has a detrimental influence upon the child in his school work but may react upon his general health, and upon his adjustments to his school, his playmates and even his family. This point should be recognized and visual defects corrected as soon as discovered."

Dr. Perot said further that we must not think of the eyes as something apart from the body but rather as a part of a living being, then we cannot fail to be impressed with what is good for the body in general is good for the eyes, and what is bad for the body in general is bad for the eyes. He then spoke of the different diseases and defects that cause defective vision and blindness and how they should be treated, and stressed the fact that eye injuries should be meddled with as little as possible.

Mr. Jesse D'Armond, chef de gare of the Forty and Eight, spoke on the Forty and Eight child welfare program and introduced Mr. S. E. Dodd, who spoke on the Forty and Eight crippled children's clinics which the local voiture is sponsoring in all the parishes of the fifth district. He stated that two clinics had already been held and that dates for four more had been set and that they would continue until all the parishes have had a clinic.

At the conclusion of the program a social hour was enjoyed with sandwiches and cold drinks served by Mrs. Wayne Huckaby, Mrs. Oscar Johnson and Miss May Faulk.

Greatest of all perhaps is the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, members of which guide the destinies of the children of today who become the men and women of tomorrow. Leadership, therefore, should be in the hands of members who feel a sense of responsibility for the vital instead of the secondary things.

The annual convention of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association brings to mind a group of women, leaders in the parent-teacher work, whose value to the state is inestimable. They will play an important part in this year's annual convention in New Orleans, April 21, 22, 23. Headquarters will be at the St. Charles hotel.

The theme "Partners in Progress," challenges the thinking parents, teachers and all friends of the children and schools. The program, in every detail, has been planned to give to the delegates and visitors a larger vision of the purpose of parent-teacher work, a more comprehensive view of its scope of activities and, through the many sessions and conferences, helpful information and suggested methods in carrying on the work. The speakers have been chosen with a view to their ability to bring their best thoughts based upon experiences in their respective fields of endeavor.

Local committees in New Orleans are making elaborate plans for the comfort, convenience and pleasure of all who attend the convention.

National and state officers will welcome the opportunity to meet the delegates and to give their aid in every way possible.

Mrs. James Fitts Hill of Montgomery, Ala., one of the vice-presidents of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will represent the national president, Mrs. J. K. Pettengill of Detroit, Mich., at the Louisiana convention. Mrs. L. A. Mailhes, Shreveport, La., another national vice-president, will attend, as will Miss Marion Telford, New York City, national chairman of safety.

The New Orleans Council of Parents and Teachers, of which Mrs. Roger Sharp is president, will be the hostess organization. Details of local arrangements are in charge of various Parent-Teacher association units.

Mrs. Edward A. Fowler is general chairman for the convention and Mrs. Paul A. Blanchard, Baton Rouge, who is fourth vice-president of the state organization, is program chairman. Serving as hostesses for national guests will be Mrs. Henry Alcus, a past state president; Mrs. L. S. Davis, a past president of the New Orleans council; Mrs. Benjamin Dart and Mrs. S. W. Labrot.

"The program," said Mrs. Blanchard, "will demonstrate the objects from which we were founded through the approaches of home, school, church and community. To this end, various leaders in the fields of education, child welfare, religious and community leadership will be invited to participate."

Conferences have been planned by Mrs. Blanchard of parent education, directors' problems, presidents' problems, summer roundups, children's reading, program building, publications and by-laws or parliamentary law.

The legislative program of the state organization will be discussed and plans offered for its prosecution.

For the less serious side of the convention, the New Orleans Council of Parents and Teachers has planned a banquet, a presidents' luncheon and a delegates' luncheon. There will be a tour of the French Quarter with girls from the Margaret C. Hanson Normal college for guides and a tea at Newcomb college.

Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. Meets

The Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Douglas Jenkins.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. C. W. Williams. Reports from chairmen of the standing committees were given.

Mrs. Stewart, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Nina Taylor, who presented a group of seventh grade pupils in a choral reading.

The school band, directed by Mr. Charles Gaushell, entertained with several selections.

Beverly Glyn Martin gave a delightful Dutch song and dance number.

Dr. Carolyn Tiebout spoke on the subject, "The Importance of Adult Education." She said in part: "Experiments have proven that adults are capable of learning even up to the age of 95. There are over one and a half million adults in schools throughout the country.

"Parent education is one of the most important phases of the program of adult education."

Miss Wossman gave the basis of selection for the teachers in this community—training, character and personality.

Questions pertaining to the relation of community to school were discussed by several members of the group.

Mr. Pettit discussed an article, "A Greater Measure of Good Will for Your School," by James B. Edmondson. He gave some ideas concerning those things that parents expect of teachers.

The program was concluded with the counting of the parents, which gave Mrs. Granberry's sixth grade the award for attendance.

Lake Providence P.-T. A. Elects

Officers re-elected to serve a second year for the Lake Providence High school P.-T. A. were Mrs. Sidney A. Seegers, president; Mrs. W. M. Moore, first vice-president; Mrs. Earnest Newman, second vice-president, and Mrs. J. P. Davis, treasurer. Mrs. Roy Abernethy was elected secretary, succeeding Mrs. Arthur Crump.

The state P.-T. A. asked the Lake Providence P.-T. A. to circulate a petition asking endorsement of the 12-year school plan to replace the present 11-year plan.

Donations were made to the Red Cross emergency supply box.

The association will sponsor a carnival on the school grounds Friday, April 29, and school buses will bring people in from the rural areas.

The Lake Providence P.-T. A. endorsed the citizen's library movement.

Committee members named to assist in plans for the supervised playground for the summer months were Mrs. J. H. Guenard, Mrs. A. J. Wyly, Rev. G. A. Nelson, Mrs. C. R. Evans and Father F. J. Plutz.

Delegates for the state convention are Mrs. S. A. Seegers, Mrs. A. J. Wyly and Mrs. W. Y. Bell, with Mrs. J. H. Guenard, Mrs. Roy Abernethy and Mrs. Ralph Aly, alternates.

The eighth grade won the attendance prize. Fifty members attended the meeting.

More Than 60 Attend Clarks P.-T. A. Meet

More than 60 persons were present at a meeting of the Clarks P.-T. A. held in the Baptist church.

Mrs. G. N. Harrison, chairman of the Caldwell parish civic committee, gave an inspiring talk on "Health and Beautification," a parish-wide project sponsored by the committee through the civic and health organizations in the parish. Other speakers and their subjects included: P. E. Cooksey, local scoutmaster, "What We Should Do to Improve Sanitation"; Miss Elsie Sutton, home economics teacher, "Keeping a House Clean," and Karl Kraft, seventh grade teacher, "Health and Sanitation."

Miss Marjorie Lewis gave an accordion concert of several favorite numbers. The high school glee club rendered a chorus.

The pupils of the sixth grade and their teacher, Miss Ada Woods, were awarded the honor of having the largest number of mothers among those in attendance at the meeting.

During the business session the following officers were elected to serve for the 1938-39 school year: Mrs. Walter Crowell, president; Mrs. H. O. Cooksey, vice-president, and Miss Marie Minard, secretary-treasurer.

Harrisonburg P.-T. A. Names Vice-President

The Parent-Teacher association of Harrisonburg High school met on Tuesday, April 6, and held its regular monthly meeting.

During the business session a vice-president was elected to fill the place of Mrs. Lottie Gibson, who took the place of the resigning president, Mrs. Dan Gremillion. Mr. W. A. Kelly was elected.

Reports from committees were given and recorded by the secretary.

An interesting talk on the building program for a new school building at Harrisonburg High school was given by Professor J. A. Wedgeworth.

Reports from roll call showed a tie for the prize for mothers representing the fourth and first grades.

A delightful program on "Louisiana Birds" was given by Mrs. Elsie Routon and a number of pupils.

Delicious refreshments of caramel ice cream and cookies was served by the home economics department.

The P.-T. A. will be entertained at its next meeting by the Harrisonburg High school band.

Jonesboro P.-T. A. Officers Reelected

The Parent-Teacher association of the high school in Jonesboro and Hodge held a regular meeting at the school building.

Mrs. T. G. Dennis, the president, presided. The nominating committee appointed at the last meeting unanimously reported in favor of the re-election of the old officers for another year as follows:

Mrs. T. G. Dennis, president; Mrs. David Bell, first vice-president; Mrs. Hazle Shively, secretary; Mrs. C. L. Frey, treasurer.

Miss Grace Walker, physical education teacher in the high school, led in the discussion of a "Health Program in the Schools of Today." She was assisted by Rev. W. F. Roberts of the Methodist church and Mrs. I. J. Allen.

Enterprise P.-T. A. met for its regular program. Parent education was the theme. The program was in charge of Mr. F. H. Holderman, vocational agriculture instructor, and Miss Cora Lee Stokes, second grade teacher.

At the beginning of the program Miss Doris McCrary, home economics instructor, conducted an interesting topic on courtesy with her study group.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is taking no chances on Easter weather.

Shopping in New York City last week, the president's wife chose two ensembles. One is for wear in fair weather, the other in cool and cloudy weather.

For a fair weather costume, Mrs. Roosevelt chose a navy blue costume suit of silk sheer, trimmed in white pique, with three-quarter length coat, with white gloves and white bag. To match, she selected a navy sailor hat, with round, medium brim, also trimmed with white pique. The veil, designed to fall over the face, was tied up, by her insistence, behind the hat.

"I won't wear a veil over my face," she exclaimed. "I went through all the years when people wore them, and I won't begin again!"

For comfort along with style just in case the weather man forgets again what month it is, Mrs. Roosevelt's selection was a cape coat over a silk print dress of orange and green flowers against a blue background. For this the hat is a navy blue tricorne beret with pleated grosgrain ribbon crown.

And Mrs. Roosevelt did something else unusual for women on an Easter shopping tour. She did the whole thing in 50 minutes. Choosing the two hats took less than three minutes, bystanders said.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Oliver motored to the gulf coast on Saturday to attend a meeting of the national executive board of the American Bankers association to be held at the Edgewater Gulf hotel.

Mrs. F. P. Bowen, a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Cooley for several months and who accompanied them on a motor trip to Florida, will return to her home in Savannah, Ill., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cummings sold their home on L street and will be at home with Mr. Cummings' mother, Mrs. W. F. Cummings, until their new home on Island drive is ready for occupancy.

Friends will be glad to learn of the continued improvement in the condition of Mrs. Harry W. McCleod, Jr., who underwent a major operation April 4, at a New Orleans hospital.

Mrs. Louise Coates announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Marguerite Nix, to Mr. Keith Crews on February 17. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. I. L. Yeager, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, Monroe, in the presence of a few intimate friends.

Mr. Crews is the son of Mrs. Blanche Crews of Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Crews will be at home to their friends at 2704 Lee avenue.

Mrs. Bridger Thornhill returned home last week from Marion, Ala., accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Frank Gordon, in whose home she enjoyed a week's visit. Mrs. Gordon will be a guest for a week in the Thornhill home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bertrand of Perry Point, Md., are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blanks Parker and Mrs. E. H. Hill.

Swartz

Miss Irene Turner of Gainesville, Fla., is convalescing at the home of her mother, Mrs. Tom McCullough, at Swartz, following an appendectomy. She may receive visitors.

Harrisonburg

Mrs. J. W. Walters of Baton Rouge, Miss Minnie Carter of Monroe, were guests of their brother, P. F. Carter.

Parent-Teacher Activities Outstanding Phase Of Women's Club Movement

State Convention To Be Held April 21-23

'Partners In Progress' Theme of Meeting; New Orleans Plans Much Entertainment

Women's clubs represent one of the most thoroughly organized movements in America today. Through their programs thousands of women are acquainted with problems and provided with information by means of which decisions can be reached. From the women's clubs this information goes to homes, schools, offices and workshops.

The women's club movement can be the bulwark of democracy or an agent of regimentation. Present indications are that they are interested and determined to preserve American democratic institutions, thus constituting one of the greatest educational forces in America.

Greatest of all perhaps is the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, members of which guide the destinies of the children of today who become the men and women of tomorrow. Leadership, therefore, should be in the hands of members who feel a sense of responsibility for the vital instead of the secondary things.

The annual convention of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association brings to mind a group of women, leaders in the parent-teacher work, whose value to the state is inestimable. They will play an important part in this year's annual convention in New Orleans, April 21, 22, 23. Headquarters will be at the St. Charles hotel.

The theme "Partners in Progress," challenges the thinking parents, teachers and all friends of the children and schools. The program, in every detail, has been planned to give to the delegates and visitors a larger vision of the purpose of parent-teacher work, a more comprehensive view of its scope of activities and, through the many sessions and conferences, helpful information and suggested methods in carrying on the work. The speakers have been chosen with a view to their ability to bring their best thoughts based upon experiences in their respective fields of endeavor.

Local committees in New Orleans are making elaborate plans for the comfort, convenience and pleasure of all who attend the convention.

National and state officers will welcome the opportunity to meet the delegates and to give their aid in every way possible.

Mrs. James Fitts Hill of Montgomery, Ala., one of the vice-presidents of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will represent the national president, Mrs. J. K. Pettengill of Detroit, Mich., at the Louisiana convention. Mrs. L. A. Mailhes, Shreveport, La., another national vice-president, will attend, as will Miss Marion Telford, New York City, national chairman of safety.

The New Orleans Council of Parents and Teachers, of which Mrs. Roger Sharp is president, will be the hostess organization. Details of local arrangements are in charge of various Parent-Teacher association units.

Mrs. Edward A. Fowler is general chairman for the convention and Mrs. Paul A. Blanchard, Baton Rouge, who is fourth vice-president of the state organization, is program chairman. Serving as hostesses for national guests will be Mrs. Henry Alcus, a past state president; Mrs. L. S. Davis, a past president of the New Orleans council; Mrs. Benjamin Dart and Mrs. S. W. Labrot.

"The program," said Mrs. Blanchard, "will demonstrate the objects from which we were founded through the approaches of home, school, church and community. To this end, various leaders in the fields of education, child welfare, religious and community leadership will be invited to participate."

Conferences have been planned by Mrs. Blanchard of parent education, directors' problems, presidents' problems, summer roundups, children's reading, program building, publications and by-laws or parliamentary law.

The legislative program of the state organization will be discussed and plans offered for its prosecution.

For the less serious side of the convention, the New Orleans Council of Parents and Teachers has planned a banquet, a presidents' luncheon and a delegates' luncheon. There will be a tour of the French Quarter with girls from the Margaret C. Hanson Normal college for guides and a tea at Newcomb college.

Mrs. E. C. Gibson Addresses Winnsboro Meeting Of Missionary Societies

2 Shreveport Women Also Deliver Talks

Mrs. Blanche R. Collins Urges Members To Set Up Libraries In Their Own Churches

Mrs. E. C. Gibson, secretary of the Monroe district of the Women's Missionary society, presided with customary grace and dignity over the meeting in Winnsboro, April 7.

Two prominent club women in the state, Mrs. George Sexton, Jr., state president, and Mrs. W. M. Ledbetter, state secretary, of Shreveport, were present on this occasion and addressed the assemblage.

The meeting opened with a call to worship with Mrs. R. R. Taliaferro presiding at the organ.

Responsive reading was lead by Mrs. Gibson.

A memorial service and prayer was conducted by Mrs. C. K. Smith of West Monroe.

Mission and Bible study was presented by Mrs. Blanche R. Collins, in which she urged the missionary women to establish libraries in their own churches. She also called attention to the leadership schools to be held at Mt. Sequoyah on July 26-31 and at Lake Junaluska, August 1-7.

Miss Shelia Nutall, deaconess from Bonita, spoke on the beauties of God's world, and the possibilities of leadership in the church with the youth of today.

Mrs. Sexton's inspiring message was on building. She said, "The Methodist church is taking the lead in union." She urged everyone to incorporate Christ into every phase of their life.

Mrs. J. H. Midvett of Oak Ridge spoke on the importance of the use of pictures in the children's work of the church school, and of the friendship unit.

Mrs. Taliaferro was introduced and in her word of welcome, extended an invitation to all to attend the luncheon in the church annex.

The afternoon session opened with an inspirational message by Mrs. D. W. Poole of Tallulah. Her subject was taken from the text: "What do ye in excess?"

Mrs. Ledbetter spoke on the importance of individual lives. She said "Let us share our fellowship with others. The crowning of the human heart is to be with people. Christian fellowship began when Jesus called the twelve men together."

Mrs. A. R. Holloway spoke of the value of sending supplies since a quarter to the council institutions—Houma, mission and St. Marks hall.

Mrs. J. R. White presented literature and publicity. She displayed a varied assortment of helpful material useful in the missionary program. She also presented a poster showing the effects publicity has on any organization or auxiliary.

An outstanding report was given by Mrs. W. B. Clarke on the district parsonage committee's work.

Mrs. D. C. Metcalf spoke on the need of an active Christian social relations committee for every auxiliary. This committee has five subdivisions which are inter-racial work, rural development, citizenship, international relations, and world peace.

In closing Mrs. Gibson reviewed the year's work and remarked upon the splendid progress. Despite the heavy rainfall there were 89 present. The meeting closed with an invitation to meet next year in Monroe. Rev. H. L. Johns, district pastor, led the closing prayer.

Winnsboro

Mrs. O. F. McBride was the hostess at a coffee in honor of Mrs. K. C. Seawright of Jonesville. Mrs. Seawright will leave soon with her husband, Rev. Seawright, and three children for Morgan City, N. C., where Rev. Seawright is to be the pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. G. E. Powell and children of Monroe are the guests of Mrs. Powell's mother, Mrs. Stigall.

Mrs. Ellwood Nilson of Baton Rouge is visiting her mother, Mrs. H. J. Lea.

Mrs. S. L. Webb of Monroe spent several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Hower. Mrs. Webb was an instructor in the W. M. U. clinic at the Baptist church.

Mrs. T. B. McDuff entertained members of the Half-A-Dozen club at her home. Each guest was presented with a favor. The hostess served refreshments to Mrs. E. H. Byrd, Mrs. L. R. Nielsen, Jr., Mrs. Denzil Mullen, Mrs. James Kiper and Mrs. Jake Piper, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Trammell were hosts at an informal party at their home when they entertained employes of the Southern Bell Telephone company and a few intimate friends. A plate lunch was served to Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Nielsen, Jr., Mesdames Homer Martin, F. L. Wiggins, Coy McKaskle, Kate Wells, John Shipp, Moses Bertha Hamacker and Lottie Mae Braswell.

Mrs. Buchanan of Alexandria, state president of Federated Garden clubs, will be in Winnsboro at the Winnsboro Garden club meeting April 13. An informal reception will be given for Mrs. Buchanan at the home of Mrs. Mack Bradley.

Farmerville

Mrs. Mary Lee Reece and daughter, Miss Edna Lee Reece of Dallas, Tex., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stein Bringhman for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor and little daughter of Monroe spent the week-end in Farmerville with Mrs. John W. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. M. White of Ruston were the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dawkins.

Miss Martha Hollis of Shreveport spent the week-end here with her father, George W. Hollis and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hogan are visiting relatives in Monroe.

Mrs. James Breathwit and Mrs. Grayson Odom are spending a few days in Shreveport.

Mrs. John Younger and two children of Berkeley, Calif., are visiting her father, Dr. C. C. Francis. They will remain here three months while Mr. Younger is taking a course of study in England.

Mrs. Cecil Blanchard and children of Monroe were the week-end guests of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Dawkins.

Interesting Program Given By Book Club

Mrs. L. V. Tarver And Mrs. Charles Swain Are Co-Hostesses To Welcome Branch Group

An inspirational program and the charming hospitality of the hostesses, Mrs. L. V. Tarver and Mrs. Charles Swain, lent distinction to the regular meeting of the Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book club on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, fifth district president, and guest of the club, spoke in an interesting manner on "Cancer Control" and "Federation."

Mrs. Dudley Stone gave a splendid review of the book "Schoolhouse in the Foothills," written by Ella Enslow and Alvin Harlow.

"This is a true story," Mrs. Stone said, "the plain and simple story of Ella Enslow, a young school teacher who was sent to the mountains of Tennessee.

"The mountain folk were suspicious of Miss Enslow—afraid she would try to 'rule their lives.' She had to make friends where there weren't any friends.

"'Schoolhouse in the Foothills,' is the story of her success, the story of a wise and plucky girl who learned to love a brave, independent and tragically poverty-stricken people, becoming not only their teacher, but doctor, nurse, preacher and ministering angel as well.

"Miss Enslow numbered in her class children of five and an old lady of sixty-four who wanted to learn to read before she died.

"When sections of this book were published in a great national magazine, over a thousand letters poured in from all parts of the country offering aid in gifts or cash to this courageous young school teacher. The book accurately reflects the spirit of the real America."

Folk songs and dances typical of the Tennessee mountains were given at this time by a group of pre-school-age children under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Butler. Included in their numbers were "In the Paw-Paw Patch," and "Cissie in the Barn." Following the enthusiastic applause Mrs. Stone presented each child with an Easter basket.

Mrs. Louis Langford's comprehensive paper, "Women in Education," showed an intensive research into the subject. Mrs. Langford gave the history of the progress of education for women from the early Roman period, through the 19th century up to the present time.

"During the early Roman period," Mrs. Langford said, "education was of a very limited character, both for boys and girls, being a preparation, by way of apprenticeship to father and mother for the every-day duties of life.

"The 18th century saw the beginning of literature written especially for the education of women in most of the leading nations of the world, and a few women were allowed to enter the teaching profession.

"But what was that woman of the early 19th century like? Life was very hard for her, we know, but we know very little else about her. Women were probably held less important in the social scheme than they have ever been before or were ever to be again. But there began then the activity which is the beginning of all progress—education.

"It was through the untiring work of such women are Mary Lyon, founder of Mt. Holyoke, Zelpah Grant and Emma Hart Willard that education for women has reached its high standards for the enrichment of life as we know it today."

Favors of flags and scrolls were presented to each guest during the social hour. On the scroll was drawn the map of Louisiana accompanied with a poem by the club poet-laureate, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, in commemoration of the admittance of Louisiana into the union 126 years ago. Mrs. Tarver's poem, "Just to Remind Us," follows:

"Settled by the French in Sixteen hundred and ninety-nine
Her flag waved over your state and mine.
Followed turbulent years; under other flags too—
Louisiana fought and gloriously came through

"To eighteen hundred and twelve (so historians say)
With April eighth, that memorable day
That every Louisianian proudly celebrates,
Admittance to the union of our own United States."

Members enjoying this occasion were:

Mrs. W. K. Scroggins, Mrs. George Fink, Mrs. George Barton, Mrs. Dean Selig, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. F. F. Smith, Mrs. J. T. Eubank, Mrs. Dudley Stone, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. Charles Swain, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. Warren W. Gregory, Mrs. J. Noble White, Mrs. M. R. Hansherr, Mrs. Harry Moore, Mrs. Lewis Langford, Mrs. Jefferson Henderson, Mrs. J. D. Petty, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. W. E. Sandel and Mrs. W. F. Hornberger.

JILL

BY MARY RAYMOND

Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER XIII

That evening after dinner, Jill asked her father, "What would you think if I told you I was planning to spend more of your hard-earned money on a big and very unnecessary party?"

"I'd say fine!"

"You're sure, dad? It isn't a luncheon or cocktail party or reception for a few score guests, but one of those great, gilded balls which swish with silk and swish louder with champagne."

"Go as far as you like with the swishing. You haven't had a big shindig for a long time. People will be saying, 'What's happened to the Wentworths? They've forgotten how to entertain. Maybe they're not feeling so prosperous.' You can see for yourself, Jill, that would be poor advertising. These days we can't afford to have gloomy reports spread."

Jill was to remember what her stepfather had said later. But at the time the remark did not seem significant to her. It was typical of her father, who had always been generous with all of his family. Even with Barry, the waster of the family, though Barry would never admit that he wasted more than most boys in his crowd spent boys who were supplementing money their parents gave them with salaries of their own.

Jill didn't agree with her father's philosophy that spending was good advertising. It was the philosophy she heard on all sides, however. But at any event, the party was to be. She would send Alan the invitation. A miracle might happen and he would come. A miracle must happen!

In an excitement of planning, Mrs. Wentworth came nearer to companionableness with Jill than she had since her debut. She appraised everything expertly. If there was one thing in which she was really interested, it was clothes.

For the time she had pushed into the background the bitter fact that her plans had miscarried about Barry and Sylvia. Someday she would remember again that Sylvia was engrossed in trousseau shopping, carrying the image of Jack in her heart, instead of Barry, as she purchased her lovely things; and that with Barry and his father at odds, Jill and Jack walked through the world secure in his favor, with high hearts and high heads.

Temporary balm was being laid on her wounds by the flattering attention of sales people, as arrogant in their special niches as their customers were in their own. "No, Miss Davis, don't call Miss Walton. Madame Louise always waits on Mrs. Wentworth, herself."

She found Jill surprisingly eager to shop endlessly for one dress; Jill, who always loathed the bother of shopping, and who had accepted substitutes time and again in order to escape the routine of looking.

It must be that Jill was thinking with favor of Milo Montanne. It was almost too much to hope for. Jill married to a man of immense wealth. All of her responsibility would be ended!

She threw herself into selection of the dress with a fervor and warmth that surprised Jill. For the time they were just two women drawn together through an immemorial urge.

For a short while, Mrs. Wentworth felt almost motherly toward Jill. It was much the sort of feeling of the bird mother, as she pushes her young over the side of the nest, warning them to fly or fall.

Mrs. Wentworth wanted the party at one of the leading hotels . . . any home affair lacked the brilliance that a swank downtown setting could give it.

People knew what the initial outlay was in the former, what you had paid for the ballroom and hotel service. But no matter how your own home swarmed with caterers and servants, a party there didn't make quite the same impression.

And then, immense as the ballroom was at the Wentworth's home, there was always more room to spread over—or into—at a hotel.

But, to her amazement, her husband vetoed the suggestion. "No use in throwing money away in large chunks, when we have every facility of entertaining at home," he said.

They were at the dinner table, Jill looking at her father, had the impression again that he looked weary and worn. She felt troubled. The next moment her stepfather's eyes met hers, and he smiled. "If Jill has her heart on having her party—"

"I haven't, though, dad," Jill broke in quickly. "I'd hate having it away from home." She added with a flash of her old, mischievous smile: "It would look as though you and mother were introducing me all over again. Anyway, we can take care of everyone comfortably at home."

Mrs. Wentworth had finally given in. A week later the invitations were being addressed.

"I hope you've thought of everybody," Mrs. Wentworth said to Jill. "I've racked my brain trying to remember all the parents of your best friends, and other special older guests."

"Parents of all the most eligible men," Jill couldn't resist saying. "I suppose you included Mr. Montanne."

She had encountered her stepmother at the top of the beautiful spiralling stair, and now would have hurried past, but Mrs. Wentworth spoke nervously: "Could you come into my room for a moment, I want to talk with you."

Jill scarcely ever came to this room. Designed by an interior decorator of faultless taste, it was yet definitely stamped by the personality of its owner. Somehow, Jill had the feeling that it had been a battle between them. A question of how much should be left out or how much could be put in. Mrs. Wentworth, whose ideas always ran to quantity, had evidently won out.

"Too gorgeous," Jill secretly thought, her eyes on the gold fittings on her mother's dressing table.

"Is anything wrong, mother?" Jill asked.

"Jill, I did ask Mr. Montanne, of course. You know we wouldn't have a big party without asking him. But he refused."

"I don't blame him," Jill replied. "It would probably bore him to death."

"You are taking this very lightly, Jill. I tell you it was strange. He spoke very abruptly. There was something—"

"What could there be?" Jill asked, perplexed. "Mother, I'm sure you're wrong."

"I'm just as sure I'm right," Mrs. Wentworth spoke coldly. "Jill I've meant to ask you before, but I've been so busy it slipped my mind. You asked Milo to receive with you, of course."

"No," Jill said, "I didn't. It would be encouraging him to believe I care something for him. And I don't. I haven't any use for him, really. I only tolerate him around because of the friendship between father and Mr. Montanne."

"Now, I understand what was the matter," cried Mrs. Wentworth. "Any father would resent the slight to his only child. He adores Milo. Surely, Jill, it isn't too late to ask him to receive with you."

"I won't ask him, mother. It would spoil the party for me."

"Very well," Mrs. Wentworth spoke in an aggrieved voice. "I'm afraid you will be sorry, someday."

Jill left the room in a depressed mood. It couldn't be true that a grown man—any adult person—would be petty about a thing like that. Of course, Milo had been hurt, even angry, when he learned Jill planned to ask Bill Whitman II to receive with her. He hadn't come near her at Elise's party, and he had been stiff and priggish at the dinner at the Worthingtons last night.

But he would get over it. He always did. And it wouldn't have been honest asking him to receive with her, when she would have loathed having him.

But she mustn't leave her stepmother in this frame of mind. Jill turned, retraced her steps, and knocked on the door.

"I gave Miss Dexter my list," Jill said, putting her head inside. "Miss Dexter was double-checking, though, and she added several additional men to the stag list. She said men are always failing you at the last minute for one reason or another."

Presently, Mrs. Wentworth sought Miss Dexter.

The secretary was in a bright little sitting room that adjoined her bedroom. It was a cheerful, cozy place with hangings of deep blue and furniture upholstered in a bright, pumpkin shade. Clear, winter sunshine gushed through, giving an illusion of warmth that was really supplied by two radiators. Boxes of invitations were stacked on the floor and chairs.

Miss Dexter, a neat, efficient person in her late thirties, sat at a wide table stamping envelopes. She looked up with professional alertness as Mrs. Wentworth came in.

"I've almost finished," she said. "They'll be ready for mailing within an hour."

"I'd like to see Jill's list," Mrs. Wentworth said. "She's so careless. She may have overlooked someone she should invite."

"I don't believe she has," Miss Dexter spoke, slowly.

"Her list is very complete. She even thought of the visitors. She sent invitations to the Langford girls, who were supposed to leave town 10 days ago. It wouldn't surprise me if they weren't waiting in hopes of an invitation to this party."

Miss Dexter sometimes almost verged on familiarity, of which Mrs. Wentworth disapproved. But she did approve of Miss Dexter's efficiency and thorough social knowledge and the ability to use it intelligently.

Right now, she had a suspicion that Miss Dexter was trying to circumvent her. "I'd like to see the list," she said firmly.

Miss Dexter handed over several pages written in Jill's up and coming and very youthful hand. There was a slight hesitation in her manner.

Mrs. Wentworth's eyes ran down the list. Suddenly, her brow contracted ominously. She had reached an unfamiliar name: Alan Jeffry.

Interesting Program Given By Book Club

Mrs. L. V. Tarver And Mrs. Charles Swain Are Co-Hostesses To Welcome Branch Group

An inspirational program and the charming hospitality of the hostesses, Mrs. L. V. Tarver and Mrs. Charles Swain, lent distinction to the regular meeting of the Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book club on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, fifth district president, and guest of the club, spoke in an interesting manner on "Cancer Control" and "Federation."

Mrs. Dudley Stone gave a splendid review of the book "Schoolhouse in the Foothills," written by Ella Enslow and Alvin Harlow.

"This is a true story," Mrs. Stone said, "the plain and simple story of Ella Enslow, a young school teacher who was sent to the mountains of Tennessee.

"The mountain folk were suspicious of Miss Enslow—afraid she would try to 'rule their lives.' She had to make friends where there weren't any friends.

"'Schoolhouse in the Foothills,' is the story of her success, the story of a wise and plucky girl who learned to love a brave, independent and tragically poverty-stricken people, becoming not only their teacher, but doctor, nurse, preacher and ministering angel as well.

"Miss Enslow numbered in her class children of five and an old lady of sixty-four who wanted to learn to read before she died.

"When sections of this book were published in a great national magazine, over a thousand letters poured in from all parts of the country offering aid in gifts or cash to this courageous young school teacher. The book accurately reflects the spirit of the real America."

Folk songs and dances typical of the Tennessee mountains were given at this time by a group of pre-schoolage children under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Butler. Included in their numbers were "In the Paw-Paw Patch," and "Cissie in the Barn." Following the enthusiastic applause Mrs. Stone presented each child with an Easter basket.

Mrs. Louis Langford's comprehensive paper "Women in Education," showed an intensive research into the subject. Mrs. Langford gave the history of the progress of education for women from the early Roman period, through the 19th century up to the present time.

"During the early Roman period," Mrs. Langford said, "education was of a very limited character, both for boys and girls, being a preparation, by way of apprenticeship to father and mother for the every-day duties of life.

"The 18th century saw the beginning of literature written especially for the education of women in most of the leading nations of the world, and a few women were allowed to enter the teaching profession.

"But what was that woman of the early 19th century like? Life was very hard for her, we know, but we know very little else about her. Women were probably held less important in the social scheme than they have ever been before or were ever to be again. But there began then the activity which is the beginning of all progress—education.

"It was through the untiring work of such women are Mary Lyon, founder of Mt. Holyoke, Zelpah Grant and Emma Hart Willard that education for women has reached its high standards for the enrichment of life as we know it today."

Favors of flags and scrolls were presented to each guest during the social hour. On the scroll was drawn the map of Louisiana accompanied with a poem by the club poet-laureate, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, in commemoration of the admittance of Louisiana into the union 126 years ago. Mrs. Tarver's poem, "Just to Remind Us," follows:

"Settled by the French in Sixteen hundred and ninety-nine
Her flag waved over your state and mine.
Followed turbulent years; under other flags too—
Louisiana fought and gloriously came through.

"To eighteen hundred and twelve (so historians say)
With April eighth, that memorable day
That every Louisianian proudly celebrates,
Admittance to the union of our own United States."

Members enjoying this occasion were:

Mrs. W. K. Scroggins, Mrs. George Fink, Mrs. George Barton, Mrs. Dean Selig, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. F. F. Smith, Mrs. J. T. Eubank, Mrs. Dudley Stone, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. Charles Swain, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. Warren W. Gregory, Mrs. J. Noble White, Mrs. M. R. Hansherr, Mrs. Harry Moore, Mrs. Lewis Langford, Mrs. Jefferson Henderson, Mrs. J. D. Petty, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. W. E. Sandel and Mrs. W. F. Hornberger.

JILL

Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER XIII

That evening after dinner, Jill asked her father: "What would you think if I told you I was planning to spend more of your hard-earned money on a big and very unnecessary party?"

"I'd say 'fine.'"

"You're sure, dad? It isn't a luncheon or cocktail party or reception for a few score guests, but one of those great, gilded balls which swish with silk and swish louder with champagne."

"Go as far as you like with the swishing. You haven't had a big shindig for a long time. People will be saying: 'What's happened to the Wentworths? They've forgotten how to entertain. Maybe they're not feeling so prosperous.' You can see for yourself, Jill, that would be poor advertising. These days we can't afford to have gloomy reports spread."

Jill was to remember what her stepfather had said later. But at the time the remark did not seem significant to her. It was typical of her father, who had always been generous with all of his family. Even with Barry, the waster of the family, though Barry would never admit that he wasted more than most boys in his crowd spent—boys who were supplementing money their parents gave them with salaries of their own.

Jill didn't agree with her father's philosophy that spending was good advertising. It was the philosophy she heard on all sides, however. But at any event, the party was to be. She would send Alan the invitation. A miracle might happen and he would come. A miracle must happen!

In an excitement of planning, Mrs. Wentworth came nearer to companionableness with Jill than she had since her debut. She appraised everything expertly. If there was one thing in which she was really interested, it was clothes.

For the time she had pushed into the background the bitter fact that her plans had miscarried about Barry and Sylvia. Someday she would remember again that Sylvia was engrossed in trousseau shopping, carrying the image of Jack in her heart, instead of Barry, as she purchased her lovely things; and that with Barry and his father at odds, Jill and Jack walked through the world secure in his favor, with high hearts and high heads.

Temporary balm was being laid on her wounds by the flattering attention of sales people, as arrogant in their special niches as their customers were in their own. "No, Miss Davis, don't call Miss Walton. Madame Louise always waits on Mrs. Wentworth, herself."

She found Jill surprisingly eager to shop endlessly for one dress; Jill, who always loathed the bother of shopping, and who had accepted substitutes time and again in order to escape the routine of looking.

It must be that Jill was thinking with favor of Milo Montanne. It was almost too much to hope for, Jill married to a man of immense wealth. All of her responsibility would be ended!

She threw herself into selection of the dress with a fervor and warmth that surprised Jill. For the time they were just two women drawn together through an immemorial urge.

For a short while, Mrs. Wentworth felt almost motherly toward Jill. It was much the sort of feeling of the bird mother, as she pushes her young over the side of the nest, warning them to fly or fall.

Mrs. Wentworth wanted the party at one of the leading hotels . . . any home affair lacked the brilliance that a swank downtown setting could give it.

People knew what the initial outlay was in the former, what you had paid for the ballroom and hotel service. But no matter how your own home swarmed with caterers and servants, a party there didn't make quite the same impression.

And then, immense as the ballroom was at the Wentworth's home, there was always more room to spread over—or into—at a hotel.

But, to her amazement, her husband vetoed the suggestion. "No use in throwing money away in large chunks, when we have every facility of entertaining at home," he said.

They were at the dinner table. Jill, looking at her father, had the impression again that he looked weary and worn. She felt troubled. The next moment her stepfather's eyes met hers, and he smiled. "If Jill has her heart on having her party—"

"I haven't, though, dad," Jill broke in quickly. "I'd hate having it away from home." She added with a flash of her old mischievous smile: "It would look as though you and mother were introducing me all over again. Anyway, we can take care of everyone comfortably at home."

Mrs. Wentworth had finally given in. A week later the invitations were being addressed.

"I hope you've thought of everybody," Mrs. Wentworth said to Jill. "I've racked my brain trying to remember all the parents of your best friends, and other special older guests."

"Parents of all the most eligible men," Jill couldn't resist saying. "I suppose you included Mr. Montanne."

She had encountered her stepmother at the top of the beautiful spiralling stair, and now would have hurried past, but Mrs. Wentworth spoke nervously: "Could you come into my room for a moment, I want to talk with you."

Jill scarcely ever came to this room. Designed by an interior decorator of faultless taste, it was yet definitely stamped by the personality of its owner. Somehow, Jill had the feeling that it had been a battle between them. A question of how much should be left out or how much could be put in. Mrs. Wentworth, whose ideas always ran to quantity, had evidently won out.

"Too gorgeous," Jill secretly thought, her eyes on the gold fittings on her mother's dressing table.

"Is anything wrong, mother?" Jill asked.

"Jill, I did ask Mr. Montanne ,of course. You know we wouldn't have a big party without asking him. But he refused."

"I don't blame him," Jill replied. "It would probably bore him to death."

"You are taking this very lightly, Jill. I tell you it was strange. He spoke very abruptly. There was something—"

"What could there be?" Jill asked, perplexed. "Mother, I'm sure you're wrong."

"I'm just as sure I'm right," Mrs. Wentworth spoke coldly. "Jill I've meant to ask you before, but I've been so busy it slipped my mind. You asked Milo to receive with you, of course."

"No," Jill said, "I didn't. It would be encouraging him to believe I care something for him. And I don't. I haven't any use for him, really. I only tolerate him around because of the friendship between father and Mr. Montanne."

"Now, I understand what was the matter," cried Mrs. Wentworth. "Any father would resent the slight to his only child. He adores Milo. Surely, Jill, it isn't too late to ask him to receive with you."

"I won't ask him, mother. It would spoil the party for me."

"Very well," Mrs. Wentworth spoke in an aggrieved voice, "I'm afraid you will be sorry, someday."

Jill left the room in a depressed mood. It couldn't be true that a grown man—any adult person—would be petty about a thing like that. Of course, Milo had been hurt, even angry, when he learned Jill planned to ask Bill Whitman II to receive with her. He hadn't come near her at Elise's party, and he had been stiff and priggish at the dinner at the Worthingtons last night.

But he would get over it. He always did. And it wouldn't have been honest asking him to receive with her, when she would have loathed having him .

But she mustn't leave her stepmother in this frame of mind. Jill turned, retraced her steps, and knocked on the door.

"I gave Miss Dexter my list," Jill said, putting her head inside. "Miss Dexter was double-checking, though, and she added several additional men to the stag list. She said men are always failing you at the last minute for one reason or another."

Presently, Mrs. Wentworth sought Miss Dexter.

The secretary was in a bright little sitting room that adjoined her bedroom. It was a cheerful, cozy place with hangings of deep blue and furniture upholstered in a bright, pumpkin shade. Clear, winter sunshine gushed through, giving an illusion of warmth that was really supplied by two radiators. Boxes of invitations were stacked on the floor and chairs.

Miss Dexter, a neat, efficient person in her late thirties, sat at a wide table stamping envelopes. She looked up with professional alertness as Mrs. Wentworth came in.

"I've almost finished," she said. "They'll be ready for mailing within an hour.

"I'd like to see Jill's list," Mrs. Wentworth said. "She's so careless. She may have overlooked someone she should invite."

"I don't believe she has," Miss Dexter spoke, slowly.

"Her list is very complete. She even thought of the visitors. She sent invitations to the Langford girls, who were supposed to leave town 10 days ago. It wouldn't surprise me if they weren't waiting in hopes of an invitation to this party."

Miss Dexter sometimes almost verged on familiarity, of which Mrs. Wentworth disapproved. But she did approve of Miss Dexter's efficiency and thorough social knowledge and the ability to use it intelligently .

Right now, she had a suspicion that Miss Dexter was trying to circumvent her. "I'd like to see the list," she said firmly.

Miss Dexter handed over several pages written in Jill's up and down and very youthful hand. There was a slight hesitation in her manner.

Mrs. Wentworth's eyes ran down the list. Suddenly, her brow contracted ominously. She had reached an unfamiliar name: Alan Jeffry.

The pastor's message for the Lord's day services Sunday will be, in the morning, "The Churched and the Unchurched." In the evening, Rev. R. O. Bazer of Sarepta, La., will be with us to deliver the message. Also, plans are under way for services Monday and Tuesday nights of the coming week, with Rev. Bazer delivering the sermons. Everyone is cordially invited to be in attendance at both of these services Sunday and those of next week. Sunday school will meet promptly at 9:45 a.m. A large attendance in all departments is our sincere hope. B. T. U. will meet Sunday at 6:45 p.m. Last Sunday's absentees have been contacted and a better attendance in our training union services is anticipated. The W. M. S. of the Central Baptist church will have a Bible study Monday afternoon from 2 until 3, and members are urged to bring their Bibles and all their friends to this meeting, as an interesting study in Revelation will be the topic. Come to church Sunday and invite all of your friends.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
L. T. Hastings, Pastor

Sunday is being observed throughout the state as Louisiana College day. The pastor will bring a message on Christian education, "Christian Character the Fundamental Aim of Education." Parents are urged to come and bring their children and seriously consider the question of "Where shall I send my child?" The senior classes of the two high schools have been invited to attend as our honor guests. It is hoped that the weather will clear up so the basement can be put in shape for the junior and adult departments Sunday morning, but in case it does not, let the teachers and classes be ready for any emergency arrangement. Let nothing keep the folks from coming on. We will do the best we can to take care of the crowds that are coming. The pastor will bring an evangelistic message Sunday night. Let us all make plans to attend the state B. T. U. clinic at the First Baptist church, West Monroe, next Tuesday and Wednesday. We are still asking for homes to take visitors for the night Tuesday and for breakfast Wednesday morning. Phone 929 and tell us how many you will take. All other services will be held at the usual time. Visitors and strangers are welcome.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
Auburn Avenue And North Second

Sunday services 11 a.m., Sunday school 9:30 a.m., Wednesday evening testimony meetings 8 o'clock. Reading room, 709 Ouachita National Bank building, open daily, except Sunday and holidays, 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The public is welcome to all services and the use of the reading room. "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ Scientist, Sunday, April 10, 1938. Among the citations which comprise the lesson sermon is the following from the Bible: "Art thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, mine Holy One? Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity." (Hab. 1). The lesson sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sickness, sin and death being inharmonious, do not originate in God nor belong to His government." (p. 472).

GRACE CHURCH
Fourth and Glenmar streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for sixth (Palm) Sunday in Lent are as follows: The Holy Eucharist at 7:30 a.m., church school at 9:30 a.m., choral celebration of the Eucharist and sermon at 10:45 a.m., evensong and address at 7:30 p.m. The rector will hold service at St. David's, Rayville, at 4 p.m. We are drawing nearer and nearer to the cross; and do not our hearts burn within us by the way? To those who really know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, what a season this is! The Master calls us not servants but friends; we are not living in the 20th century—but we are carried back to the Holy Land, and to the Passover which Jesus desired to eat with his Disciples. We are not hearing—we are living the history of our redemption. The public is cordially invited to attend services throughout this Holy week.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

"A Sabbath well spent brings a week of content and health for the joys of tomorrow. But a Sabbath profaned, whatever be gained, is a sure forerunner of sorrow (Sir Matthew Hale). "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." "And He (Jesus) came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up; and he entered, as his custom was, into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read." Man is more than flesh and blood. He is spirit, and to nurture the soul the day of worship is given. Will you come with us that we may worship the Lord? It is our purpose so to plan the worship program that all worshippers will receive a spiritual blessing. Today the subjects of our messages are: "The Search for Serenity" and "The Mind in Jesus Christ." The Sabbath school is in session at 9:45 a. m. The adults are most cordially invited. The men's class meets in the Paramount theater; the other adults groups, in the church building. Anticipating a large gathering Easter, a communicants' class will be held in the church Monday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 4 to 4:30 p. m. Subjects common to our religious views will be considered. If you are thinking about uniting with this congregation of the Christian church; if you have sons and daughters in your home, whose attention should be turned to life's realities; if you are distressed about matters of faith, a earnest invitation is extended. The pastor will be happy to set apart to the Lord in holy baptism any child of the faith, this being a part of our Easter program.

Sunday school will meet Sunday in all departments at 9:45 a. m., D. O. McDaniel, superintendent. Preaching at 11 a.m., pastor in charge. Communion will be observed at the morning service. Christ Ambassador class meets at 6:30 p.m. Evening evangelistic service at 7:30 o'clock. Services during the week are held on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Everybody always welcome to any and all our services.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
812 Mississippi Street
I. J. Brooks, Pastor

Last Sunday was a great day with this church. Our beloved Sunday school superintendent was well pleased with the splendid Sunday school attendance and general interest manifested in this organization. The B. T. U. was well attended and the director, Miss Gertrude Gregory, is highly gratified with the splendid closing assembly; the pastor delivered 107 awards to members of the B. T. U. who recently participated in the B. T. U. study course. The pastor's subjects for Sunday are as follows: "The Largest Giver" (Mark 12:43) and "The Forks of the Road" (Hebrews 11:24-26).

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
3400 Lee Avenue
D. D. Cantrell, Pastor

The pastor's message for the Lord's day services Sunday will be, in the morning, "The Churched and the Unchurched." In the evening, Rev. R. O. Bazer of Sarepta, La., will be with us to deliver the message. Also, plans are under way for services Monday and Tuesday nights of the coming week, with Rev. Bazer delivering the sermons. Everyone is cordially invited to be in attendance at both of these services Sunday and those of next week. Sunday school will meet promptly at 9:45 a.m. A large attendance in all departments is our sincere hope. B. T. U. will meet Sunday at 6:45 p.m. Last Sunday's absentees have been contacted and a better attendance in our training union services is anticipated. The W. M. S. of the Central Baptist church will have a Bible study Monday afternoon from 2 until 3, and members are urged to bring their Bibles and all their friends to this meeting, as an interesting study in Revelation will be the topic. Come to church Sunday and invite all of your friends.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
L. T. Hastings, Pastor

Sunday is being observed throughout the state as Louisiana College day. The pastor will bring a message on Christian education, "Christian Character the Fundamental Aim of Education." Parents are urged to come and bring their children and seriously consider the question of "Where shall I send my child?" The senior classes of the two high schools have been invited to attend as our honor guests. It is hoped that the weather will clear up so the basement can be put in shape for the junior and adult departments Sunday morning, but in case it does not, let the teachers and classes be ready for any emergency arrangement. Let nothing keep the folks from coming on. We will do the best we can to take care of the crowds that are coming. The pastor will bring an evangelistic message Sunday night. Let us all make plans to attend the state B. T. U. clinic at the First Baptist church, West Monroe, next Tuesday and Wednesday. We are still asking for homes to take visitors for the night Tuesday and for breakfast Wednesday morning. Phone 929 and tell us how many you will take. All other services will be held at the usual time. Visitors and strangers are welcome.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
Auburn Avenue And North Second

Sunday services 11 a.m., Sunday school 9:30 a.m., Wednesday evening testimony meetings 8 o'clock. Reading room, 709 Ouachita National Bank building, open daily, except Sunday and holidays, 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The public is welcome to all services and the use of the reading room. "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ Scientist, Sunday, April 10, 1938. Among the citations which comprise the lesson sermon is the following from the Bible: "Art thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, mine Holy One? Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity." (Hab. 1). The lesson sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sickness, sin and death being inharmonious, do not originate in God nor belong to His government." (p. 472).

GRACE CHURCH
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for sixth (Palm) Sunday in Lent are as follows: The Holy Eucharist at 7:30 a.m., church school at 9:30 a.m., choral celebration of the Eucharist and sermon at 10:45 a.m., evensong and address at 7:30 p.m. The rector will hold service at St. David's, Rayville, at 4 p.m. We are drawing nearer and nearer to the cross; and do not our hearts burn within us by the way? To those who really know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, what a season this is! The Master calls us not servants but friends; we are not living in the 20th century—but we are carried back to the Holy Land, and to the Passover which Jesus desired to eat with his Disciples. We are not hearing—we are living the history of our redemption. The public is cordially invited to attend services throughout this Holy week.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH
Harrison and D'Arbonne
Sherrouse Addition
Vernon C. Grosse, Pastor

L. Hoskins, Alameda Brown, and Mrs. Jack Lanier. The women's missionary society will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. G. M. Akin is president. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

"A Sabbath well spent brings a week of content and health for the joys of tomorrow. But a Sabbath profaned, whatever be gained, is a sure forerunner of sorrow (Sir Matthew Hale). "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." "And He (Jesus) came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up; and he entered, as his custom was, into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read." Man is more than flesh and blood. He is spirit, and to nurture the soul the day of worship is given. Will you come with us that we may worship the Lord? It is our purpose so to plan the worship program that all worshippers will receive a spiritual blessing. Today the subjects of our messages are: "The Search for Serenity" and "The Mind in Jesus Christ." The Sabbath school is in session at 9:45 a. m. The adults are most cordially invited. The men's class meets in the Paramount theater; the other adults groups, in the church building. Anticipating a large gathering Easter, a communicants' class will be held in the church Monday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 4 to 4:30 p. m. Subjects common to our religious views will be considered. If you are thinking about uniting with this congregation of the Christian church; if you have sons and daughters in your home, whose attention should be turned to life's realities; if you are distressed about matters of faith, a earnest invitation is extended. The pastor will be happy to set apart to the Lord in holy baptism any child of the faith, this being a part of our Easter program.

Lavish 'Goldwyn Follies' Plays At Paramount Today

Stellar Cast Featured In Musical Hit

Charlie McCarthy Is Headliner In Outstanding Technicolor Picture

NEVER before has filmdom produced an entertainment feast to equal the eye-filling, heart-gladdening, ear-tickling musical extravaganza which Samuel Goldwyn has achieved in his great technicolor show, "The Goldwyn Follies," which had Paramount theater fans cheering.

For this most ambitious venture of his career, the producer, whose name is a synonym for great entertainment, has rounded up the greatest stars of stage, screen, radio, grand opera and the dance world, fitted them into one of Ben Hecht's grandest stories, and added the best and greatest music of the late George Gershwin. "The Goldwyn Follies" more than justifies the terrific investment of money, time and effort involved and does great credit to the name which the producer has lent to an entertainment for the first time in his 25 years of picture-making. The film is historical in another sense, in that it marks Goldwyn's swing over to color films.

From the radio world, Goldwyn has recruited Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Kenny Baker, who is already known to screen audiences and the inimitable Phil Baker and his accordion. From the screen come the suave Adolphe Menjou, those mad, merry Ritz Brothers, who have never been funnier; Andrea Leeds, the lovely young actress who scored so heavily in "Stage Door," and Jerome Cowan. From grand opera, he has brought us the Metropolitan opera's lovely star, Helen Jepson, and the talented newcomer, Charles Kullmann, both of whom make a triumphant screen debut. From the world of the dance we have the gorgeous Zorina, who proves talented as an actress as well as a dancer, and George Balanchine's famous American ballet. From musical comedy comes frantically funny Bobby Clark, who finds a perfect foil for his peculiar brand of madness in little Ella Logan. Then, of course, there is the usual dazzling aggregation of georgeous Goldwyn girls, supplemented by a dozen of Hollywood's loveliest and most talented tap dancers.

The story, a mad, romance-filled comedy of Hollywood, tells of a movie producer, played by Menjou, who finds he doesn't know what the public wants. So he hires a small town girl, in the person of the lovely Miss Leeds, to keep him posted and places her on his staff as "Miss Humanity." He falls in love with the girl, who in turn falls in love with a young tenor who runs a hamburger stand. The young man, played by the silver-voiced Kenny Baker, gets his big film chance and proves a sensation. Menjou menaces their romance for a while, but finally relents and agrees to let young love triumph as it should.

Woven into the story are countless unforgettable production numbers, including two beautiful ballets, which prove a welcome addition to screen entertainment.

The technicolor is the most successful the screen has produced thus far and does full credit to Omar Kiam's eye-filling costumes and Richard Day's magnificent sets.

Among the many hit tunes introduced by the film are "Love Walked In," "I Was Doing All Right," "I Love To Whistle," "Love Is Here To Stay," and "Spring Again."

CIVIL SERVICE TO HOLD WELDERS' EXAMINATION

The United States civil service commission announces an open competitive examination for the position of electric welder. This examination is announced expressly for filling vacancies in the Vicksburg engineering district.

Appointments resulting from this examination will be made at a salary of 90 cents ($.81 an hour) less required deductions. The final date on which applications may be filed for this examination is April 26, 1938.

The necessary form for making application may be obtained from the secretary of the board of United States civil service examiners, engineer's office, Vicksburg, Miss., or at the Monroe postoffice.

Cassidy Hits 'Texas Trail' In New Film

William Boyd Again Heads Cast In Latest Of Western Story Series

HOPALONG CASSIDY finds the toughest job of his life and a great yarn in "Texas Trail," the new Cassidy picture which opens today at the Capital theater. With smoking guns, thundering hooves of a huge herd of wild horses, and one of the best pitched battles of the entire Hopalong Cassidy series, "Texas Trail" tells the story of a horse roundup during the Spanish-American war.

William Boyd, George Hayes and Russell Hayden are seen again as Hopalong Cassidy, Windy Halliday and Lucky Jenkins, being accompanied in this new adventure by lovely Judith Allen, who plays the feminine lead in the film.

The story begins when the major of an army post in Texas receives orders to round up 500 wild horses to be used as remounts for the men in Cuba. Unable to find or collect the steeds himself, he sends for Cassidy, turning the mission over to him.

Hopalong finds the horses and drives them into a blind canyon in preparation for the trip back to the post. The first night after the roundup he and his friends are attacked while sleeping by a gang of rustlers. Bound and disarmed their plight seems hopeless until Billy King, roaming the range in search of his pals, finds them. The courageous lad reaches Cassidy and supplies him with two guns, and also helps to untie the group with him.

Cassidy shoots the way out of the canyon for himself and his whole band with only the two guns supplied by Billy, overcomes the rustlers and delivers his horses to the army. In reward for his service, the army enlists him and his troop of volunteers for service in Cuba, and the film ends with his departure from the range, war bound.

MAGNOLIA LAUNCHES 'SUMMERIZE' DRIVE

Motoring safety and economy are the keynotes of the 1938 "summerize" campaign of the Magnolia Petroleum company, said Fred M. Lege, Jr., vice-president in charge of marketing. The campaign starts immediately and will be continued during the next two months preceding hot weather, Mr. Lege said. The importance of not delaying is to be stressed, because delay, Mr. Lege warned, deprives the car owner of part of the safety protection and other benefits of "summerizing" before hot weather sets in.

Thousands of Magnolia dealers in cities, towns and rural communities throughout the southwestern states are cooperating in this "summerize-for-safety-and-economy" campaign. The complete seven-point summerize service includes draining and washing out the crankcase, transmission and differential and refilling with the correct grades of summer Mobiloil and Mobilgrease, chassis lubrication, cleaning and flushing radiator, testing and filling battery, cleaning and greasing terminals to protect them against corrosion, filling the tank with summer Mobilgas and inspection of the car in general from bumper to bumper and giving the owner a report on its condition and its needs for safe, economical driving.

EXCURSION ON STEAMER 'CAPITOL' PLANNED AT DELTA ON APRIL 23-24

The Streckfus steamer Capitol, largest stern-wheel excursion boat on the inland waterways, will pay its first visit of the season to Delta Saturday, April 23 and 24. There will be two moonlight dance outings, one Saturday night and one Sunday night. Both nights the Capitol will leave at 9 p.m. and return at midnight, but dancing will start at 8:30 p.m. On Sunday afternoon there will be a sightseeing excursion leaving Delta at 2:30 and returning at 5:30 p.m. For all three excursions the steamer lands one-half mile north of the end of the bridge at the ferry landing.

A new 11-piece novelty dance band, Pichon's "Pepper Uppers," described by Captain Roy Streckfus as one of the "hottest, snappiest" troupes of negro music-makers carried by the Capitol in many years, is furnishing dance music on the steamer's up-river cruise. Its leader, according to the veteran skipper, is known as "Fats Waller's double from New Orleans."

F. F. A. HAVE BANQUET

GRAYSON, La., April 9.—(Special)—Grayson chapter, F. F. A., held an annual father and son banquet in the chapter room, with 80 persons present.

Principal speakers were C. C. Sheppard, president of Louisiana Central Lumber company; Superintendent F. L. Johnston, J. W. McKeithen, Floyd Johnston, principal of Grayson High school, and E. J. McKillips, advisor of the chapter.

Human teeth show their growth by rings, like trees.

He's the perfect butler, but he obeys such unbutler-like impulses . . . Playing opposite Annabella in "The Baroness and the Butler" (her first American-made picture), William Powell gives his grandest performance. A stellar cast supports these delightful co-stars in the new 20th Century-Fox romantic comedy hit playing at the Paramount theater Wednesday and Thursday. And on the stage a hog-calling contest is to be held in connection with the weekly Hill-Billy jamboree.

Here comes the navy and their girl friend. A joyous film to set your heart beating—thrills of great football games—hilarious high-jinks of "plebe" life—and the romance of Annapolis Buddies who loved a girl which only one of them could have. The picture, "Navy Blue and Gold"; the girl, Florence Rice; the boys, Robert Young, James Stewart and Tom Brown. It plays at the Capitol theater Tuesday and Wednesday.

Buck Jones, that all-American cowboy roars into action again in the feature attraction "Headin' East," playing at the Capitol theater next Saturday. This feature will be shown on the Saturday morning kiddie program which also consists of stage acts, music and free prizes.

William Boyd and Russell Hayden talk it over in "Texas Trail," which plays at the Capitol theater today and Monday. They are Hopalong Cassidy and Lucky Jenkins, buddies of the Hopalong series of pictures. George Hayes and Judith Allen are featured with them.

Alice Faye, Joan Davis and Marjorie Weaver (reading up) share the title roles in the Paramount's midnight show attraction Thursday, "Sally, Irene and Mary," a tuneful comedy hit. And on the stage as an added attraction fifty negro singers will entertain the midnight show goers with negro spirituals, mammy songs and Harlem tunes.

Lavish 'Goldwyn Follies' Plays At Paramount Today

"Hollywood Hotel" is on the air! (Left to right) Jerry Cooper, Frances Langford, Johnnie Davis, Lola Lane, Dick Powell, Rosemary Lane, Raymond Paige, Louella Parsons, Ken Niles, Mabel Todd and Ted Healy, principals in the cast of the year's biggest musical show, "Hollywood Hotel," which also features Benny Goodman and his swing band. It comes to the Paramount screen next Friday and Saturday.

Stellar Cast Featured In Musical Hit

Charlie McCarthy Is Headliner In Outstanding Technicolor Picture

NEVER before has filmdom produced an entertainment feast to equal the eye-filling, heart-gladdening, rib-tickling musical extravaganza which Samuel Goldwyn has achieved in his great technicolor show "The Goldwyn Follies," which had Paramount theater fans cheering.

For this most ambitious venture of his career, the producer, whose name is a synonym for great entertainment, has rounded up the greatest stars of stage, screen, radio, grand opera and the dance world, fitted them into one of Ben Hecht's grandest stories, and added the last and greatest music of the late George Gershwin. "The Goldwyn Follies" more than justifies the terrific investment of money, time and effort involved and does great credit to the name which the producer has lent to an entertainment for the first time in his 25 years of picture-making. The film is historical in another sense, in that it marks Goldwyn's swing over to color films.

From the radio world, Goldwyn has recruited Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Kenny Baker, who is already known to screen audiences, and the irrepressible comic, Phil Baker and his accordion. From the screen come the suave Adolphe Menjou, those mad, merry Fitz Brothers, who have never been funnier, Andrea Leeds, the lovely young actress who scored so heavily in "Stage Door," and Jerome Cowan. From grand opera, he has brought us the Metropolitan opera's lovely star, Helen Jepson, and the talented newcomer, Charles Kullmann, both of whom make a triumphant screen debut. From the world of the dance we have the gorgeous Zorina, who proves talented as an actress as well as a dancer, and George Balanchine's famous American ballet. From musical comedy comes frantically funny Bobby Clark, who finds a perfect foil for his peculiar brand of madness in little Ella Logan. Then, of course, there is the usual dazzling aggregation of georgeous Goldwyn girls, supplemented by a dozen of Hollywood's loveliest and most talented tap dancers.

The story, a mad, romance-filled comedy of Hollywood, tells of a movie producer, played by Menjou, who finds he doesn't know what the public wants. So he hires a small town girl, in the person of the lovely Miss Leeds, to keep him posted and places her on his staff as "Miss Humanity." He falls in love with the girl, who in turn falls in love with a young tenor who runs a hamburger stand. The young man, played by the silver-voiced Kenny Baker, gets his big film chance and proves a sensation. Menjou menaces their romance for a while, but finally relents and agrees to let young love triumph as it should.

Woven into the story are countless unforgettable production numbers, including two beautiful ballets, which prove a welcome addition to screen entertainment.

The technicolor is the most successful the screen has produced thus far and does full credit to Omar Kiam's eye-filling costumes and Richard Day's magnificent sets.

Among the many hit tunes introduced by the film are "Love Walked In," "I Was Doing All Right," "I Love to Rhyme," "Love Is Here To Stay," and "Spring Again."

CIVIL SERVICE TO HOLD WELDERS' EXAMINATION

The United States civil service commission announces an open competitive examination for the position of electric welder. This examination is announced expressly for filling vacancies in the Vicksburg engineering district.

Appointments resulting from this examination will be made at a salary of 80 cents to $1 an hour, less required deductions. The final date on which applications may be filed for this examination is April 26, 1938.

The necessary form for making application may be obtained from the secretary of the board of United States civil service examiners, engineer's office, Vicksburg, Miss., or at the Monroe postoffice.

Cassidy Hits 'Texas Trail' In New Film

William Boyd Again Heads Cast In Latest Of Western Story Series

HOPALONG CASSIDY finds the toughest job of his life and a great yarn in "Texas Trail," the new Cassidy picture which opens today at the Capital theater. With smoking guns, thundering hooves of a huge herd of wild horses, and one of the best pitched battles of the entire Hopalong Cassidy series, "Texas Trail" tells the story of a horse roundup during the Spanish-American war.

William Boyd, George Hayes and Russell Hayden are seen again as Hopalong Cassidy, Windy Halliday and Lucky Jenkins, being accompanied in this new adventure by lovely Judith Allen, who plays the feminine lead in the film.

The story begins when the major of an army post in Texas receives orders to round up 500 wild horses to be used as remounts for the men in Cuba. Unable to find or collect the steeds himself, he sends for Cassidy, turning the mission over to him.

Hopalong finds the horses and drives them into a blind canyon in preparation for the trip back to the post. The first night after the roundup he and his friends are attacked while sleeping by a gang of rustlers. Bound and disarmed, their plight seems hopeless until Billy King, roaming the range in search of his pals, finds them. The courageous lad reaches Cassidy and supplies him with two guns; and also helps to untie the group with him.

Cassidy shoots the way out of the canyon for himself and his whole band with only the two guns supplied by Billy, overcomes the rustlers and delivers his horses to the army. In reward for his service, the army enlists him and his troop of volunteers for service in Cuba, and the film ends with his departure from the range, war bound.

MAGNOLIA LAUNCHES 'SUMMERIZE' DRIVE

Motoring safety and economy are the keynotes of the 1938 "summerize" campaign of the Magnolia Petroleum company, said Fred M. Lege, Jr., vice-president in charge of marketing. The campaign starts immediately and will be continued during the next two months preceding hot weather, Mr. Lege said. The importance of not delaying is to be stressed, because delay, Mr. Lege warned, deprives the car owner of part of the safety protection and other benefits of "summerizing" before hot weather sets in.

Thousands of Magnolia dealers in cities, towns and rural communities throughout the southwestern states are cooperating in this "summerize-for-safety-and-economy" campaign. The complete seven-point summerize service includes draining and washing out the crankcase, transmission and differential and refilling with the correct grades of summer Mobiloil and Mobilgrease, chassis lubrication, cleaning and flushing radiator, testing and filling battery, cleaning and greasing terminals to protect them against corrosion, filling the tank with summer Mobilgas and inspection of the car in general from bumper to bumper and giving the owner a report on its condition and its needs for safe, economical driving.

EXCURSION ON STEAMER 'CAPITOL' PLANNED AT DELTA ON APRIL 23-24

The Streckfus steamer Capitol, largest stern-wheel excursion boat on the inland waterways, will pay its first visit of the season to Delta Saturday, April 23 and 24. There will be two moonlight dance outings, one Saturday night and one Sunday night. Both nights the Capitol will leave at 9 p.m. and return at midnight, but dancing will start at 8:30 p.m. On Sunday afternoon there will be a sightseeing excursion leaving Delta at 2:30 and returning at 5:30 p.m. For all three excursions the steamer lands one-half mile north of the end of the bridge at the ferry landing.

A new 11-piece novelty dance band, Pichon's "Pepper Uppers," described by Captain Roy Streckfus as one of the "hottest, snappiest" troupes of negro music-makers carried by the Capitol in many years, is furnishing dance music on the steamer's up-river cruise. Its leader, according to the veteran skipper, is known as "Fats Waller's double from New Orleans."

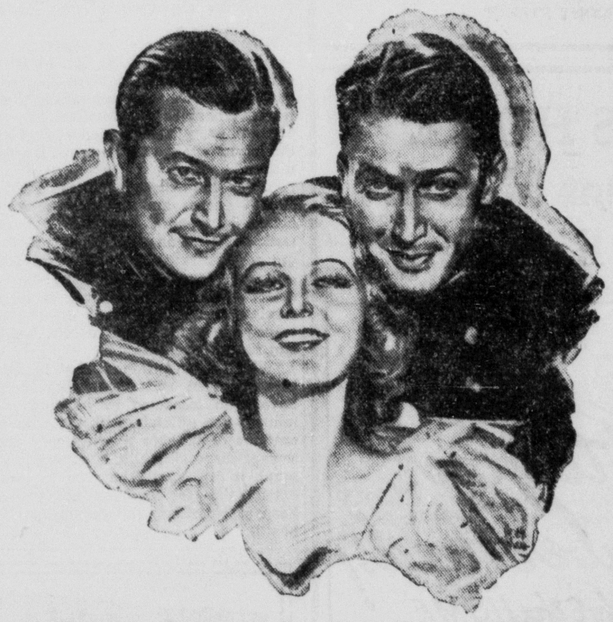
F. F. A. HAVE BANQUET

GRAYSON, La., April 9.—(Special)—Grayson chapter, F. F. A., held an annual father and son banquet in the chapter room, with 80 persons present.

Principal speakers were C. C. Sheppard, president of Louisiana Central Lumber company; Superintendent F. L. Johnston, J. W. McKeithen, Floyd Johnston, principal of Grayson High school, and E. J. McKillips, advisor of the chapter.

Human teeth show their growth by rings, like trees.

He's the perfect butler, but he obeys such unbutler-like impulses . . . Playing opposite Annabella in "The Baroness and the Butler" (her first American-made picture), William Powell gives his grandest performance. A stellar cast supports these delightful co-stars in the new 20th Century-Fox romantic comedy hit playing at the Paramount theater Wednesday and Thursday. And on the stage a hog-calling contest is to be held in connection with the weekly Hill-Billy jamboree.



Here comes the navy and their girl friend. A joyous film to set your heart beating—thrills of great football games—hilarious high-jinks of "plebe" life—and the romance of Annapolis Buddies who loved a girl which only one of them could have. The picture, "Navy Blue and Gold"; the girl, Florence Rice; the boys, Robert Young, James Stewart and Tom Brown. It plays at the Capitol theater Tuesday and Wednesday.

Buck Jones, that all-American cowboy roars into action again in the feature attraction "Headin' East," playing at the Capitol theater next Saturday. This feature will be shown on the Saturday morning kiddie program which also consists of stage acts, music and free prizes.

William Boyd and Russell Hayden talk it over in "Texas Trail," which plays at the Capitol theater today and Monday. They are Hopalong Cassidy and Lucky Jenkins, buddies of the Hopalong series of pictures. George Hayes and Judith Allen are featured with them.

Alice Faye, Joan Davis and Marjorie Weaver (reading up) share the title roles in the Paramount's midnight show attraction Thursday, "Sally, Irene and Mary," a tuneful comedy hit. And on the stage as an added attraction fifty negro singers will entertain the midnight show goers with negro spirituals, mammy songs and Harlem tunes.

WEATHER STRIPS AID INSULATION

Commercial Materials Will Give Best And Economical Results

When thinking of insulating a home, the average home owner immediately attempts to reach a decision on which commercial materials now on the market will give him the best results for the least expenditure. He may obtain modernization credit, insured by the Federal Housing administration, for the financing of this work.

Before selecting insulation materials, the home owner should give very careful attention to the weatherstripping of his doors and windows. Research has shown that a major part of the heat loss of a house is through the cracks around windows and doors.

For houses already erected, a number of types of weatherstripping are available, usually of either a metallic or a felted form. For new houses, several manufacturers are now building fabricated windows complete with frames into which are built efficient metallic weatherstripping, or similar metallic or felted weatherstripping may be applied at the time of erection of the house when ordinary windows are used. Tests show that by providing weatherstripping only, without any other form of insultation, fuel savings will amount to from 15 per cent to 20 per cent. If storm sash are used in addition to the weatherstripping, the fuel savings may run as high as 30 per cent.

The world's largest noise, the volcanic explosion of the island of Krakatoa, was heard by human ears as far off as Bangkok, 1,400 miles away.

FHA COOPERATES IN HEALTH PLAN

Aids Program For Promotion Of Better Health In Each Community

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Recognizing the vital need for adequate pure-water supply and sanitary methods of domestic sewage disposal as requirements of decent living, the Federal Housing administration, in cooperation with the United States Public Health service and the health departments of every state in the Union, has established definite standards covering these basic services, Administrator Stewart McDonald announced today.

Pioneering in this cooperative movement, the housing administration in its effort to improve housing conditions now assures home purchasers under the insured mortgage system that insurance approval is only granted on such projects when every precaution has been taken to provide pure-water supply and to safeguard health in every respect.

After months of active effort, arrangements have been completed whereby all sites having no access to public water and sewage facilities which are to be developed under the housing administration's insured mortgage system must comply either with the requirements of the state health department or with the standards of the United States Public Health service. All such properties must be inspected by qualified health officials before mortgage insurance will be allowed, Mr. McDonald explained.

"For many years in the past," he explained, "it had been the custom to sell cheap sites for low-priced homes in areas having no public water supply or sewers, and it was left to individual purchasers to obtain these necessary services. This resulted in the erection of thousands of homes in urban communities that had to depend upon shallow, poorly constructed wells for their water supply and upon insanitary cesspools or outhouses for sewage disposal. Water supply from such sources and disposal of sewage by such means was a constant menace to health and to property values.

"Under the standards set up by the housing administration, no subdivision or housing development which lacks public water mains or sewers will be approved until the quality, quantity, and source of the water supply meet the standards of the administration and have been inspected and certified as satisfactory by the public health authority having jurisdiction. A careful inspection and certificate of approval is also required where public sewer mains are lacking. Standards governing water supply and sewage disposal in every case have been approved by the various state health departments."

Where public water or sewer mains are reasonably available, Mr. McDonald explained, it is required that developers extend these services to their tracts. Wherever it is feasible, private or community water systems in which the lot owners have an interest are required.

"Both the United States Public Health service and the various state health departments have been enthusiastic over this phase of Federal Housing administration activity. They feel that for the first time they have a real lever at their disposal to force careless and unscrupulous developers to provide sanitary and decent water and sewage facilities.

"When it is considered that to date between 4,000 and 5,000 subdivisions have been inspected by housing administration officials, with the considerations of suitable water-supply and sewage-disposal facilities strongly in mind, it can clearly be seen to what extent this far-reaching policy has been of benefit to the general public health."

Plumbing Installation Needs Careful, Experienced Direction

The only way for the home owner to be assured of the trouble-free functioning of a plumbing system is to take the precaution of having the work done under the supervision of an experienced master plumber.

There are two parts to the plumbing system; the visible part, namely, the fixtures in the bathroom, kitchen and basement, and the invisible part concealed in the walls and under the floors. The average two-story house has approximately 300 feet of concealed piping.

The finest plumbing fixtures that money can buy cannot give the service the manufacturer intended them to give unless they are correctly installed and unless the supply, waste and vent piping in the walls and under the floors is correctly designed and properly installed.

An improperly designed plumbing system may permit the drinking water supply to be polluted by the waste water, thus exposing the occupants of a house to the menace of typhoid fever or amebic dysentery.

First cost is last cost and the health of the family is protected if plumbing fixtures, valves, pipe, and fittings of good quality are installed under the supervision of an experienced master plumber. This type of work may be done with funds obtained under the modernization credit plan of the Federal Housing administration.

Questions And Answers

Q. We like casement windows and want to build a colonial house, but people tell us these two do not go together. What do you say?

A. Casements were used in the earliest types of so-called colonial houses, but were discarded early in our history in favor of the double-hung type, which was used during the Georgian period of the colonial. If you want casements, why not have an early American house designed? It would be advisable, if you want to be sure that the windows are consistent with the design, to employ a competent architect so there will be no mistake.

Q. Whenever the toilet is flushed in our bathroom the drains in the tub and basin make a great noise. Can you tell me what causes this?

A. It is probable that there is only one trap on all three fixtures. This should be corrected. Each fixture should have its own trap for sanitary reasons.

Q.—Is there any danger of fire from a crack in the hearth of my fireplace?

A.—There may or there may not be, depending upon how deep the crack goes and into what it leads. It is advisable to avoid the consequences of a wrong guess by having the cracks pointed with mortar.

Q.—In winter, when I have to keep the windows closed, the kitchen gets very close, and I can't get rid of the odors. What can I do?

A.—Get a kitchen-ventilating fan and place it in the window. It can be run when needed. If there is an unused flue in the chimney, have it connected to the kitchen near the ceiling and put in a register that can be opened or closed.

Q.—I have bought an old house, and the floors are in bad shape. They are lovely wide board and I don't want to cover them. How can I finish them?

A.—Scrape them first, preferably by hand—but if it is too much of a job, by machine—until all old paint, varnish, and dirt is removed. Then, if you want to darken them a bit, apply a little stain. Then wax, and wax, and wax.

Q. Is it necessary to bolt the frame of the house to the foundation wall?

A. It is advisable, although in some parts of the country where heavy wind storms are not encountered, it is not always customary.

Q. Does it keep a cellar dry to put drain tile around the foundation walls?

A. If there is any sewer or other place into which the tile may be drained, it will help a lot, otherwise it is of little use. Of course, the walls and floor must be reasonably tight.

Q. What do you consider the most suitable roofing for an English type house?

A. The English use thatch, slate, and tile mostly, but as it is difficult to get men who know how to lay thatch and as it is not allowed under fire laws in many places, the choice would be between the other two. If slate is used, it should be fairly thick and preferably in graduated sizes. If tile is used, it should be of the flat, shingle type and not the Spanish tile. It comes in various tones of dark red.

If wooden posts are used in cellars to support girders or cellar stairs, they should rest on masonry pedestals raised at least two inches above the cellar floor to avoid the possibility of rotting.

Collection Of Taxes Simple Matter When Mortgage Is Insured

PORTLAND, Me.—The insured mortgage system of the Federal Housing administration, which provides for the budgeting of taxes, has proved helpful to towns and cities, according to William J. Largay, president of the Maine Association of Tax Assessors.

Tax assessors and other city authorities have had difficulty in collecting taxes in lump sums, Mr. Largay said. Although some communities have offered discounts for cash or advance payments, most communities have had long lists of delinquent taxpayers, he said.

Mr. Largay points out that under the insured mortgage system the home owner deposits one-twelfth of the annual tax with the bank each month, and the institution is able to pay the municipality the amount in full the day it is due.

FOUNDATION MAY VARY IN SECTION

Different Parts Of Country Have Separate Modes Of Building

What type of foundation to build for a home built under the insured mortgage system is a question which should be determined by the local conditions, the availability of materials, and the price that the builder can afford to pay. There are many materials that may be used and are approved by the Federal Housing administration for houses on which it will place mortgage insurance, so the choice of the prospective owner is varied.

Where cellars are to be included, stone, brick, concrete units or cast concrete are the common materials, while in some sections of the country terra-cotta tiles are used. Any of these will serve in places where the soil is reasonably free from water, but where bad water conditions exist a cast foundation is to be preferred.

Except where soil has unusual weight-bearing qualities, footings should be laid under all foundation walls. Where they are laid they should extend beyond each face of the wall for a distance equal to one-half the thickness of the footing; any excess width is of little or no value. For instance, with a footing eight inches deep, a four-inch projection on each of the foundation wall is all that is needed. To put eight inches on each side is just a waste of material.

Where bad soil conditions are encountered, it is sometimes necessary to lay spread footings which are pyramidal in form with either sloping sides or steps. Where soft spots appear only at certain places under a wall, they may have spread footings as described, or reinforcement may be placed in the portion of the footing covering these spots. Do not skimp on the foundation, unless that stands solid the whole superstructure will be affected.

ELECTRIC WATER PLANTS FOR FARMS

An improvement in farm living standards is indicated by the fact that 20 per cent more electric water systems were sold in rural and suburban communities in 1936 than in any other year in the history of the industry, according to Herbert C. Angster, secretary-director of the Electric Water Systems council.

Water systems were eligible for financing under the terms of the modernization credit plan of the Federal Housing administration.

HANDY WINDOW

A casement window over a sink is easy to operate and gives a 100 per cent opening. These advantages make casements ideal for kitchens.

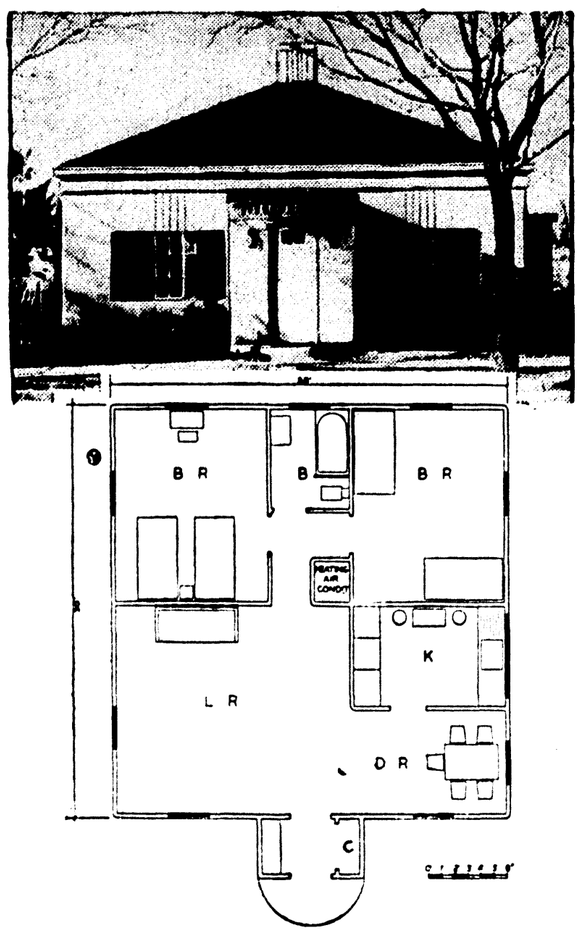
BUILT OF STEEL—TO STAND



This Ohio house is of steel panel construction and was developed by Hobart Brothers. It is one of a series of low-cost, modern dwellings chosen by "The Architectural Record." The living room is spacious, and leads to the dining room, conveniently located next to the kitchen. There are also two bedrooms and bath. Each wall unit consists of two steel sheets welded together, with a four-inch space between for insulation and strength. Angle girders are used in the wall units, spaced one foot apart. The house has concrete floors, with felt carpeting "cemented" on carpet felt direct to the concrete. Altogether a sturdy, durable edifice, with pleasant entrance arrangement.

PLUMBING COSTS ARE WORTH IT

No Phase Of New Home More Important In Building Operations

While the cost of plumbing fixtures should correspond to the general cost range of the house when constructed under the insured mortgage system of the Federal Housing administration, it is one of the places where extras are justifiable if there are to be any at all. A built-in tub is almost a necessity in any house, no matter how low the cost of the house. As a matter of fact, although there is a difference in price between the built-in tub and the old-fashioned type on legs, it is doubtful if the actual cost installed is much, if any greater. With the built-in type, the wall finish back of the tub and the floor finish under it are both omitted, and their cost may well equal or exceed the additional cost of the tub. But even if it costs more, the saving in care and trouble that a built-in tub gives is worth a much greater difference than exists between the costs of the two fixtures.

The toilet may be a wash-down type, which is the least expensive, or it may be a syphon-jet type, which is the most expensive. The difference is almost entirely a matter of quietness of operation. If this means much, the difference in expense will be justified.

As for the lavatory, there is not so much justification for selecting an expensive type, for the inexpensive one will serve as well. The main difference is that of material. The cheaper grades are made of enameled iron, and, while this is perfectly serviceable, it does not wear quite as well as the more expensive porcelain. However, with reasonable care and the use of proper cleaning materials, an enameled fixture is quite satisfactory.

FIREPLACE GROUP

The fireplace should be so located in a living room that the furniture which is grouped around it will not be in the direct line of traffic between doors.

NEW WARDROBE SHOULD BE OF AMPLE PROPORTIONS

When adding a new wardrobe, carefully plan it to accommodate all clothing and accessories without crowding.

Clothes need plenty of air. Long, shallow closets properly ventilated are more efficient and convenient than deep closets. Twenty inches is a minimum depth.

To keep clothing from being crowded, place small wooden spacers on the pole between each hangar.

For articles which must be laid flat use shallow drawers. A deep drawer is not convenient, for the articles must lie on top of one another, crushing and mussing those below.

Shoes set up from the floor on a shelf will not get as dusty as if they were placed on the floor. The closet floor is also much easier to clean.

A long, shallow hatshelf, preferably enclosed, and provided with hatstands, will keep hats properly.

Special compartments for small accessories also are convenient.

LUMBER INDUSTRY AIDS HOME OWNER

Organizes To Show Feasibility Of Low-Cost Houses Under Program

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Aiming to make home ownership available to approximately 70 per cent of the nation's families, organizations identified with the lumber industry have launched a comprehensive program.

The Federal Housing administration is cooperating in every possible way with this program which includes dealer meetings, subdivision conferences, and conferences on design and construction. The construction of one or more low-priced homes in approximately 1,000 communities is anticipated. These homes are designed in accordance with principles outlined in the Federal Housing administration's technical bulletin No. 4 and are to prove that properly designed small houses can be built to sell within a price range that will attract a large majority of potential home owners.

Taking part in the program are the National Lumber Manufacturers association, National Retail Lumber Dealers association, National Concrete Masonry association, National Concrete Contractors association, and the Brick Manufacturers association of America.

WINDOW SHELVES

Shelves built around a bay window make an ideal place for books and plants. This feature can be provided for in a home built under the Insured Mortgage System of the federal housing administration.

NEW YORK GROUPS PLACE MANY IN PRIVATE JOBS

ALBANY, N. Y.—Public employment agencies in the state of New York placed 77,168 applicants in private employment during the first six months of this year. This was an increase of 44.7 per cent over placements during the same period a year ago. A number of these workers were given employment in the building trades and allied industries.

ATTIC SPACE MAY BE USED FOR VENTILATION

If there is an attic space over the second floor that can be used for ventilating purposes, place a register in the ceiling of the hall, preferably over the stair, and build a wooden flue over the opening about three feet high. This will assist the draft and make the ventilation more positive.

Finds Gly-Cas The One Real Medicine

Mr. Cannon Can Now Enjoy Meals Without After Distress; Kidneys Regulated; Like New Again.

"Gly-Cas accomplished the seemingly impossible for me," said Mr. Tom Cannon, 911 South Sixth street, Waco, Tex. "For the last twenty-five years I had been badly constipated and my system was collecting poisons all this time. My kidneys bothered me dreadfully too and could not get a good night's sleep. I had terrible attacks of pain in my back that would often run down into my limbs. My appetite soon failed me for most everything I ate soured and I bloated after eating until I could hardly stand it. I became so nervous that the least noise would upset me. I had been in this miserable condition for so long and medicine after medicine repeatedly failed to help me. Then Gly-Cas was recommended to me and I was persuaded to give it a trial—it was remarkable in its action."

"I have just finished my second box of this new herbal remedy and I am feeling like a new man," he continued. "My kidneys and bowels are now regulated, those dreadful pains in my back have been relieved and even my stomach is now functioning properly. I eat the foods I wish, enjoy my meals and sleep good, and cannot praise Gly-Cas half enough for the remarkable change it has made in my condition."

Gly-Cas is sold by Phoenix Drug Co., 348 DeSiard St., this city, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns. (Adv.)

Pick-Up-Delivery Is Speeded Up By Monticello Line

Ever on the alert to improve its service to shippers, Monticello Truck Line, which maintains headquarters at its terminal warehouse at 504 Olive street, has just inaugurated a full-time pick-up-and-delivery service in Monroe and West Monroe. Heretofore, this has been a part-time service.

Although its pick-up-and-delivery service has heretofore been on a par with the best offered here, the new move is enabling Monticello to give more prompt and more efficient attention to the freight of its Monroe and West Monroe shippers. The operator of the service, being under the direct supervision of and being directly responsible to the local agent for the line, is now being routed to the best advantage of shippers.

There is no longer the slightest delay in picking up and delivering local freight. Shipments are picked up at any time convenient to the shipper. Delivery of local consignments starts almost immediately after the arrival of Monticello freight vans.

On a par with its rapid pick-up-and-delivery service is Monticello's speedy method of handling legitimate claims for loss of or damage to freight. There is no delay occasioned by a lot of red tape. Within seven days at the most, justifiable claims are completely settled.

Hart Has Easter Eggs And Candy

Don't forget next Sunday is Easter. And don't forget that adults, as well as children, like to be remembered on that day. Moreover, don't forget that candy is an Easter gift appreciated by persons of all ages. And that L. J. Hart, whose place of business is located in the entrance of the Ouachita National Bank building, handles one of the completest stocks of Easter candy in this vicinity.

Mr. Hart has Easter eggs and candy galore—from 10 cent packages to $5 boxes. If needs be, you can be economical and at the same time thoughtful. But if you feel like it, you can splurge. You can't go wrong when you buy Easter eggs and candy from Mr. Hart. He stocks only the best. They're the best you can get for the money.

New Firestone Convoy Tire Is Now On Market

To meet the needs of millions of motorists who are demanding a new high quality tire at a low price, the Firestone Tire and Rubber company announces the introduction of the new Firestone line of tires. The full force of Firestone's engineering and manufacturing resources has been marshaled to make this tire worthy of the Firestone name and guaranty.

Offered in a complete range of sizes for passenger cars and trucks, the Firestone convoy tire incorporates all of the famous Firestone safety features. Especially noteworthy is the fact that the patented gum-dipping process is employed in its production. Every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber to minimize internal friction and heat. This adds nine pounds of rubber to each one hundred pounds of cord and provides a commensurate measure of extra protection against blowouts.

On the strength of gum-dipping alone, this new Firestone tire finds solid foundation for its claim of exceptional quality. Further emphasizing the top quality rating of the tire is Firestone's patented construction feature of two extra layers of gum-dipped cords under the tread. This not only strengthens the tire, but also acts as a safeguard against punctures.

The new tread design provides an exceptional safety factor. It is silent in operation and attractive in appearance. It is built to fit the road and provides an exceptional degree of non-skid protection. The heavy, deep-ribbed tread is compounded of tough, wear-resisting rubber, insuring long, dependable mileage.

In justifying the high quality and low price of the Firestone convoy tire, it is pointed out that the control of rubber and cotton at their sources, and highly modernized and efficient manufacturing methods have been the major factors contributing to the delivery of such a high quality tire at such low prices.

A complete stock of the new line of tires is carried by Firestone Auto Supply and Service stores, corner of Washington and North Third streets.

Attic Ventilation For Average Home No Longer Costly

Now you five-room home owners can have your residences cooled with fresh air during the summer. You can easily afford it. Lanham Electric company, 110 Jackson street, is now in a position to install attic ventilating units in average houses at a cost of $150 to $175, depending on the size of the dwelling and the elaborateness of the installation.

One of the units is now on display at the firm's place of business on Jackson street. It moves 9,000 cubic feet of air a minute, enough to give a complete change in every room of a five-room dwelling each 60 seconds.

Guaranteed for two years, the units have a number of interesting features. First of all, the cost of operation is small. Secondly, they require oiling only once a year. Thirdly, they are equipped for safety and convenience.

If a householder takes the precaution to close all the windows when he or she leaves home, he or she can forget about the attic ventilator. After a brief interval, the motor pulling the ventilating fan will shut off automatically. In case of a fire, the heat generated will not only shut off the motor, but will drop a trap door. The trap door eliminates any possibility of a draft through the house. Moreover, the fan can be set to operate any length of time the householder desires. All he or she has to do is set the timing device for the number of hours he or she wishes the fan to run. But in addition to all that, the blades of the fans of the units have been pitched to a degree that eliminates all noise and whistling while the units are in operation.

No dismantling of a house is necessary to the installation of one of the units. All it requires is grills in the ceiling and a louvre in the attic. And most modern homes already have louvres.

Lanham Electric company carries a complete line of attic ventilation units and exhaust fans. It can provide ventilation for homes and commercial buildings of any size.

Things Other Than Cars Are Repaired By Shorty's Shop

Not only does Shorty's Body Shop and Garage, 309 Washington street, recondition automobiles, but metal office furniture and equipment and metal home appliances and furniture as well.

If an automobile is dented or scarred, the shop can repair it; if a filing case or metal desk is dented or scarred, the shop can repair it; if a refrigerator or a piece of porch furniture is dented or scarred, the shop can repair it. Moreover, if any of these articles, and sundry others, are merely in need of repainting, the shop can repaint them.

The shop recently installed a paint mixing machine that produces 946 different colors. This enables the establishment to match or reproduce almost any color.

In all of its lines, the shop does jobs that measure up to factory specifications. Besides its reconditioning and repainting work, it engages in general automotive repair work and operates a day and night wrecker service. The day phone number is 2244, the night, 3625.

Tire plants in Germany are reported now to be in a position to process synthetic rubber for automobile tires on a large scale and at lower costs than previously. But the cost of German synthetic rubber is still high compared with natural rubber.

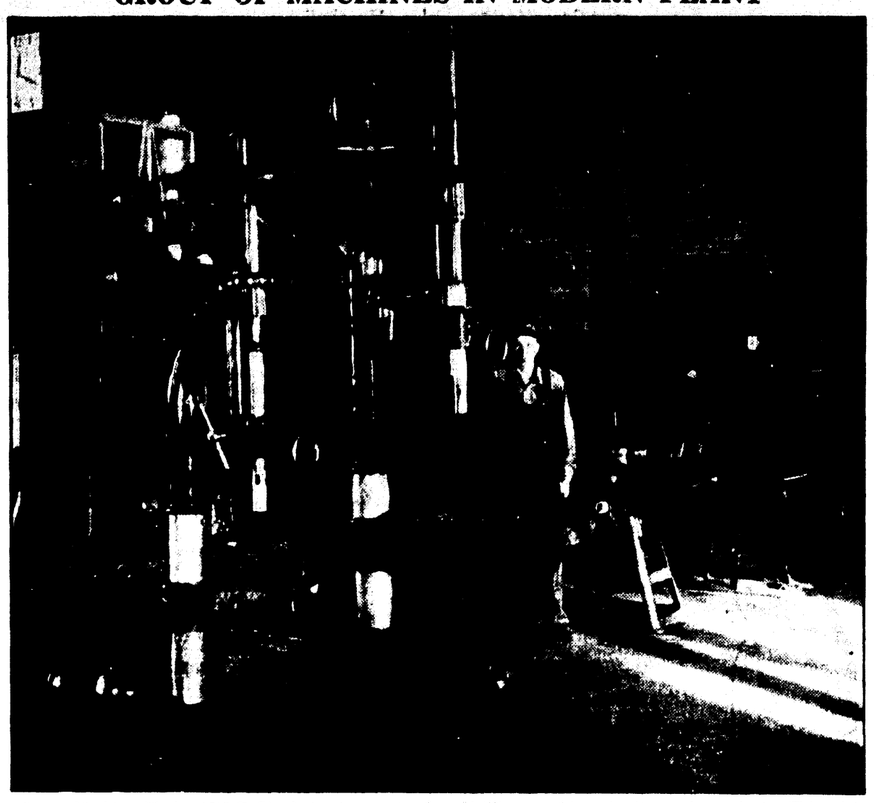
GROUP OF MACHINES IN MODERN PLANT



James Machine Works, 1515 DeSiard street, operates four drilling machines in its modern plant. This picture shows two of the drills, the size of which may be judged by comparison with the operator standing beside one of them. Immediately behind the operator is a bolt threading machine and still farther back is a metal cutting saw. James Machine Works, the telephone number of which is 904, does all kinds of machinery repair work and engages in electric and acetylene welding.

Tube Given With Each Davis Tire

Now is the time to "re-tire" your automobile. Until Saturday, April 16, Western Auto Associate Store, 419 DeSiard street, is offering a free tube with each Davis DeLuxe or Davis DeLuxe Safety-Grip tire it sells. The offer has been in force since March 26, when the establishment started a coupon catalog sale, but it will positively expire April 16.

Besides containing numerous money-saving coupons, the catalogs, which were distributed all over Monroe and West Monroe, are jammed full of timely bargains. With every quart of Wescote screen enamel, for which you pay only 45 cents, you get an applicator free. And with every five gallons of Wescote Supreme house or barn paint, a guaranteed product, you get one gallon of linseed oil and one quart of turpentine free. The barn paint sells for $1.26 a gallon in five-gallon lots; the house paint, for $2.85 a gallon in five-gallon lots. But that's not all. If you buy a can of Wescote Supreme four-hour enamel, or a can of Wescote Supreme porch and floor enamel, you are eligible to buy a 26-inch, sturdy step-stool, valued at $1.50, for 49 cents.

Moreover, almost every variety of lawn and vegetable and flower garden implement is being sold at bottom price. For instance, you can get a "Western Jr." ball-bearing lawn mower for $5.60 and 25 feet of garden hose for $1.39.

Remember, the prices and coupons in the catalog remain in force only until Saturday, April 16. So don't delay. Make your purchases now and save money.

Bernelle Operates Wreckers Any Hour Services Required

In case your automobile is involved in an accident necessitating the services of a wrecker, call Bernelle's Garage, 311 Ouachita avenue. The telephone number is 2044.

The establishment is at all time, no matter what hour of the day or night, ready to send one of its wreckers to your rescue. It operates two and both are equipped to do a minimum of damage to your car in getting it back on the highway and in towing it back to town.

Both wreckers are equipped with power winches having 500 feet of steel cable each. No other wreckers in this vicinity are so equipped.

Besides operating a wrecker service, Bernelle's Garage engages in every kind of automotive repair work, including the rebuilding of tops, bodies and fenders. Moreover, it does welding work.

Lamar Program Has Advantages For Your Child

Starting your child now on a life insurance program does so much more than just furnish him money, according to Edwin W. Crowley, special agent here for the Lamar Life Insurance company of Jackson, Miss.

Here, according to him, are some of the advantages: It encourages thrift and develops resourcefulness; the policy matures early, in time to set the child up in business or a profession, in time to buy him a home; it teaches an appreciation of the value of life insurance protection; it creates an emergency fund on which to fall back in time of financial stress; it develops in the child a sense of responsibility when that trait is most needed; it teaches independence, planning ahead for money needs; it gives the lowest rate.

Lamar Life policies are available for children, either boys or girls, of any age. Consult Mr. Crowley on the best type of protection for your child. Don't put it off! Do it today! His office is on the second floor of the old Central Savings bank building. His residential telephone number is 3756.

Build Now, Urges Perry Lumber Co.

Now is the time to make repairs, to remodel, to build, according to Louis Hayden, manager of Perry Lumber company, 319 North Ninth street, who said that the establishment is 100 per cent behind Governor Richard W. Leche's program of home improvement during April.

Mr. Hayden said the recent increase in freight rates by railroads was certain to be reflected shortly in building materials of every kind. Several items, he declared, had already advanced sharply.

Perry Lumber company, the slogan of which is "The Yard That Quality and Service Built," handles everything required in construction work—lumber, paint, brick, cement, tile pipes and roofing, just to mention a few items. It is in a position to save builders money with its time payment plan.

Mr. Hayden calls special attention of contractors to the fact that Perry Lumber company is not in the contracting business in competition with them, but that it offers them 100 per cent cooperation in figuring their jobs. He invites the public to tune in on KMLB each day at 12:20 p.m. for the Perry Lumber company program.

The telephone number of the firm is 218.

Much Cloth Used To Pad Mayflower Vans For Moving

More than a thousand yards of cloth are used to equip a Mayflower van for complete long distance furniture moving, according to N. E. Dawson, vice-president and general manager of Merchants' Fast Freight Service, Inc., with terminal headquarters at 219 Walnut street, agents here for Mayflower service.

This material is made into padding for every one of the large fleet of modern vans owned and operated by the Aero Mayflower Transit company for long distance moving of furniture and household goods to any place in the United States or into Canada. The padding is used to line the inside of each van and for individual pads to protect and cushion every piece of household goods during the entire length of the trip.

The pad equipment is manufactured in Mayflower's own factory under their specifications, gained through years of experience in long distance furniture moving business and under all types of conditions. The padding includes various types of material—cotton drill, fleece, waterproof canvas and heavy duck into which is sewed a quarter of a ton of jute to provide substantial and protective body. Special pads have been developed for covering table tops, refrigerators, pianos, etc. Also, many feet of strap and belting supplement this pad equipment in each van.

The fleet of modern vans operated by Mayflower covers the country—vans are available to pick up loads of household goods any place and deliver them anywhere in the United States or into Canada. Mayflower vans are always on the go, according to Mr. Dawson, they never return to a central destination empty. After a load is delivered at a destination, the van loads up again for another trip. This economy and elimination of empty mileage loss means a big saving in moving cost, according to Mr. Dawson. It is made possible by the Mayflower system of operation and its widespread agent organization, which is represented here by the Merchants Fast Freight Service. Household goods moved by Mayflower vans are covered by insurance during the entire time of transit at a declared valuation. Also the shipper and the Aero Mayflower Transit company are protected against traffic accidents by ample public liability and property damage insurance.

When a Mayflower van reaches its destination, it is unloaded under the supervision of the driver. The movers also will place and arrange the household goods in the new home as directed. They will put rugs down on the floor, set furniture in place, set up beds, fasten mirrors on dressers, etc. Mayflower men are selected for driving ability and experience in packing, loading and unloading household goods. All of them are trained in the company school for the most efficient, safe and speedy handling of the finest furniture or fragile household articles.

Mayflower vans are built exactly alike in the company factory. The bodies are designed by Mayflower engineers and provide the most efficient packing space as well as dust-proof and weather-proof construction.

Mills Advocates Thorough Service Job Twice A Year

In order to perform smoothly and, at the same time, look its best, an automobile should be thoroughly serviced twice a year, in the fall and in the spring, according to C. C. Mills, proprietor of Mills' Downtown Parking, 201 North Second street.

Now that spring is here, he suggest that you bring your automobile to his combined service station and parking lot and have it:

Kerrick cleaned—This removes all grease from the motor and all dirt and abrasives from the chassis.

Washed—This takes care of the interior as well as the exterior. The interior, of course, is cleaned with a vacuum cleaner and brushes, while soap and water is used on the exterior.

Lubricated for warm weather—Lighter gear lubricants are required in spring and summer. While this is being done, the front wheels should be packed.

Simonized (polished and waxed)—This gives the fullest of protection to the painted surface.

Pick-Up-Delivery Is Speeded Up By Monticello Line

Ever on the alert to improve its service to shippers, Monticello Truck Line, which maintains headquarters at its terminal warehouse at 504 Olive street, has just inaugurated a full-time pick-up-and-delivery service in Monroe and West Monroe. Heretofore, this has been a part-time service.

Although its pick-up-and-delivery service has heretofore been on a par with the best offered here, the new move is enabling Monticello to give more prompt and more efficient attention to the freight of its Monroe and West Monroe shippers. The operator of the service, being under the direct supervision of and being directly responsible to the local agent for the line, is now being routed to the best advantage of shippers.

There is no longer the slightest delay in picking up and delivering local freight. Shipments are picked up at any time convenient to the shipper. Delivery of local consignments starts almost immediately after the arrival of Monticello freight vans.

On a par with its rapid pick-up-and-delivery service is Monticello's speedy method of handling legitimate claims for loss of or damage to freight. There is no delay occasioned by a lot of red tape. Within seven days at the most, justifiable claims are completely settled.

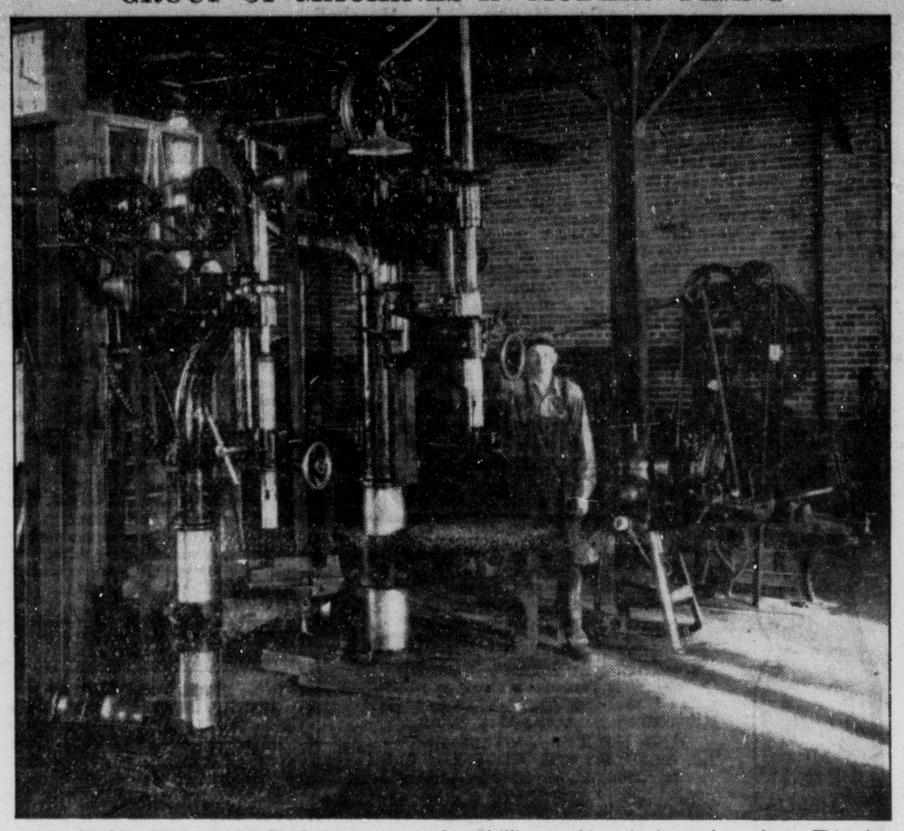
GROUP OF MACHINES IN MODERN PLANT



James Machine Works, 1515 DeSiard street, operates four drilling machines in its modern plant. This picture shows two of the drills, the size of which may be judged by comparison with the operator standing beside one of them. Immediately behind the operator is a bolt threading machine and still farther back is a metal cutting saw. James Machine Works, the telephone number of which is 904, does all kinds of machinery repair work and engages in electric and acetylene welding.

Tube Given With Each Davis Tire

Now is the time to "re-tire" your automobile. Until Saturday, April 16, Western Auto Associate Store, 419 DeSiard street, is offering a free tube with each Davis DeLuxe or Davis DeLuxe Safety-Grip tire it sells. The offer has been in force since March 26, when the establishment started a coupon catalog sale, but it will positively expire April 16.

Besides containing numerous money-saving coupons, the catalogs, which were distributed all over Monroe and West Monroe, are jammed full of timely bargains. With every quart of Wescote screen enamel, for which you pay only 45 cents, you get an applicator free. And with every five gallons of Wescote Supreme house or barn paint, a guaranteed product, you get one gallon of linseed oil and one quart of turpentine free. The barn paint sells for $1.36 a gallon in five-gallon lots; the house paint, for $2.85 a gallon in five-gallon lots. But that's not all. If you buy a can of Wescote Supreme four-hour enamel, or a can of Wescote Supreme porch and floor enamel, you are eligible to buy a 26-inch, sturdy step-stool, valued at $1.50, for 49 cents.

Moreover, almost every variety of lawn and vegetable and flower garden implement is being sold at bottom price. For instance, you can get a "Western Jr." ball-bearing lawn mower for $5.60 and 25 feet of garden hose for $1.39.

Remember, the prices and coupons in the catalog remain in force only until Saturday, April 16. So don't delay. Make your purchases now and save money.

Bernelle Operates Wreckers Any Hour Services Required

In case your automobile is involved in an accident necessitating the services of a wrecker, call Bernelle's Garage, 311 Ouachita avenue. The telephone number is 2044.

The establishment is at all time, no matter what hour of the day or night, ready to send one of its wreckers to your rescue. It operates two and both are equipped to do a minimum of damage to your car in getting it back on the highway and in towing it back to town.

Both wreckers are equipped with power winches having 500 feet of steel cable each. No other wreckers in this vicinity are so equipped.

Besides operating a wrecker service, Bernelle's Garage engages in every kind of automotive repair work, including the rebuilding of tops, bodies and fenders. Moreover, it does welding work.

Lamar Program Has Advantages For Your Child

Starting your child now on a life insurance program does so much more than just furnish him money, according to Edwin W. Crowley, special agent here for the Lamar Life Insurance company of Jackson, Miss.

Here, according to him, are some of the advantages: It encourages thrift and develops resourcefulness; the policy matures early, in time to set the child up in business or a profession, in time to buy him a home; it teaches an appreciation of the value of life insurance protection; it creates an emergency fund on which to fall back in time of financial stress; it develops in the child a sense of responsibility when that trait is most needed; it teaches independence, planning ahead for money needs; it gives the lowest rate.

Lamar Life policies are available for children, either boys or girls, of any age. Consult Mr. Crowley on the best type of protection for your child. Don't put it off! Do it today! His office is on the second floor of the old Central Savings bank building. His residential telephone number is 3736.

Build Now, Urges Perry Lumber Co.

Now is the time to make repairs, to remodel, to build, according to Louis Hayden, manager of Perry Lumber company, 319 North Ninth street, who said that the establishment is 100 per cent behind Governor Richard W. Leche's program of home improvement during April.

Mr. Hayden said the recent increase in freight rates by railroads was certain to be reflected shortly in building materials of every kind. Several items, he declared, had already advanced sharply.

Perry Lumber company, the slogan of which is "The Yard That Quality and Service Built," handles everything required in construction work—lumber, paint, brick, cement, tile pipes and roofing, just to mention a few items. It is in a position to save builders money with its time payment plan.

Mr. Hayden calls special attention of contractors to the fact that Perry Lumber company is not in the contracting business in competition with them, but that it offers them 100 per cent cooperation in figuring their jobs. He invites the public to tune in on KMLB each day at 12:20 p.m. for the Perry Lumber company program.

The telephone number of the firm is 218.

Royal Feed & Seed Stock Is Complete

Whether you are a cotton planter, a truck farmer or merely a home gardener, you'll find everything you need at Royal Feed and Seed store, 812 DeSiard street. Besides field seed of every kind, it handles around 300 varieties of vegetable seed and approximately the same number of varieties of flower seed. It specializes in seed especially adapted to Louisiana conditions. Many of them were developed in the state.

The employes of Royal Feed and Seed store know more than just how to sell seed. They have made a study of seed; they know local weather and soil conditions; they know which varieties of seed are best suited to each condition.

Besides cotton, in the line of field seed, Royal Feed and Seed store handles six varieties of soy beans, 10 varieties of corn, eight varieties of peas and 10 varieties of sorghum.

Moreover, it sells all kinds of tomato plants, onion sets and flower bulbs.

Much Cloth Used To Pad Mayflower Vans For Moving

More than a thousand yards of cloth are used to equip a Mayflower van for complete long distance furniture moving, according to N. E. Dawson, vice-president and general manager of Merchants' Fast Freight Service, Inc., with terminal headquarters at 219 Walnut street, agents here for Mayflower service.

This material is made into padding for every one of the large fleet of modern vans owned and operated by the Aero Mayflower Transit company for long distance moving of furniture and household goods to any place in the United States or into Canada. The padding is used to line the inside of each van and for individual pads to protect and cushion every piece of household goods during the entire length of the trip.

The pad equipment is manufactured in Mayflower's own factory under their specifications, gained through years of experience in long distance furniture moving business and under all types of conditions. The padding includes various types of material—cotton drill, fleece, waterproof canvas and heavy duck into which is sewed a quarter of a ton of jute to provide substantial and protective body. Special pads have been developed for covering table tops, refrigerators, pianos, etc. Also, many feet of strap and belting supplement this pad equipment in each van.

The fleet of modern vans operated by Mayflower covers the country—vans are available to pick up loads of household goods any place and deliver them anywhere in the United States or into Canada. Mayflower vans are always on the go, according to Mr. Dawson, they never return to a central destination empty. After a load is delivered at a destination, the van loads up again for another trip. This economy and elimination of empty mileage loss means a big saving in moving cost, according to Mr. Dawson. It is made possible by the Mayflower system of operation and its widespread agent organization, which is represented here by the Merchants Fast Freight Service. Household goods moved by Mayflower vans are covered by insurance during the entire time of transit at a declared valuation. Also the shipper and the Aero Mayflower Transit company are protected against traffic accidents by ample public liability and property damage insurance.

When a Mayflower van reaches its destination, it is unloaded under the supervision of the driver. The movers also will place and arrange the household goods in the new home as directed. They will put rugs down on the floor, set furniture in place, set up beds, fasten mirrors on dressers, etc. Mayflower men are selected for driving ability and experience in packing, loading and unloading household goods. All of them are trained in the company school for the most efficient, safe and speedy handling of the finest furniture or fragile household articles.

Mayflower vans are built exactly alike in the company factory. The bodies are designed by Mayflower engineers and provide the most efficient packing space as well as dust-proof and weather-proof construction.

Mills Advocates Thorough Service Job Twice A Year

In order to perform smoothly and, at the same time, look its best, an automobile should be thoroughly serviced twice a year, in the fall and in the spring, according to C. C. Mills, proprietor of Mills' Downtown Parking, 201 North Second street.

Now that spring is here, he suggest that you bring your automobile to his combined service station and parking lot and have it:

Kerrick cleaned—This removes all grease from the motor and all dirt and abrasives from the chassis.

Washed—This takes care of the interior as well as the exterior. The interior, of course, is cleaned with a vacuum cleaner and brushes, while soap and water is used on the exterior.

Lubricated for warm weather—Lighter gear lubricants are required in spring and summer. While this is being done, the front wheels should be packed.

Simonized (polished and waxed)—This gives the fullest of protection to the painted surface.

...al Staff Entertains With Monthly Program Of Merit

An evening of unusual pleasure was afforded by the Missouri Pacific Booster club at the clubhouse Friday night when the monthly meeting was in charge of the medical staff of the ... with Dr. A. G. ... chairman.

... the railroad, general ... agent, St. Louis, formerly of Monroe; ... general superintendent with offices in Little Rock, Ark.; E. B. Hall, also a former Monroe superintendent but now of St. Louis, Mo., and J. S. Bennett, local superintendent.

An outstanding feature of the program was a concert by the Ouachita Parish High school band, directed by Walter Minnicar, which was of particular merit and was given hearty applause.

Invocation was by Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

A solo ballet dance by Miss Jerry Juneman was well received and was followed by a talk made by E. C. Gib... superintendent, ... Dr. T. C. Bennett, who was ill. Mr. Gibson spoke on the prevention of ... which showed much study and emphasized new features.

In the absence from the city of Dr. John Snelling, Dr. M. W. Hunter read the paper on "Cancer" which was to have been given by Dr. Snelling.

Dr. Dee A. Strickland, dentist for the Missouri Pacific railroad, discussed some diseases of the mouth.

George D. Holland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe, entertained with a series of stories.

Other entertainment features comprised an acrobatic dance by Charles Albright; two solos by Harold J. Geiger, accompanied at the piano by his wife; tap dance numbers by the Roan sisters and their pupils and magic acts by "Mysterious Howard."

A feature of the occasion was the attendance of a large number of the nurses and student nurses of St. Francis sanitarium, who were attired in uniforms and were accorded posts of honor in the center of the house.

In 1881, a patent was granted for an airship to be powered by eagles. The balloon-shaped craft was to be propelled by four real eagles.

SCIENCE MEETING PLANS ARRANGED

Dr. Madison L. Marshall, Noted Chemist, Will Be In Attendance

Dr. Madison L. Marshall, of the department of chemistry of Texas State college, will be the guest speaker at the physical science section of the Louisiana Academy of Sciences at the annual meeting at Northeast Center May 6, 7. Dr. Marshall is an authority of note on colloid chemistry and his assured presence here will be a distinct feature of the meeting. Dr. Marshall's topic will be "New Methods for Studying Colloids."

It was also previously announced that Dr. Otis W. Caldwell, general secretary of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, will address an open meeting at Northeast Center auditorium Friday, May 6, at 8 p.m. Inasmuch as this will be an ... public will be welcomed.

Dr. Caldwell is at present engaged in research at Atlanta university. He was for a number of years director of the Lincoln experimental school of Columbia university and also dean of University college of the University of Chicago. He is author of several well known scientific texts, among his publications being "Laboratory and Field Manual of Botany," "Elements of Science," and "Laboratory Manual of General Science." He is co-editor of the recent text: "Science Remaking the World," which has been receiving much comment.

Various committees have been working actively to make the forthcoming meeting a complete success, it was stated at Northeast Center, which will be host to the delegations that will attend.

2 BIG CONVENTIONS COMING HERE IN '39

Two conventions were secured for Monroe the past week which will meet in 1939. The Louisiana State Federation of Labor, at its 1938 convention held in Bogalusa, voted to hold the next state meeting here.

The Phi Theta Kappa, honor scholastic fraternity, which met at St. Joseph, Mo., the past week, also voted to come here in April, 1939.

The fraternity convention was secured for Monroe largely through the efforts of Dean C. C. Colvert, of the Northeast Center of Louisiana State university.

There was a large representation from Northeast Center at the St. Joseph meeting the past week.

RUSTON TO CAST BALLOT TUESDAY

To Decide Whether To 'Get Right With Wright' Or 'Keep Goin' With Goyne'

RUSTON, La., April 9.—(Special)—Whether to "Get Right with Wright" or "Keep Goin' with Goyne" are questions to be decided here Tuesday by Ruston voters who will choose between T. Ashley Wright and Charles C. Goyne for mayor. Each candidate heads a complete ticket, including a councilman-at-large and a councilman from each of the four city wards.

The voting strength of the city is listed at 1,685 voters, which represents an increase of about 300 above that of the last city election, owing to a recent extension of the city limits.

Mayor Goyne, seeking re-election, has held the office for the past 10 years, having been elected once for a two-year term and twice for a four-year term. His opponent, Mr. Wright, is the Lincoln parish representative in the legislature and superintendent of buildings and grounds at Louisiana Tech.

C. A. Norris, local laundry man and incumbent councilman-at-large, is being opposed by C. Raymond Heard, manager of a wholesale firm. Council candidates from the various wards are as follows:

Ward one—L. B. Bread, garage man, incumbent, opposing Edwin W. Hodge, affiliated with a local bank.

Ward two—J. S. Harris, oil company representative, incumbent, opposing W. J. Horton, railroad man.

Ward three—J. E. Ormond, oil man, incumbent, opposing George L. Nicol, insurance agent.

Ward four—W. A. Marbury, Sr., garage man, incumbent, opposing L. M. Hinton, insurance man.

TRACY

AFTER THE SOUTH SEA ISLAND GIRL CONSENTS TO TALK, TRACY LEARNS THAT HER NAME IS NOANA, THAT SHE WAS SHANGHAIED, TAKEN ABOARD BRONZEN'S SHIP, AND TOLD SHE WAS TO BECOME A DANCER IN A FAMOUS AMERICAN RESTAURANT.

ALL I KNOW IS I WAS TO BE TURNED OVER TO A MAN BY THE NAME OF RAMM.

YES - WE'VE LOCATED RAMM! AN UNDERWORLD STOOL PIGEON INFORMED ME THAT HE RUNS A BIG ORIENTAL RESTAURANT. THAT'S WHERE I'M TAKING YOU NOW.

TAXI

BUT I WANT TO GO BACK TO MY ISLAND HOME!

IF YOU HELP US, YOU'LL GO BACK TO YOUR ISLAND HOME SAFE AND SOUND! - AND THE HEAD OF THIS SMUGGLING RING THAT STOLE YOU WILL GO TO JAIL.

HERE WE ARE! GO INSIDE, CALL FOR RAMM AND PRETEND EVERYTHING IS JUST AS THEY PLANNED IT.

I'LL DO MY BEST.

NOW TO GET UPSTAIRS INTO THE BUILDING NEXT DOOR, WHERE PAT HAS RENTED A ROOM, AND WATCH THIS PLACE.

GOLDFISH ONLY 25¢ FOR A PAIR - ...GOLDFISH.

ORIENTAL

25

A VERY INTERESTING VARIETY, SIR, - AND ONLY 25 CENTS.

OUT OF MY WAY, CHINA BOY!

HEY YOU! I DON'T WANT YOUR CONFOUNDED FISH! THE @#☆!!- HE MUST BE NUTS.

WELL, I'VE GOT GOLDFISH WHETHER I LIKE IT OR NOT!

COME IN, DICK. - GEE, THIS ROOM IS PERFECT! YOU GET A SWELL VIEW OF THE RESTAURANT - SAY, WHAT HAVE YOU GOT?

AW! A CRAZY GUY HANDED ME A BOWL OF GOLDFISH!

YOU'RE RIGHT, PAT! WE CAN SEE INTO THE BACK ROOMS OF THE PLACE PRETTY WELL!

SAY - ONE OF THESE FISH IS SICK - HE CAN'T SWIM. HEY! COME HERE, DICK!

SEEMS TO BE LOADED DOWN -- HE CAN'T RISE FROM THE BOTTOM.

HM! THERE DOES SEEM TO BE SOMETHING STICKING OUT OF HIS MOUTH!

LOOK! A TIGHTLY ROLLED PIECE OF PAPER.

I SEE YOU'RE MR. PHILBROOK, TH' MANAGER- MULLINS IS MY NAME AND I WAS WONDERIN' HOW ABOUT YOU GIVIN' MY KID BROTHER A JOB AS A USHER IN YER HALL.

SORRY, BUT WE USE ONLY LADY USHERS.

RUNNING A BOARDING HOUSE - THAT IS NO LIFE FOR A VIVACIOUS GIRL LIKE ME! MUSIC, LIGHTS, LAUGHTER, THE THEATER - THAT'S THE CAREER I'VE ALWAYS CRAVED.

WHY DONTCHA GO OVER AND SEE MY FRIEND PHILBROOK AT TH' MUSIC HALL? HE'LL GIVE YOU A JOB.

A BIG OPRY STAR'S GIVIN' A CONCERT OVER THERE TO NIGHT AND PHILBROOK SAID THEY WAS LOOKIN' FOR HELP. JEST TELL HIM I SENT YOU, EMMY.

MY STARS! WHAT WOULD LORD PLUSHBOTTOM SAY?

OH THE HECK WITH WHAT HE'D SAY! I MAY BE A BIT OUT OF PRACTICE BUT I STILL PRIDE MYSELF THAT I CAN CARRY A NICE ALTO.

WHOA! YOU CAN'T GO IN THERE, LADY. SIGNOR BELLERIO IS REHEARSIN' FOR HIS CONCERT.

OUT OF MY WAY, MY MAN. I WAS ASKED TO COME HERE.

SE'?

HOW DO YOU DO. I AM THE LADY MR. MULLINS SENT.

YES, I SING.

OOOO SOLE-E MIOOOOO

OOH SOLE MIOOOOO

*?★★!!!

APR 10.

CALL THE BOARD OF HEALTH. THE POOR WOMAN IS OFF HER NUT.

GET YOUR DIRTY HANDS OFFA ME!

OW! LOOK OUT, SHE'S GOT A KICK LIKE A MULE.

BAH! YOU AND YOUR BIG PULL! WHERE DID IT GET ME? IN THE PSYCHOPATHIC OBSERVATION WARD THAT'S WHERE!

OH WELL, I GUESS YOU FOUND OUT THEY WAS WORSE PLACES THAN RUNNIN' A BOARDIN' HOUSE ANYWAY, EMMY.

WASH, EASY AND RUBY RIDE LIKE THE WIND..

DOST CALL THIS SPEED? FASTER, THOU LAGGARDS! RECAPTURE THE SLAVES DEAD OR ALIVE!

NIGHT:

WE'VE LOST 'EM. OBOY, EASY, WOTTA RESCUE!

YOU'RE A DARLING, EASY! WE'RE SAVED! WE'RE FREE!

LIKE BLAZES! WE'VE GOT TO GET OUT O' THE COUNTRY.

BUT HOW?

RETURN TO KHARGIZ, THE PORT WHERE WE LANDED. MAYBE WE CAN STOW AWAY ON A FREIGHTER.

AND GO TO NEW YORK? OH, HOW WONDERFUL! THEN I CAN TELL HOW BASCOMBE HELLER MURDERED GILDA VENTON. I'LL HAVE HIM JAILED. I'LL LIVE LIKE A HUMAN BEING AGAIN!

LEMME GO! OW! HELP!

MEANWHILE, MUFFLED SCREAMS COME FROM A YACHT JUST ARRIVING IN KHARGIZ..

ANOTHER NIGHTMARE! EVERY NIGHT I HAVE THE SAME HORRIBLE DREAM.... DISGRACE.... PRISON .... THE ELECTRIC CHAIR!

THAT CONFOUNDED CHAIR'S SO REALISTIC I CAN SMELL MY OWN FLESH BURNING! IT'S DRIVING ME CRAZY! JUKES! JUKES!

YES, MR. HELLER. WE'VE ANCHORED, SIR.

THANK HEAVENS! LISTEN, JUKES, HAS ANY ONE EVER GOTTEN THE BEST OF ME?

WHY, NO, MR. HELLER! OF COURSE THEY AIN'T! THAT BANKER, F'RINSTANCE, WHO TRIED TO HAVE YOU EXPELLED FROM THE CLUB.

HA! I FIXED HIM! I ENGINEERED A RUN ON HIS BANK.

AND THERE WAS YOUR SECOND WIFE WHO WOULDN'T GRANT YOU A DIVORCE. AH, THAT WAS YOUR MASTERPIECE!

SHE'S STILL IN A PADDED CELL.

EXACTLY! AND I'M NOT THE KIND TO LET A MERE GIRL LIKE RUBY DALLAS HOLD A SWORD OVER MY HEAD. YOU UNDERSTAND?

WHY, SURE, MR. HELLER. SURE.

SHE'S HELD IN SLAVERY, NEARBY. BUT THERE'S ALWAYS THE POSSIBILITY, JUKES. SHE MIGHT ESCAPE.... SHE MIGHT RETURN TO NEW YORK, AND TALK. WE'VE GOT TO MAKE ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN THAT RUBY DALLAS WILL NEVER OPEN HER MOUTH!
